Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On August 31, 2009, Wintrust Financial Corporation ( Wintrust or the Company ) entered into a Ninth Amendment (the Amendment ) to the Credit Agreement dated as of November 1, 2005 (as amended, the Credit Agreement ), between the Company and Bank of America, N.A. (as successor by merger to LaSalle Bank National Association, Bank of America ). The purpose of the Amendment is to provide Wintrust access to a revolving line of credit during the ongoing negotiations regarding the longer-term renewal of the Credit Agreement and potential participation of other creditors in the revolving loans thereunder. Accordingly, the Amendment extends the due date of the revolving note granted under the Credit Agreement from August 31, 2009 to September 30, 2009 and reduces the available amount of the revolving note from $100.0 million to $25.0 million. During the eight months prior to the Amendment, Wintrust had no outstanding balance under the revolving note.

The Amendment also provides for a commitment fee equal to 0.5% of the unused daily revolving amount under the revolving note and alters the calculation of interest payable thereunder. Prior to the Amendment, interest was calculated, at Wintrust s option, at a floating rate equal to either: (1) LIBOR plus 200 basis points or (2) the greater of Bank of America s prime rate or the federal funds rate plus 50 basis points. Following the Amendment, interest is calculated at a floating rate equal to the greater of: (1) 450 basis points or (2) at Wintrust s option, either (a) LIBOR plus 350 basis points (the LIBOR Rate ) or (b) the Prime Rate plus 50 basis points. Pursuant to the Amendment, Prime Rate means the highest of (a) the Bank of America s prime rate, (b) the federal funds rate plus 50 basis points and (c) the LIBOR Rate that would be applicable for an interest period of one month plus 1.0%.

The above summary of the Amendment does not purport to be a complete description of the Amendment and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Amendment attached hereto as Exhibit 10.1.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Current Report on Form 8-K contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of federal securities laws. Forward-looking information in this document can be identified through the use of words such as may, will, intend, plan, project, expect, anticipate, should, would, believe, estimate, contemplate, possible, forward-looking information is premised on many factors, some of which are outlined below. The Company intends such forward-looking statements to be covered by the safe harbor provisions for forward-looking statements contained in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, and is including this statement for purposes of invoking these safe harbor provisions. Such forward-looking statements may be deemed to include, among other things, statements relating to the Company's projected growth, anticipated improvements in earnings, earnings per share and other financial performance measures, and management's long-term performance goals, as well as statements relating to the anticipated effects on financial results of condition from expected developments or events, the Company's business and growth strategies, including anticipated internal growth, plans to form additional de novo banks and to open new branch offices, and to pursue additional potential development or acquisitions of banks, wealth management entities or specialty finance businesses. Actual results could differ materially from those addressed in the forward-looking statements as a result of numerous factors, including the following:

Competitive pressures in the financial services business which may affect the pricing of the Company's loan and deposit products as well as its services (including wealth management services).

Changes in the interest rate environment, which may influence, among other things, the growth of loans and deposits, the quality of the Company's loan portfolio, the pricing of loans and deposits and interest income.

The extent of defaults and losses on our loan portfolio.

Unexpected difficulties or unanticipated developments related to the Company's strategy of de novo bank formations and openings. De novo banks typically require 13 to 24 months of operations before becoming profitable, due to the impact of organizational and overhead expenses, the startup phase of generating deposits and the time lag typically involved in redeploying deposits into attractively priced loans and other higher yielding earning assets.

The ability of the Company to obtain liquidity and income from the sale of premium finance receivables in the future and the unique collection and delinquency risks associated with such loans.

Failure to identify and complete acquisitions in the future or unexpected difficulties or unanticipated developments related to the integration of acquired entities or assets into the Company.

Legislative or regulatory changes or actions, or significant litigation involving the Company.

Changes in general economic conditions in the markets in which the Company operates.

The ability of the Company to receive dividends from its subsidiaries.

The loss of customers as a result of technological changes allowing consumers to complete their financial transactions without the use of a bank.

The ability of the Company to attract and retain senior management experienced in the banking and financial services industries.

The risk that the terms of the U.S. Treasury Department's Capital Purchase Program could change.

The other risk factors set forth in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Therefore, there can be no assurances that future actual results will correspond to these forward-looking statements. The reader is cautioned not to place undue reliance on any forward looking statement made by or on behalf of Wintrust. Any such statement speaks only as of the date the statement was made or as of such date that may be referenced within the statement. The Company undertakes no obligation to release revisions to these forward-looking statements or reflect events or circumstances after the date of this press release. Persons are advised, however, to consult further disclosures management makes on related subjects in its reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and in its press releases.
