NYSE: CDE JC 2016 Cautionary Statements This presentation contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of securities legislation in the United States and Canada, including statements regarding executive compensation program components, corporate governance and corporate social responsibility. Such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause Coeur's actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Such factors include, among others, the risks and hazards inherent in the mining business (including risks inherent in developing large-scale mining projects, environmental hazards, industrial accidents, weather or geologically related conditions), changes in the market prices of gold, silver, zinc and lead and a sustained lower price environment, the uncertainties inherent in Coeur's production, exploratory and developmental activities, including risks relating to permitting and regulatory delays, ground conditions, grade variability, any future labor disputes or work stoppages, the uncertainties inherent in the estimation of gold and silver ore reserves, changes that could result from Coeur's future acquisition of new mining properties or businesses, reliance on third parties to operate certain mines where Coeur owns silver production and reserves and the absence of control over mining operations in which Coeur or its subsidiaries hold royalty or streaming interests and risks related to these mining operations including results of mining and exploration activities, environmental, economic and political risks of the jurisdiction in which the mining operations are located, the loss of any third-party smelter to which Coeur markets silver and gold, the effects of environmental and other governmental regulations, the risks inherent in the ownership or operation of or investment in mining properties or businesses in foreign countries, Coeur's ability to raise additional financing necessary to conduct its business, make payments or refinance its debt, as well as other uncertainties and risk factors set out in filings made from time to time with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), and the Canadian securities regulators, including, without limitation, Coeur's most recent report on Form 10-K. Actual results, developments and timetables could vary significantly from the estimates presented. Readers are cautioned not to put undue reliance on forward-looking statements. Coeur disclaims any intent or obligation to update publicly such forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. Additionally, Coeur undertakes no obligation to comment on analyses, expectations or statements made by third parties in respect of Coeur, its financial or operating results or its securities. Non-U.S. GAAP Measures - We supplement the reporting of our financial information determined under United States generally accepted accounting principles (U.S. GAAP) with certain non-U.S. GAAP financial measures, including all-in sustaining costs and EBITDA. We believe that these adjusted measures provide meaningful information to assist management, investors and analysts in understanding our financial results and assessing our prospects for future performance. We believe these adjusted financial measures are important indicators of our recurring operations because they exclude items that may not be indicative of, or are unrelated to our core operating results, and provide a better baseline for analyzing trends in our underlying businesses. We believe all-in sustaining costs and EBITDA are important measures in assessing the Company's overall financial performance. *

NYSE: CDE JC 2016 Cautionary Statements Reserves, Resources and Mineralized Material Coeur is subject to the reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and applicable Canadian securities laws, and as a result we report our mineral reserves according to two different standards. Canadian reporting requirements for disclosure of mineral properties are governed by National Instrument 43-101 Standards of Disclosure for Mineral Projects (“NI 43-101”). The definitions of NI 43-101 are adopted from those given by the Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum. U.S. reporting requirements, however, are governed by the SEC Industry Guide 7 (“Guide 7”). Both sets of reporting standards have similar goals in terms of conveying an appropriate level of confidence in the disclosures being reported, but embody different approaches and definitions. Under Guide 7, mineralization may not be classified as a “reserve” unless the determination has been made that the mineralization could be economically and legally produced or extracted at the time the reserve determination is made. In our public filings in Canada and in certain other announcements not filed with the SEC, we disclose measured, indicated and inferred resources, each as defined in NI 43-101, in addition to our mineral reserves. U.S. investors are cautioned that, while the terms “measured mineral resources,” “indicated mineral resources” and “inferred mineral resources” are recognized and required by Canadian securities laws, Guide 7 does not recognize them. The estimation of measured resources and indicated resources involve greater uncertainty as to their existence and economic feasibility than the estimation of proven and probable reserves, and therefore U.S. investors are cautioned not to assume that all or any part of measured or indicated resources will ever be converted into Guide 7 compliant reserves. The estimation of inferred resources involves far greater uncertainty as to their existence and economic viability than the estimation of other categories of resources, and therefore it cannot be assumed that all or any part of inferred resources will ever be upgraded to a higher category. Therefore, investors are cautioned not to assume that all or any part of inferred resources exist, or that they can be mined legally or economically. In this presentation, and in our other filings with the SEC, we modify our estimates made in compliance with NI 43-101 to conform to Guide 7 for reporting in the United States. In this presentation, we use the term “mineralized material” to describe mineralization in mineral deposits that do not constitute “reserves” under U.S. standards. “Mineralized material” is substantially equivalent to measured and indicated mineral resources (exclusive of reserves) as disclosed for reporting purposes in Canada, except that the SEC only permits issuers to report “mineralized material” in tonnage and average grade without reference to contained ounces. We provide disclosure of mineralized material to allow a means of comparing our projects to those of other companies in the mining industry, many of which are Canadian and report pursuant to NI 43-101, and to comply with applicable disclosure requirements. We caution you not to assume that all or any part of mineralized material will ever be converted into Guide 7 compliant reserves. *

NYSE: CDE JC 2016 Relevant Terms We use the following terms in this presentation and in the Proxy Statement to describe our operations and results, some of which are non-GAAP financial measures. Please see the applicable non-GAAP reconciliation tables in the appendix to this presentation. Term Definition AIP Annual incentive plan AISC(1) All-in sustaining costs. AISC is a non-GAAP financial measure Ag Silver AgEq Silver equivalent. Silver equivalence assumes a 60:1 silver to gold ratio except where noted as the ratio of average spot prices. Average spot prices for 2016 and 2017 were $17.14 and $17.05, respectively, for silver, and $1,251 and $1,257, respectively, for gold. The average spot silver-to-gold equivalence ratios for 2017 and 2016 were 74:1 and 73:1, respectively. AgEqOz Silver equivalent ounce FCF/free cash flow Cash provided by operating activities, less capital expenditures and Gold Production Royalty Payments EBITDA Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization. EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure LTIP Long-term incentive plan OCF Operating cash flow TSR Total stockholder return YOY Year-over-year Coeur uses AISC (as defined by the World Gold Council) per AgEqOz ounce to evaluate the Company's current operating performance and life of mine performance from discovery through reclamation. We believe this measure assists investors, analysts, and other stakeholders in understanding the costs associated with producing gold and silver and assessing our operating performance and ability to generate free cash flow from operations. *

NYSE: CDE JC 2016 * 2017 executive compensation programs were aligned with our operational and financial performance and stockholder returns. One-year TSR in 2017 was negative, but given the 267% peer-leading one-year TSR in 2016, two-year TSR was still 70%, and three-year TSR was 21%, at the 80th percentile of our peer group. CEO compensation declined year-over-year from 2016 to 2017, in line with the decline in one-year TSR in 2017. Three-year realized compensation for our CEO was 22% lower than pay reported in the Summary Compensation Table ("SCT") due primarily to zero or minimal payouts on performance shares for the three-year periods ended December 31, 2015 and 2016 driven by a weaker metals price environment and the resulting impact on TSR and performance under internal performance share metrics. 2015 performance share award paid out at 150% of overall target based on maximum performance on two of three measures: three-year TSR relative to peers for the 2015-2017 performance period was very strong at the 80th percentile, resulting in a 200% of target payout of performance shares tied to relative TSR performance (representing 50% of performance share opportunity awarded in early 2015); OCF per share increased by 121.5% over the 2015-2017 performance period resulting in a 200% of target payout of performance shares tied to OCF per share (representing 25% of performance share opportunity awarded in early 2015); and the remaining 25% of 2015 performance shares were tied to growth in reserves and other measured and indicated mineralized material per share and resulted in zero payout based on achievement below threshold, due primarily to the issuance of shares over the three-year period as part of initiatives to strengthen our balance sheet and as consideration for acquisitions expected to be accretive over the long term. Strong Company performance against strategic annual objectives resulted in above-target 134% performance under the corporate component of the AIP and above-target payouts to NEOs; however, due to negative one-year TSR in 2017, in accordance with the Company's compensation philosophy and policies, the individual components of NEO payouts were capped at 100% and paid out in the range of 90-95%. 2017 NEO Compensation Aligned with Stockholder Returns

NYSE: CDE JC 2016 Multiyear CEO Compensation Aligned with Stockholder Returns “Cash Incentives” includes an aggregate of $3,000,000 earned under Mr. Krebs’s supplemental incentive opportunity entered into in 2014 and tied to multi-year performance objectives. * SCT pay awarded at levels consistent with our compensation philosophy. Realized pay 23% lower than SCT pay, demonstrating alignment with stockholders during a period of time when our stock initially declined and then significantly strengthened as metals prices recovered and the results of our multi-year strategic transformation took hold. Realizable pay 35% higher than SCT pay reflects the alignment of our compensation program with strengthening TSR and provides our NEOs with appropriate incentives to achieve rigorous performance goals tied to stockholder returns

NYSE: CDE JC 2016 Continued Strong Stockholder Engagement in 2017 Reached out to stockholders representing approximately 64% of outstanding shares (as of June 30, 2017) Engaged with all who responded to our invitation to discuss corporate governance, executive compensation and other matters Other meaningful 2017 engagement: 14 management presentations 145 one-on-one meetings with investors Hosted 6 conference calls with investors and analysts allowing for questions and answers with management The 2017 executive compensation program incorporated several significant changes made over the past several years in response to stockholder feedback. In 2017 we were encouraged by receiving strong feedback from stockholders about our compensation program, particularly the inclusion of health, safety and environmental components in our AIP, and measuring the internal metrics under our performance share program on a per share basis *

NYSE: CDE JC 2016 Select Executive Compensation Program Changes for 2018 * 2017 2018 Peer Group

Peer group contained a mix of precious metals companies, diversified mining companies and companies from other related industries, including steel and aluminum. Allowed inclusion of additional US-listed companies in industries not directly related to Coeur's (such as steel, aluminum and diversified metals) since many precious metals mining companies are listed in Canada. Peer group consists solely of precious metals companies. More relevant to Coeur's business and anticipated to lead to more consistency in the population of the peer group from year to year.

LTIP Three components:

- Three-year relative TSR vs. peer group (50% weighting, 150% maximum payout)
- Three-year growth in OCF per share (25% weighting, 200% maximum payout)
- Three-year growth in reserves and measured and indicated mineralized material per share (25% weighting, 200% maximum payout)

Streamline to two internal measures that drive creation of long-term stockholder value:

- Three-year growth in OCF per share (50% weighting, 200% maximum payout)
- Three-year growth in reserves and measured and indicated mineralized material per share (50% weighting, 200% maximum payout)

TSR modifier with potential to increase or reduce the results from the above two components by +/- 25% for top/bottom quartile relative TSR performance (total maximum payout potential of 250%)
