The performance data quoted represent past performance. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The investment return and the principal value of an investment will fluctuate and shares, if sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Current total returns of the Fund can be obtained by visiting our website at cohenandsteers.com. The Fund's returns assume the reinvestment of all dividends and distributions at prices obtained under the Fund's dividend reinvestment plan. Index performance does not reflect the deduction of any fees, taxes or expenses. An investor cannot invest directly in an index. Performance figures for periods shorter than one year are not annualized.

Managed Distribution Policy

Cohen & Steers Total Return Realty Fund, Inc. (the Fund), acting in accordance with an exemptive order received from the Securities and Exchange Commission and with approval of its Board of Directors (the Board), adopted a managed distribution policy under which the Fund intends to include long-term capital gains, where applicable, as part of the regular quarterly cash distributions to its shareholders (the Plan). The Plan will give the Fund greater flexibility to realize long-term capital gains and to distribute those gains on a regular quarterly basis. In accordance with the Plan, the Fund currently distributes $0.24 per share on a quarterly basis.

- ^a As a closed-end investment company, the price of the Fund's NYSE-traded shares will be set by market forces and can deviate from the NAV per share of the Fund.
- b The FTSE NAREIT Equity REIT Index contains all tax-qualified REITs except timber and infrastructure REITs with more than 50% of total assets in qualifying real estate assets other than mortgages secured by real property that also meet minimum size and liquidity criteria. The BofA Merrill Lynch REIT Preferred Securities Index tracks the performance of fixed-rate U.S. dollar-denominated preferred securities issued in the U.S. domestic market by real estate investment trusts. The S&P 500 Index is an unmanaged index of 500 large-capitalization stocks that is frequently used as a general measure of U.S. stock market performance.

The Fund may pay distributions in excess of the Fund's investment company taxable income and realized gains. This excess would be a return of capital distributed from the Fund's assets. Distributions of capital decrease the Fund's total assets and, therefore, could have the effect of increasing the Fund's expense ratio. In addition, in order to make these distributions, the Fund may have to sell portfolio securities at a less than opportune time.

Shareholders should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the amount of these distributions or from the terms of the Fund's Plan. The Fund's total return based on net asset value is presented in the table above as well as in the Financial Highlights table.

The Plan provides that the Board may amend or terminate the Plan at any time without prior notice to Fund shareholders; however, at this time, there are no reasonably foreseeable circumstances that might cause the termination. The termination of the Plan could have the effect of creating a trading discount (if the Fund's stock is trading at or above net asset value) or widening an existing trading discount.

Market Review

Following a strong start to the year, U.S. real estate investment trusts (REITs) fell back in the second quarter to post negative returns for the six-month period. The group came under pressure amid a difficult combination of mixed economic signals and rising bond yields. Gross domestic product (GDP) contracted at an annualized rate of 0.2% in the first quarter, a sharp contrast with the previous quarter's 2.2% growth. However, other aspects of the U.S. economy were relatively healthy, including job growth, housing activity, bank lending, and consumer confidence and spending.

Sovereign bond yields moved higher in response to generally improving global economic conditions. Better economic data in Europe and Japan helped lift bond yields off record lows reached earlier in the year, and U.S. bond yields rose in tandem, but also in anticipation of a possible Federal Reserve interest-rate hike in 2015. Although rate concerns often weigh on REIT returns in the short term, over longer periods REIT performance has been positively associated with rising rates, both of which tend to be propelled by stronger economic growth.

Returns were negative for most property types, despite continued strong fundamentals for U.S. commercial real estate, as reflected in earnings that generally met high expectations. Health care property REITs (11.7% total return) were among the poorest performers in the quarter. The sector underperformed due to its perceived bond-like characteristics in a period of rising yields, even as health care REITs have been transitioning to more economically sensitive business models over the years.

The shopping center and regional mall sectors (8.1% and 6.2%, respectively) underperformed, even as tenants continued to exhibit strong interest in proven assets. Self storage companies (3.7%) were top performers, drawing support from strong earnings, with year-over-year rental growth running as high as 10%. Apartment landlords (0.8%) also outperformed with a gain, amid sustained household formation that has kept demand ahead of supply. Even apartments in markets vulnerable to lower oil prices, such as Houston, have so far shown a fair degree of resilience.

Despite heightened volatility, the REIT market continued to see mergers and acquisitions, including the sale of apartment owner Associated Estates to Brookfield Asset Management, and Blackstone's acquisition of shopping center REIT Excel Trust, both at double-digit premiums to the prevailing share prices. Also of note, Equinix, a data center REIT, announced a $3.6 billion takeover of the U.K.'s Telecity Group. In the office sector (5.3%), SL Green Realty said that it would purchase a New York City tower for $2.6 billion, in one of New York's largest-ever property deals.

REIT Preferred Securities Advanced

Preferred securities issued by commercial real estate companies had a total return of 1.9% in the period as measured by the BofA Merrill Lynch REIT Preferred Securities Index. Good and improving real estate fundamentals continued to enhance REITs' financial profiles, while favorable technical factors low new supply of REIT preferreds combined with steady demand also supported the group's performance.

Fund Performance

The Fund had a negative total return for the period and underperformed its blended benchmark based on market price, although it outperformed on a NAV basis. Our overweight and stock selection in the apartment sector helped relative performance. In the hotel sector (10.3% total return in the index), we had beneficial positions in certain out-of-index companies that performed well. Our underweight and stock selection in health care REITs also contributed to relative performance. Stock selection in the office sector detracted from performance, as it did in the industrial (11.3% total return in the index) and shopping center sectors. The Fund's allocation to REIT preferreds aided relative performance due to favorable security selection.

Investment Outlook

We expect U.S. economic activity to accelerate after a slow start to the year, with GDP expanding nearly 2.5% in 2015. Continued employment and wage growth should support further strength in consumer confidence, in our view, and we expect to see a more-pronounced benefit from lower gasoline prices in the coming months. These potentially favorable demand trends should be met with continued low levels of new supply in most sectors.

Based on our view of a resumed expansion in the U.S. economy, we believe commercial real estate fundamentals will continue to strengthen, driving further increases in cash flows, net asset values and dividend distributions. This top-down perspective has led us to prefer cyclically sensitive short-lease sectors. However, our bottom-up analysis has also identified companies offering compelling relative value in traditionally noncyclical sectors. We believe that one area of potential opportunity at present is health care, where certain stocks are trading at discounts to underlying property values for the first time in years.
