conversions at Ralphs, Food 4 Less, and Fred Meyer.

This report contains certain forward-looking statements about the future performance of the Company. These statements are based on management's assumptions and beliefs in light of the information currently available to it. Such statements relate to, among other things cost reductions and our Strategic Growth Plan, and are indicated by the words or phrases such as "expects." These forward-looking statements are subject to uncertainties and other factors that could cause actual results to differ. The results of our Strategic Growth Plan, including the amount and timing of cost savings expected, could be adversely affected due to pricing and promotional activities of existing and new competitors, including non-traditional food retailers; our response to these actions; the state of the economy, including deflationary trends in certain commodities; recessionary trends in the economy; our ability to achieve the cost reductions that we have identified, including those to reduce shrink and OGA increases in health care, pension and credit card fees; and the success of our capital investments. The amount and timing of future one-time, merger-related costs could be adversely affected by our ability to convert remaining systems as planned and on budget. The cost associated with implementation of our Strategic Growth Plan, as well as the amount and timing of our expected cost reductions, could be affected by a worsening economy; increased competitive pressures; and any inability on our part to implement the Strategic Growth Plan when expected. Our capital expenditures could vary materially from our expectations for any of the reasons identified above; if weather conditions affect our construction projects; if any projects fail to commence when projected or fail to proceed on the time frame expected; or due to increased costs of materials or labor, or any other cost increase associated with construction projects. Any labor disputes could affect our ability to achieve the goals outlined above. We assume no obligation to update the information contained herein.
