Item 1.02. Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement

On July 13, 2009, Inovio Biomedical Corporation (the Company) received written notice from Wyeth Pharmaceuticals (Wyeth) of the termination without cause of the Collaboration and License Agreement, dated as of November 2, 2006, by and between Wyeth and the Company (the Agreement). The termination is effective ninety (90) days from the Company's receipt of the written notice of termination. Under the Agreement, the Company had granted Wyeth a worldwide non-exclusive license to use the Company's electroporation technology for delivery of therapeutic DNA vaccines against certain targets.

Revenue under the Agreement had been a material portion of the Company's revenue from collaborative research and development arrangements in past periods. As stated in its Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2009 and Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2008, the Company had expected future revenues from Wyeth to be significantly lower than in past periods, as the Company believed Wyeth to be evaluating internal strategic options prior to initiating further development of electroporation-based infectious disease programs. Wyeth has recently agreed to be acquired by Pfizer Inc. Termination of the Agreement enables the Company to further develop its clinical programs on an exclusive basis.
