Brasil Telecom Clarifies Bovespa's Consultation

In response to a consultation made by Bovespa, which is free translated below:

On a news published by Agência Estado Broadcast on 02/20/2003, it is said:

Brasil Telecom estimates for 2003 an EBITDA margin higher than the one obtained in 2002 and lower than 50%;

The estimated margin excludes the effect that the start-up of the mobile operation should have in the company.

We request clarification on the above-mentioned news, as well as other information considered important by the company. Brasil Telecom clarifies that, on February 20, 2003, the company held a conference call with the market to discuss fourth quarter 2002 results.

Asked by an analyst regarding EBITDA margin for 2003, the CEO Carla Cico answered that Brasil Telecom expects to reach an EBITDA margin higher than the one obtained in 2002, but lower than 50%.

Until Anatel certifies the fulfillment of 2003 goals, Brasil Telecom will not be able to explore the PCS licenses obtained in an auction that took place on November 19, 2002. Therefore, the expectation on the EBITDA margin does not consider effects from the mobile operations.

We take this opportunity to inform that the audio recording of the conference call is available at Brasil Telecom's website: www.brasiltelecom.com.br/ir/.

Brasil Telecom remains at your disposal for any clarification that is made necessary.

Brasilia, Brazil, February 21, 2003.
