Overview

uSell is a price aggregation platform that matches consumers looking to sell their smartphones and other electronics with top-rated buyers looking to acquire inventory directly from the public. uSell's virtual model eliminates inventory risk, allowing it to operate with very low fixed costs.

Value Proposition:

Buyer benefits: uSell's model appeals to individual buyers as SEM and related customer acquisition methods are extremely expensive and lack the ability to effectively scale. uSell aggregates buyers' individual marketing spend, operational practices and data to create an aggregated solution that delivers marketing efficiency, industry best practices and deep analytics for its buyers. The number of buyers continues to grow.

ü Inexpensive & scalable

leads for device buyers

Seller benefits: By synthesizing the highly fragmented "reCommerce" industry, uSell is changing the way consumers interact with their old gadgets – encouraging them to monetize these products during a time that mobile carriers are increasing fees and decreasing phone subsidies and consumers purchase new phones more frequently. Also, uSell makes the sale process incredibly easy for customers with set pricing, pre-paid shipping envelopes and another layer of customer support.

ü Market for consumers to

monetize gadgets

Market Opportunity & Competitive Advantage

Market Opportunity:

The mobile market is rapidly expanding – it is estimated that close to 200MM smartphones will be sold in the U.S. in 2012, generating an estimated churn of over 60MM smartphones. Taking into account the average resale value of a smartphone, these 60MM devices

- $9.2 Billion annually represent a reCommerce market of over $7BB and growing. The mindset of selling your and growing rapidly used device is in its infancy but growing rapidly.

Core uSell Functions: The nature of the mobile market in general is changing in a way that opens up a huge opportunity to make reCommerce the new “norm” for consumers. Manufacturers are enticing customers with the latest and greatest products and mobile carriers are entrenching and focusing on customer retention rather than acquisition. This promotes the need for consumers to self-subsidize their new phones by selling their old devices.

- ü reCommerce buyer aggregation

- ü Direct to consumer marketing

Solutions such as eBay and Craigslist are time consuming and difficult for unsophisticated consumers to use, evidenced by over 90% of items sold on eBay being sold by “Power Sellers” not individuals. To fill this void multiple reCommerce electronics buyers have emerged to soak up this opportunity, but none has gained significant traction. Because these companies are focused on the back end disposition of products, they do not have the capital or marketing expertise to drive volume efficiently. Even the best capitalized of these providers is unable to acquire customers at below $25-$30, and is processing a miniscule fraction of the volume available in the market.

Executive Team:

- Sergio Zyman,

Chairman & CEO: The uSell platform will benefit all players in the electronics reCommerce industry by efficiently raising consumer awareness of their services and increasing the size of the reCommerce pie. This practice has already become ubiquitous in the U.K. as companies such as Mazuma and Envirofone educated the market with large-scale advertising campaigns.

Execution & Trajectory

uSell's model is simple. It focuses on its core competency of direct to consumer marketing to drive volume through its reCommerce buyer aggregation platform and making it very easy to use. uSell has been in the business of acquiring used goods since 2008. The platform maximizes our partners' spend with a competitive customer acquisition cost which in turn allows them to offer higher prices to the buyers.

Up to this point uSell has:

- Built & launched its platform
- Proven the concept
- Established overwhelming selling demand from consumers & a robust pipeline of buyers

In doing so, uSell is continuing to increase marketing efficiencies. The model is currently constrained by consumer awareness & penetration. uSell believes that as the market evolves consumer awareness will naturally increase conversion rates (as with the U.K. Market) and is therefore investing in infrastructure to:

- Increase technical efficiency & the efficiency of our partners
- Increase the sophistication of consumer interactions
- Create a more dynamic platform & introduce the possibility for expansion into different verticals
