RIDER A

As previously disclosed, the registrant has engaged a new accounting firm to audit its financial statements. The registrant has also engaged new outside counsel and a new financial reporting officer and recently outsourced its financial statement presentation to a certified public accountant other than its auditor. The registrant will make every effort to file the subject report by the fifth calendar day following the prescribed due date (August 23, 2004). However, the registrant's new financial reporting officer and outside professionals may require additional time, due to their lack of history with the registrant, to ensure that the subject report is accurate and complete. If it appears the registrant will be unable to file the subject report by August 23, the registrant's representatives will contact the Commission staff to apprise them of that fact, and the report will be filed as soon thereafter as possible.
