Credit Suisse Group sells Winterthur to AXA

Zurich, June 14, 2006 Credit Suisse Group today announced that it has entered into a definitive agreement for the sale of Winterthur Swiss Insurance Company ( Winterthur ), its insurance business, to AXA for a cash consideration of CHF 12.3 billion. AXA will acquire 100% of Winterthur. The transaction is subject to customary regulatory approvals and closing conditions and is expected to close around year-end 2006.

Walter B. Kielholz, Chairman of Credit Suisse Group, said: During the last three years, Winterthur has steadily improved its operating performance and delivered an impressive turnaround. We are therefore able to deliver the full value of Winterthur to our shareholders through this transaction. Credit Suisse Group is now in a position to focus its management and capital resources on its core banking businesses.

Leonhard H. Fischer, CEO of Winterthur, said: The sale of Winterthur to AXA is a significant step for the clients and employees of Winterthur as well as for the Swiss market. Having reviewed several strategic options for the future of Winterthur, the management team of Winterthur is convinced that by joining AXA, Winterthur's businesses will be best positioned for future growth. We also believe that the clients and employees of Winterthur will benefit in the long term from being part of one of the global leaders in the insurance industry with an excellent reputation among its stakeholders.

Henri de Castries, Group CEO of AXA, said: This transaction is a unique opportunity to reinforce our leading position in our core European market and to increase our presence in emerging markets, notably in Eastern Europe and in Asia. The complementarity of our organizations and the strong cultural fit between our teams will facilitate the integration of Winterthur and will drive value creation for our shareholders. I am confident that Winterthur's professionals will contribute very positively to our company.

The sale of Winterthur follows Credit Suisse Group's decision in 2004 to focus its growth strategy on an integrated global banking business model. For the past two years, Credit Suisse Group has been managing Winterthur as a financial investment and preparing it for a capital market transaction.

Under the terms of the transaction, Credit Suisse Group will receive a cash payment of CHF 12.3 billion. This consideration is equivalent to 1.6 times Winterthur's Group European Embedded Value(1) of CHF 7.9 billion as of December 31, 2005. Furthermore, AXA will redeem GBP 500 million (approximately CHF 1.1 billion) of intercompany hybrid debt currently outstanding between Credit Suisse Group and Winterthur. In the context of the sale, Credit Suisse Group has granted AXA customary representations and warranties and has not provided any indemnification in respect of Winterthur's insurance reserves.

Edgar Filing: CREDIT SUISSE GROUP - Form 6-K

Credit Suisse Group expects to record a gain from the sale of Winterthur. The actual gain on sale will be dependent upon the accrued book value of Winterthur at the time of closing. As of March 31, 2006, Winterthur had a carrying value in Credit Suisse Group's accounts of CHF 9.4 billion. Excluding any gain on sale and assuming the deconsolidation of Winterthur, Credit Suisse Group would have reported a tier 1 ratio and total capital ratio of 13.0% and 17.8% respectively, as of March 31, 2006.

Edgar Filing: CREDIT SUISSE GROUP - Form 6-K

Oswald J. Grübel, CEO of Credit Suisse Group, said: We plan to reinvest the proceeds from the sale of Winterthur in the development of our banking businesses. Our growth plans are focused on organic growth opportunities and selected acquisitions and joint ventures in our investment banking, private banking and asset management businesses. However, we have no intention of making any transforming acquisitions.

He continued: Credit Suisse Group is committed to maximizing returns for its shareholders. We will invest the capital from the sale of Winterthur to compensate for the loss of earnings. We confirm our net income target for 2007 of CHF 8.2 billion, assuming a stable market environment. Any excess capital that cannot be used to grow our business will be returned to our shareholders.

Credit Suisse Group's current share buyback program of up to CHF 6 billion will be continued and is expected to be completed in the first half of 2007. This program takes into account the impact from the introduction of Basel II, which, based on current modeling and business mix, would increase the tier 1 capital requirement by approximately 150 basis points.

Credit Suisse Group is being advised by its Investment Banking division. Evercore Partners has provided an opinion to the Board of Directors of Credit Suisse Group on the fairness of the transaction.

Note (1): The Group European Embedded Value ( Group EEV ) is a quantitative framework providing additional insights on life insurance businesses and their development to complement financial statements. Winterthur's Group EEV is a non-GAAP measure. For a reconciliation of Winterthur's Group EEV to Winterthur's US GAAP shareholder's equity, we refer you to Winterthur's May 3, 2006 press release and presentation on Disclosure of 2005 EEV for Winterthur .

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Information

This press release contains statements that constitute forward-looking statements. In addition, in the future we, and others on our behalf, may make statements that constitute forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements may include, without limitation, statements relating to our plans, objectives or goals; our future economic performance or prospects; the potential effect on our future performance of certain contingencies; and assumptions underlying any such statements.

Words such as believes, anticipates, expects, intends and plans and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements.

We do not intend to update these forward-looking statements except as may be required by applicable laws. By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties, both general and specific, and risks exist that predictions, forecasts, projections and other outcomes described or implied in forward-looking statements will not be achieved. We caution you that a number of important factors could cause results to differ materially from the plans, objectives, expectations, estimates and intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements. These factors include (i) market and interest rate fluctuations; (ii) the strength of the global economy in general and the strength of the economies of the countries in which we conduct our operations in particular; (iii) the ability of counterparties to meet their obligations to us; (iv) the effects of, and changes in, fiscal, monetary, trade and tax policies, and currency fluctuations; (v) political and social developments, including war, civil unrest or terrorist activity; (vi) the possibility of foreign exchange controls, expropriation, nationalization or confiscation of assets in countries in which we conduct our operations; (vii) the ability to maintain sufficient liquidity and access capital markets; (viii) operational factors such as systems failure, human error, or the failure to implement procedures properly; (ix) actions taken by regulators with respect to our business and practices in one or more of the countries in which we conduct our operations; (x) the effects of changes in laws, regulations or accounting policies or practices; (xi) competition in geographic and business areas in which we conduct our operations; (xii) the ability to retain and recruit qualified personnel; (xiii) the ability to maintain our reputation and promote our brand; (xiv) the ability to increase market share and control expenses; (xv) technological changes; (xvi) the timely development and acceptance of our new products and services and the perceived overall value of these products and services by users; (xvii) acquisitions, including the ability to integrate acquired businesses successfully, and divestitures, including the ability to sell non-core assets; (xviii) the adverse resolution of litigation and other contingencies; and (xix) our success at managing the risks involved in the foregoing.

We caution you that the foregoing list of important factors is not exclusive; when evaluating forward-looking statements, you should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other uncertainties and events, as well as the risks identified in our most recently filed Form 20-F and reports on Form 6-K furnished to the US Securities and Exchange Commission.
