OUR COMPANY

Because this is a summary, it does not contain all the information about us that may be important to you. You should read the more detailed information and the financial statements and related notes which are incorporated by reference in this prospectus.

We currently operate two business segments – the mortgage-backed securities, or MBS, business and the intellectual property, or IP, business – through our wholly owned subsidiaries. However, our business has changed significantly over the last several years, and we expect that it will continue to evolve in the near term. In addition, we have a new chief executive officer and a new chief financial officer, and we are building a new management team.

From 1999 until 2004, we owned, acquired and operated a number of mobile and wireless communications businesses. These businesses never became profitable, and during 2004 we sold these businesses and commenced our MBS business. As a result of the substantial losses incurred by our mobile and wireless communications businesses, we have more than $1 billion of accumulated tax loss carry-forwards. These accumulated tax loss carryforwards are generally available through 2026 (subject to limitations in applicable tax laws and rules that might become applicable to us in the future) to offset income tax that we otherwise would have to pay in the future, to the extent that our business is profitable and generates taxable income. One of our company’s principal business objectives is to operate profitably so that we can realize value, in the form of tax savings, from our accumulated tax loss carryforwards. We commenced the MBS business in 2004 with the expectation that it would help us achieve this business objective.

In the MBS business, we acquired hybrid adjustable-rate mortgage-backed securities guaranteed or issued by government agencies or government-sponsored organizations. Through 2004 and into 2005, we expanded our MBS holdings and leveraged our MBS investment portfolio (consistent with our MBS strategy) using borrowings under short-term repurchase agreements. During this period, we reported our first quarterly net earnings since our initial public offering in 1999. However, market conditions for the MBS business changed significantly during 2005. In particular, short-term interest rates rose rapidly and the spread between the interest we received on our MBS investments and the interest our lenders charged us for our short-term borrowings declined. As a result, the value of our MBS portfolio declined and the cost of leveraging the MBS portfolio reduced our earnings. In response to these changes, in late 2005 and early 2006, we sold a portion of our MBS holdings and repaid all of the borrowings we had used to purchase MBS. We have not acquired any new MBS since May 2005.

In light of these changing market conditions, in late 2005 and into 2006 we explored additional and alternative business strategies that we thought could help us become profitable more quickly. As a result of these efforts, on June 6, 2006, we acquired UCC Capital Corp. and its affiliates and commenced our IP business. At the same time, we named UCC’s former president and chief executive officer, Robert D. Loren, to become our president and chief executive officer, as well as a member of our board of directors. In September 2006, we hired David Meister to become our chief financial officer. We also have moved our corporate headquarters to New York City, where our IP business is based.

With our IP business, we plan to acquire IP and IP-centric businesses and to manage and develop these assets and businesses using our value net business model. Our strategy is to generate revenue from licensing and other commercial arrangements with third parties who want to use the IP that we own (directly and through IP-centric businesses that we acquire). We expect that these third parties will pay us licensing and other contractual fees and royalties for the right to use our IP on either an exclusive or non-exclusive basis. Our contractual arrangements may apply to a specific product market, a specific geographic market, or to multiple markets.

A significant reason for our strategy is that it involves a highly scaleable business model, which we call our value net business model. Our value net business model does not require us to incur substantial operating or capital costs to expand the business, as we will not manufacture, warehouse or distribute the branded products associated with the IP we acquire (or build stores in the case of franchise operations). We intend to rely on third-party licensees and other business partners to incur such capital costs and perform such services. However, we will generally be involved in the marketing, promotion and quality control of products and services that make use of our IP (such as trademarks and trade names that we own), and we also may provide certain purchasing and training support services with respect to franchise operations.

Table of Contents

On August 21, 2006, we signed a definitive agreement to make the first acquisition for our IP business. We agreed to acquire the IP assets and the retail franchise operations of The Athlete's Foot®, or TAF, which franchises retail athletic footwear stores under The Athlete's Foot name in 40 countries around the world, including the United States. We intend on closing the TAF acquisition before the end of this year. We will pay initial consideration of $51.5 million at the closing, consisting of $9.5 million of our common stock (valued at the average closing price of the common stock for the five trading days prior to the closing) with the balance payable in cash (less assumed indebtedness, if any). We expect to finance a portion of the initial cash consideration with third-party indebtedness. The purchase agreement also provides for a contingent consideration arrangement that will entitle TAF to receive up to an additional $8.5 million of consideration, payable in early 2007, if TAF's financial results for the year ended December 31, 2006 equal or exceed targets specified in the purchase agreement. Amounts payable under the contingent consideration arrangement (if any) will be paid in the same proportion of our common stock and cash as the initial consideration. The purchase agreement contains customary representations, warranties and covenants.

Subsequent to signing the TAF purchase agreement, our board of directors had concluded that we should exit the MBS business and focus entirely on the IP business. We recently filed a proxy statement in which we are seeking our stockholders' approval of the sale of our MBS investments for the purpose of reallocating substantially all of our assets from the MBS business to the IP business. We expect to begin mailing this proxy statement to our stockholders in the next few weeks. If our stockholders approve this proposal at our annual meeting, which we expect will be held in late October or early November 2006, we plan to sell our MBS investments, discontinue the MBS business and focus entirely on the IP business. We are also seeking stockholder approval to change our name to NexCen Brands, Inc., which we believe better reflects our new strategy. We have reserved the stock symbol NEXC in anticipation of this change, and plan to cause our common stock to be traded under this new symbol, rather than the current AETH symbol, following the change of our name.

Aether is a Delaware corporation. Our principal executive offices are located at 1330 Avenue of the Americas, 40th Floor, New York, NY 10019, and our telephone number is (212) 277-1100. RISK FACTORS

Our business is subject to significant risks. You should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties described in this prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein, including the risks and uncertainties described in our consolidated financial statements and the notes to those financial statements and the risks and uncertainties described under the caption Risk Factors included in Part I, Item 1 of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005, as supplemented by the changes to the risk factors we discuss in Item 1A of the Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended June 30, 2006, which are incorporated by reference in this prospectus. The risks and uncertainties described in this prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein are not the only ones facing us. Additional risks and uncertainties that we do not presently know about or that we currently believe are not material may also adversely affect our business. If any of the risks and uncertainties described in this prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein actually occur, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected in a material way. This could cause the trading price of our common stock to decline, perhaps significantly, and you may lose part or all of your investment.

In addition to the foregoing, you should also consider the following risk factor:

Our stock price may be volatile, and the market price of our common stock may decline.

The stock market in general, and the market for stocks of companies similar to our, has been highly volatile. As a result, the market price of our common stock is likely to be similarly volatile, and investors in our common stock may experience a decrease, which could be substantial, in the value of their stock, including decreases unrelated to our operating performance or prospects, and could lose part or all of their investment. The price of our common stock could be subject to wide fluctuations in response to a number of factors, including those described elsewhere in this prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein and others such as:

variations in our operating performance and the performance of our competitors;

Table of Contents

actual or anticipated fluctuations in our quarterly or annual operating results;

publication of research reports by securities analysts about us or our competitors or our industry;

our failure or the failure of our competitors to meet analysts' projections or guidance that we or our competitors may give to the market;

additions and departures of key personnel;

strategic decisions by us or our competitors, such as acquisitions, strategic investments or changes in business strategy;

speculation in the press or investment community;

changes in accounting principles;

terrorist acts, acts of war or periods of widespread civil unrest;

changes in general market and economic conditions; and the factors discussed in the bullet points under "Forward-Looking Statements" below.

In the past, securities class action litigation has often been initiated against companies following periods of volatility in their stock price. This type of litigation could result in substantial costs and divert our management's attention and resources, and could also require us to make substantial payments to satisfy judgments or to settle litigation.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This prospectus and the information incorporated by reference herein contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws and the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements may be found throughout this prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein. Forward-looking statements typically are identified by the use of terms such as may, will, should, expect, anticipate, believe, estimate, similar words, although some forward-looking statements are expressed differently. You should consider statements that contain these words carefully because they describe our expectations, plans, strategies and goals and our beliefs concerning future business conditions, our future results of operations, our future financial position, and our business outlook or state other forward-looking information. The information included and incorporated by reference under the heading "Risk Factors" in this prospectus provides examples of risks, uncertainties and events that could cause our actual results to differ materially from the expectations expressed in our forward-looking statements. These risks, uncertainties and events also include, but are not limited to, the following:

we may not be successful in implementing the new IP strategy;

we may not be able to acquire IP or IP centric companies or finance or exploit them on terms that are acceptable to us;

we are likely to face substantial competition in seeking to acquire and market desirable IP and IP centric companies, and competitors may have substantially greater resources than we do;

our MBS business continues to involve significant risks related primarily to changes in interest rates;

we may not be able to realize value from our accumulated tax loss carryforwards, because of a failure to generate sufficient taxable earnings, regulatory limits or both;

as a result of continued negative market conditions for MBS, the value of our MBS may decline further and we may realize additional losses if we sell additional MBS;

stockholders may not approve the sale of our MBS portfolio for the purpose of reallocating substantially all of our assets from the MBS business to the IP business;

we may not complete the TAF acquisition on the negotiated terms or at all;

Table of Contents

general regional and national economic conditions; and loss or departure of one or more members of our senior management;

The forward-looking statements made in this prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein relate only to events as of the date on which the statements were made. We undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which the statement was made or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

SELLING STOCKHOLDERS

The shares to be offered by the selling stockholders are restricted securities under applicable federal and state securities laws and are being registered under the Securities Act to give the selling stockholders the opportunity to sell these shares publicly. The registration of these shares does not require that any of the shares be offered or sold by the selling stockholders. The selling stockholders may from time to time offer and sell all or a portion of their shares indicated below in privately negotiated transactions or on the Nasdaq Global Market or any other market on which our common stock may subsequently be listed.

The registered shares may be sold directly or through brokers or dealers, or in a distribution by one or more underwriters on a firm commitment or best effort basis. To the extent required, the names of any agent or broker-dealer and applicable commissions or discounts and any other required information with respect to any particular offer will be set forth in a prospectus supplement. See Plan of Distribution, beginning on page 5. The selling stockholders and any agents or broker-dealers that participate with the selling stockholders in the distribution of registered shares may be deemed to be underwriters within the meaning of the Securities Act, and any commissions received by them and any profit on the resale of the registered shares may be deemed to be underwriting commissions or discounts under the Securities Act.

No estimate can be given as to the amount or percentage of our common stock that will be held by the selling stockholders after any sales made pursuant to this prospectus because the selling stockholders are not required to sell any of the shares being registered under this prospectus. The following table assumes that the selling stockholders will sell all of the shares listed in this prospectus.

The following table sets forth information with respect to the beneficial ownership of our common stock held, as of September 14, 2006, by the selling stockholders and the number of shares being offered hereby and information with respect to shares to be beneficially owned by the selling stockholders after completion of this offering. We and the selling stockholders may agree to indemnify an underwriter, broker-dealer or agent against certain liabilities related to the selling of the common stock, including liabilities arising under the Securities Act. Under the stockholders agreement, we have agreed to indemnify the selling stockholders against certain liabilities related to the sale of the common stock, including liabilities arising under the Securities Act. Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law (the DGCL) provides that a corporation may indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of the corporation) by reason of the fact that the person is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by the person in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe that the person's conduct was unlawful. Section 145 of the DGCL further provides that a corporation similarly may indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action or suit by or in the right of the corporation to procure a judgment in its favor by reason of the fact that the person is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by the person in connection with the defense or settlement of such action or suit if the person acted in good faith and in a manner that the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation and except that no indemnification shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the corporation unless and only to the extent that the Delaware Court of Chancery or such other court in which such action or suit was brought shall determine upon application that, despite the adjudication of liability but in view of all of the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses which the Delaware Court of Chancery or such other court shall deem proper.

Section 145 of the DGCL also provides that a corporation has the power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any liability asserted against such person and incurred by such person in any such capacity, or arising out of such person's status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such liability under this section.

Certificate of Incorporation

Article X of the Company's Certificate of Incorporation, as amended, provides that, to the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL, as the same exists or may be amended, a director of the Company is not liable to the Company or its stockholders for monetary damages for a breach of fiduciary duty as a director.

By-laws

Article VII of the By-laws of the Company (the "By-laws") provides, among other things, that each person who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, by reason of the fact that he, or a person of whom he is the legal representative, is or was a director or officer of the Company or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee, fiduciary, or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Company to the fullest extent which it is empowered to do so unless prohibited from doing so by the DGCL against all expense, liability and loss (including attorneys' fees actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection with such proceeding) and such indemnification inures to the benefit of the person's heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that, subject to certain exceptions, the Company shall indemnify any such person seeking indemnification in connection with a proceeding initiated by such person only if such proceeding was authorized by the board of directors of the Company. Item 17. Undertakings.

(a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement:

(i) To include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than a 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the Calculation of Registration Fee table in the effective registration statement;

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the registration statement or any material change to such information in the registration statement;

provided, however, that paragraphs (a)(1)(i), (a)(1)(ii) and (a)(1) (iii) do not apply if the registration statement is on Form S-3 or Form F-3 and the information required to be included in a post-effective amendment by those paragraphs is contained in periodic reports filed with or furnished to the Commission by the registrant pursuant to Section 13 or Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that are incorporated by reference in the registration statement, or is contained in a form of prospectus filed pursuant to Rule 424(b) that is part of the registration statement.

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

(b) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each filing of the registrant's annual report pursuant to Section 13(a) or Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (and, where applicable, each filing of an employee benefit plan's annual report pursuant to Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) that is incorporated by reference in the registration statement shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(c) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

(d) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that:

(1) For purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, the information omitted from the form of prospectus filed as part of this registration statement in reliance upon Rule 430A and contained in a form of prospectus filed by the registrant pursuant to Rule 424(b)(1) or (4) or 497(h) under the Securities Act shall be deemed to be part of this registration statement as of the time it was declared effective.

(2) For the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each post-effective amendment that contains a form of prospectus shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.
