Nomura Reports Third Quarter Financial Results

Tokyo, February 2, 2010 Nomura Holdings, Inc. today announced its consolidated financial results for the third quarter of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2010.

Nomura reported its third straight quarter of profit, booking increased revenues and income in both its retail and wholesale operations. Net revenue for the third quarter was 274.5 billion yen (US$2.95 billion)<sup>1</sup>, pretax income was 18 billion yen (US$193 million), and net income attributable to Nomura Holdings was 10.2 billion yen (US$110 million).

For the fiscal year to date, net revenue was 872.9 billion yen (US$9.38 billion), pretax income was 76.7 billion yen (US$824 million), and net income attributable to Nomura Holdings was 49.4 billion yen (US$531 million).

Pursuant to its dividend policy, Nomura confirmed today that dividends for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2010, will be paid semi-annually (on record dates September 30 and March 31) and that Nomura will forgo dividend distribution for the period ending December 31, 2009.

We were profitable for the third straight quarter, booking increased revenues and net income in both the retail and wholesale businesses, said Nomura president and CEO Kenichi Watanabe.

Our Retail division focused on providing customers with consulting services and capitalized on a rise in public offerings, while also achieving growth in purchases of investment trusts. Although revenues in Global Markets were sluggish due to reduced investor activity, Investment Banking returned to profit for the first time in six quarters on the back of the rise in public offerings. Overall, our wholesale platform continued to build momentum during the third quarter. Asset Management also continued to deliver steady returns.

During the third quarter, Nomura raised 435 billion yen in common equity and 1 billion euros from a senior unsecured note issuance, giving it a capital ratio under Basel II of 25 percent at the end of December and a Tier 1 capital ratio of 17.8 percent, both of which are preliminary figures.

<sup>1</sup> US dollar amounts are included solely for the convenience of the reader and have been translated at the rate of 93.08 yen = 1 US dollar, the noon buying rate in New York for cable transfers in foreign currencies as certified for customs purposes by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on December 31, 2009. This translation should not be construed to imply that the yen amounts actually represent, or have been or could be converted into, equivalent amounts in US dollars.

Commenting on Nomura's robust financial position, Watanabe said: We raised additional capital during the quarter, further strengthening our capital base, and continued building out our US operations. We remain focused on returning to profit on a full year basis by providing higher quality services to our clients and further enhancing our growing global platform.

As of December 31, 2009, Nomura had total assets of 29.8 trillion yen, shareholders' equity of 2.11 trillion yen, gross leverage of 14.1 times, and adjusted leverage of 8.7 times.

Retail

Net revenue in Retail was 104.3 billion yen and pretax income was 35.2 billion yen. Retail continued to focus on providing consulting services and recorded total purchases of 3.5 trillion yen for the quarter. Subscriptions for Japanese equities increased markedly during the third quarter. Nomura also maintained its dominant position in the investment trust market and saw an increase in Retail client assets of 2.1 trillion yen from the prior quarter to 71 trillion yen.

Global Markets

Global Markets booked net revenue of 163.9 billion yen in the third quarter and 33.1 billion yen in pretax income. In Global Equities, Nomura ranked number one on the Tokyo and London stock exchanges and saw a sharp increase in trading volume in India and Malaysia, new markets where Nomura has received stock broking licenses. In January, the Australian Securities Exchange admitted Nomura as a market participant.

In Global Fixed Income, Nomura has built up its US fixed income operations around four main products (rates, securitized products, credit, and forex) and is currently experiencing substantial growth in trading volumes.

Investment Banking

Investment Banking booked net revenue of 44.5 billion yen and pretax income of 16.3 billion yen, returning to profit for the first time in six quarters. Nomura advised on many of the high-profile equity finance deals in Japan during the quarter, and topped the Japan-related ECM, DCM, and M&A league tables<sup>2</sup>.

In addition to its dominant position in Japan, Nomura acted as joint bookrunner on the IPO of Maxis, Malaysia's leading mobile communications service provider, and sole bookrunner for a convertible bond issue by Tata Power, the largest domestic private utility player in India.

Overall wholesale net revenue, the total of Global Markets and Investment Banking, was 208.3 billion yen, while wholesale pretax income increased 34 percent from the prior quarter to 49.4 billion yen.

Merchant Banking

Merchant Banking continued to raise the value of its investee companies during the quarter and booked net revenue of 1.8 billion yen and a pretax loss of 900 million yen.

Asset Management

Net revenue in Asset Management was 17.2 billion yen and pretax income was 4.1 billion yen. Nomura Asset Management, which celebrated its 50th anniversary on December 1, maintained its industry-leading position in the Japanese market for publicly offered investment trusts with a market share of 20.8 percent. Internationally, Asset Management saw a significant increase in overseas investment advisory assets under management from areas including Asia, Islamic markets, and Europe.
