All Three Proxy Advisory Firms Recommend that Stockholders Vote "FOR" All Three Farmer Bros. Director Nominees "It seems difficult to dispute the fact that the current board and CEO have been the main driver behind the turnaround of Farmer Bros...having delivered an impressive improvement of the company fundamentals and strong appreciation of the company's stock, from $11.83 in 2012 to $34.10 in 2016." – Institutional Shareholder Services In Support of ALL Three Farmer Bros. Director Nominees Against the Waite Group's Nominees "We find that the Company has outperformed peers and the broad market since Mr. Keown was appointed CEO in 2012...the Management Nominees are well qualified for continued service on the board and significantly more qualified than the Dissident Nominees." – Glass Lewis "The dissident has also failed to demonstrate that it is adequately prepared to address any downside risks associated with this contest...The lack of relevant experience of certain members of the dissident slate also raises serious concerns as to whether the dissident group's interests are truly aligned with those of unaffiliated shareholders." – Institutional Shareholder Services "We are not convinced that the Waite Group's nominees would work to the benefit of the shareholders given their level of industry expertise, public company experience and diversity. We believe that electing the dissident shareholders' nominees could compromise their independence due to affiliations to the Waite Group" –Egan-Jones

Commenting on the Consensus from ISS, Glass Lewis and Egan-Jones, Farmer Bros. Stated: The support from ISS, Glass Lewis and Egan-Jones for ALL THREE of Farmer Bros.' highly qualified and experienced director nominees reaffirms, strongly and clearly, what we have said all along: the current Board is focused on the interests of ALL stockholders and has the right mix of industry expertise, C-level executive leadership experience, operational and financial skills, and company knowledge. All three proxy advisory firms recognize that under the leadership and direction of Mr. Keown and the current Board, Farmer Bros. continues to successfully execute a turnaround plan that is creating substantial value for ALL stockholders. All three proxy firms also support our view that the Waite Group's nominees, who lack the qualifications and experience necessary to deliver positive financial results and superior stockholder value, would add no value to the Board. Electing the Waite Group nominees puts your investment at risk by placing control of the Board in the Waite Group's hands, which would put the Company's leadership at risk and derail the proven turnaround plan. We strongly urge stockholders to follow the recommendations of ISS, Glass Lewis and Egan-Jones and protect their investment by voting "FOR" Farmer Bros.' director nominees – Michael H. Keown, Charles F. Marcy and Christopher P. Mottern – on the GOLD proxy card. - Farmer Bros. The Research and Investment Community Supports the Farmer Bros. Sales and Cost Initiatives “Changes to DSD model. FARM announced new internal initiatives to drive top line growth in its DSD business. We are pleased to see the company officially putting greater emphasis on DSD that has really suffered from lack of modernization in its processes over the years and accounts for a large portion of its business. We expect changes to primarily focus on technology and the sales process including potential separation of sales and delivery roles and customer engagement.” – B. Riley & Co. (02/08/2016) “Numerous changes are underway in the DSD business. To say this business was being run inefficiently would be an understatement. Following the installation of the new ERP system last year, FARM for the first time is able to determine the profitability of each sales route as well as of individual customers. This is resulting in greater route optimization and assessment of accounts.” – Roth Capital Partners (08/01/2016) “The FARM of the last few years has become a very different company than the paternalistic, myopic business that was run by later members of the Farmer family and their handpicked successors... We now have a management team committed to running a profitable company that actually communicates to its shareholders and responds to the challenges of competing in a mature industry.” – Grand Slam Asset Management (Seeking Alpha, 09/05/2016) “Coffee volume growth is accelerating and gross profit margins are improving meaningfully. Recent new account wins should contribute to ongoing strong volume gains. The transition to a single production facility will continue over the next two years and should result in significantly higher profit margins.” – Roth Capital Partners (09/13/2016)

Process Overview The Board and management undertook a deliberative and methodical process to evaluate the Company's potential corporate relocation The formal evaluation and deliberative process began in earnest in August
2013 and lasted over 18 months prior to announcement The implementation of the corporate relocation is ongoing
Relocation of Torrance coffee production operations to Houston and Portland facilities completed in May 2015
Opened interim headquarters in Ft. Worth in July 2015 Closed sale of Torrance facility for $43 million in July 2016
Estimated completion and full relocation to Ft. Worth facility in Q3 FY2017 As part of the Company's Corporate Relocation Plan, it evaluated and implemented various operational improvements leading to manufacturing, distribution, and supply-chain savings such as: Sale of spice assets to Harris Replaced long-haul fleet operations with third-party logistics ("3PL") Vendor-managed inventory FY2015: Expand product portfolio in high growth categories

Corporate Relocation Will Drive Operational and Financial Improvements The Corporate Relocation Plan and related initiatives are expected to produce annualized cost savings of approximately $18 to $20 million Texas is central to the Company's nation-wide customer base Expected to introduce new efficiencies, automation and quality-control processes Expected to allow the Company to streamline functions and processes that will help control supply-chain costs The Torrance facility was dated and inefficient Farmer Bros. continues to execute on the Corporate Relocation Plan initiated in the third quarter of FY2015 Construction of and relocation to the new facility are expected to be completed in the third quarter of FY2017 Background Numerous Fortune 500 Companies are Relocating to Texas "For recruiting purposes, there's high caliber talent here, and we know that from some of the other companies that are located here... There's a good diverse base to choose from, which is very important to us ... to attract and hire top talent for the business." - Toyota spokesperson referencing its move from Torrance to Plano "Even if California were to eliminate the state income taxes tomorrow, that still would not be enough to put my manufacturing operations back in California." - Ehsan Gharatappeh, CEO of CellPoint Corp. of Costa Mesa, when launching a Fort Worth facility "Hundreds of companies and their workers have left California over the last seven years, trading in their surfboards for cowboy boots in many cases. By far, Texas gained the most from California's corporate exodus..." - The Dallas Morning News (12/09/2015)

Farmer Bros. has a Thoughtful Capital Allocation Policy to Drive Stockholder Value Capital Allocation Policy Overview Prior to current management, previous capital allocation programs were not implemented thoughtfully Farmer Bros. was losing on average over $20mm per year from 2008 to 2010 and still paying a dividend Less than 5% of S&P 600 companies with negative free cash flow paid dividends<sup>1</sup> M&A spending was not effective with integration and was not well planned or executed Under the current Board and management, Farmer Bros.' capital allocation policy has been organized to maximize efficiencies and drive stockholder value Dividend suspended while financial results improved Maintenance capex reduced to more normalized levels of approximately $20 million per year Invested in operational initiatives such as replacing long-haul fleet with 3PL, expanding product portfolio, and branch consolidations/property sales Ongoing evaluation of capital allocation policy and effectiveness Source: Company filings, FactSet as of 09/28/2016 <sup>1</sup> Represents dividends paid out over the last 12 months Capital Allocation (in millions)

The Research and Investment Community Supports the Farmer Bros. Corporate Relocation “The move to a location central to the nationwide customer base will propel more-efficient manufacturing capacity to support growth, which management expects to result in $18-$20 million of annual savings. By our model, this will result in a return on investment of 21%-26%. In addition to attractive tax incentives, the new facility is only about 300 miles to the Port of Houston, where most of the coffee Farmer roasts enters the U.S. We also see additional supply chain consolidation opportunities.” – Sidoti (8/16/2016) “We note that operating costs of the Torrance roasting plant were high and it was operating at not more than 25% of capacity. The new plant under construction in Dallas should reduce costs and enhance FARM's ability to obtain new business.” – Roth Capital Partners (08/30/2016) “It is not Mr. Keown's fault that FARM was operating a unionized workforce in an old plant in a state (California) that is known to be expensive and not business-friendly. As a shareholder, I applaud his and the Board's choice of Texas for its low tax rates, highly educated workforce and central location.” – Grand Slam Asset Management (Seeking Alpha, 09/05/2016) “Margins have expanded in five straight quarters due to efficiencies gains as the company moved out of its Torrance, CA facility... We believe this will allow Farmer Bros. to compete for large, lucrative national accounts. In fact, the company has won several new customers recently. Overall, we continue to believe that the company is in the early innings of a significant growth opportunity that should payoff for long-term investors.” – Lake Street Capital Markets (09/13/2016) 1
Operating capacity of Torrance facility was approximately 35% prior to closing

Strategy “Mr. Keown and his team have, over the last four years, begun to tackle the problems created by the Farmer family’s poor operation of the business in the years preceding his hiring.” – Grand Slam Asset Management (Seeking Alpha, 09/05/2016) “...A business that, by my account, lost $139 million from June 2005 to June 2012 while under the control of the Farmer family and their hand-picked successors. In my mind, that is not a ‘way’ that I would like to follow.” – Grand Slam Asset Management (Seeking Alpha, 09/05/2016) “New management is working through a turnaround to make the company’s operations and distribution more efficient, which is driving higher margins. The company turned profitable for the first time in FY2014 after nine years of losses, and we believe it is entering into a new growth phase characterized by a clear growth strategy to drive sales and a disciplined plan to boost margins.” – Lake Street Capital Marketing (09/13/2016) “We expect that the company's productivity initiatives and anticipated volume increases as well as consolidation of production into a new facility will generate significant profit margin improvement and earnings growth over the next few years.” – Roth Capital Partners (09/13/2016)

Dissident Group Offers NO Plan & Adds NO Value

The Waite Group Materially Overstates its Voting Power and Support Among the Extended Farmer Family The Waite Group's voting power of 24.9% includes trusts under which the Waite Group does not control The Waite Group purports to include 21 trusts with cumulative voting power of ~14.7% ("Co-Trustee Shares") Dr. Richard Farmer serves as co-trustee with Ms. Waite on Trusts holding ~12.9% cumulative voting power Jeanne Farmer Grossman serves as co-trustee with Ms. Waite on Trusts holding ~1.8% cumulative voting power Neither Ms. Grossman nor Dr. Farmer has expressed an intention to join Ms. Waite or the Waite Group Dr. Farmer amended his own Schedule 13D and reiterated his support of the Company and disagreement with Ms. Waite The Waite Group includes numerous Trusts with Co-Trustees Ms. Waite and the Waite Group do not have the authority to direct the voting of the Co-Trustee Shares Under relevant law, and the terms of the trusts, where the co-trustees do not agree on how to vote the Co-Trustee Shares, those shares either cannot be voted, or if they are allowed to vote, must be voted on a proportionally split basis Dr. Farmer has provided notice to the Farmer Bros. corporate secretary that the Co-Trustee Shares over which he is co-trustee should be voted only with the unanimous consent of the co-trustees Dr. Farmer's notice also stipulated that if for any reason it is determined that any of the applicable shares are to be voted without the unanimous consent of the co-trustees, then at least 50% of the applicable shares should be voted only as directed by him Voting of Co-Trustee Shares is not decided by the Waite Group Without full consent from co-trustees, which has not been given, the Waite Group's voting block falls by more than half

Dr. Richard Farmer Publicly Announced his Support for the Farmer Bros.' Board of Directors and Management Team
“As a longtime Farmer Bros. Co. stockholder personally owning approximately 0.6 million shares, a co-trustee of numerous Farmer family trusts that collectively own over 2.1 million shares, and a member of the Farmer family, I support the Company’s Board of Directors and management team. I believe the management team is executing the right strategy to position Farmer Bros. Co. to better compete and grow the business long-term and to honor the principles established by my grandfather when he founded the Company and upheld by my father when he ran the Company. Further, I recognize and appreciate the significant improvements across the Company’s operations that have already been made, which have resulted in substantial increases in the Company’s stock price. In fact, since Mike Keown joined Farmer Bros. Co., the Company’s stock price has approximately tripled in value, creating about $400 million in value for stockholders. I have found the Board and management team to be open to engaging in a dialogue with stockholders and am confident in their commitment to acting in the best interest of Farmer Bros. Co. and all of the Company’s stockholders. I look forward to supporting the Company’s Board nominees at the upcoming 2016 Annual Meeting of Stockholders.” - Dr. Richard Farmer (10/04/2016)

The Waite Group Has Made False Assertions Regarding the Amendment of the ESOP The Waite Group has falsely asserted that the Company manipulated ESOP voting The ESOP shares have not been voted and ESOP participants have the right to vote in the same manner they always have As required by law, each participant has the right to direct the Trustee how to vote his or her shares with respect to all ballot items The Trustee is then bound to vote such shares as directed<sup>1</sup> The change to the ESOP voting policy protects the legal rights of participants voting their allocated shares on a one-vote-per-share basis like all other stockholders Under the previous method, a minority of ESOP participants influenced the votes of a disproportionately large number of shares The Trustee now has the ability to exercise its independent fiduciary discretion over the voting of shares that have not be allocated to participant accounts, or have been allocated but for which no voting instructions were timely received by the Trustee The voting changes are intended to ensure that voting of unallocated and uninstructed shares is determined by a sophisticated, diligent and independent trustee that has a fiduciary duty to vote in the best interests of all ESOP participants The Trustee of the ESOP, acts for the exclusive benefit of the ESOP participants and is fully independent of Farmer Bros. Co. and its Board and management <sup>1</sup> Subject only to the Trustee's overriding fiduciary duty under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA")

The Waite Group Falsely Claims that the Company's CEO "Packed" the Board with "Personal Appointees" Farmer Bros.' Board has a Robust, Thorough, and Independent Nomination and Review Process Randy Clark Charles Marcy and Christopher Mottern All three directors were selected via a rigorous and lengthy process driven by the full Board, strongly supported and backed by an independent search consultant, and satisfied the criteria identified by the Board In 2011, prior to Michael Keown joining the Company, a recruiter with Leadership Capital Partners, LLC, a leading independent search consultant, introduced Mr. Clark to Ms. Grossman In 2012, Ms. Grossman recommended Mr. Clark to the then-Chairman of the Board, who subsequently brought Mr. Clark to the attention of the Nominating Committee of the Board Following the recommendation of the Nominating Committee, the Board concluded that Mr. Clark was highly qualified based on his: Extensive background and experience in the food service business Accounting and financial expertise In 2013, Messrs. Marcy and Mottern were also brought to the attention of the Nominating Committee and the Board by Leadership Capital Partners, LLC, a third-party search firm Each was selected from a pool of numerous candidates and was interviewed on multiple occasions by the Board over a three+ month process The Board concluded that Mr. Marcy was a qualified candidate due to his: Senior management and leadership experience in the food industry Corporate governance and public company board and executive compensation experience The Board concluded that Mr. Mottern was a qualified candidate due to his: Senior management and leadership experience in the coffee industry Requisite financial and accounting experience which would allow him to serve on the Company's audit committee, including as an audit committee financial expert under applicable rules of the SEC

Should the Waite Group's nominees be elected and Ms. Assadi and Mr. Clark resign, the Waite Group, together with current Farmer-family appointees and family members, will hold all seats on the reconstituted Board.
