Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On April 12, 2012, Precision Optics Corporation, Inc. (the “Company”) accepted an order from a customer to purchase endoscopes for a total purchase amount of $1,032,000. The purchase order is contingent upon execution of a supply agreement to specify, among other items, the delivery schedule of the products, and demonstration that the endoscopes meet the customer’s requirements. The Company is responsible for all testing and validation of the products.

This report contains forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements that express the Company’s intentions, beliefs, expectations, strategies, predictions or any other statements related to the Company’s future activities or future events or conditions. These statements are based on current expectations, estimates and projections about the Company’s business based, in part, on assumptions made by the Company’s management. These statements are not guarantees of future performances and involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict. Therefore, actual outcomes and results may differ materially from what is expressed or forecasted in the forward-looking statements due to numerous factors, including those risks discussed in the Company’s annual report on Form 10-K and in other documents that the Company files from time to time with the SEC. Any forward-looking statements speak only as of the date on which they are made, and the Company does not undertake any obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this report, except as required by law.
