UNITED CONTINENTAL HOLDINGS, INC.,

UNITED AIR LINES, INC. AND CONTINENTAL AIRLINES, INC.

COMBINED NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)

United Continental Holdings, Inc. (together with its consolidated subsidiaries, UAL) is a holding company and its principal, wholly-owned subsidiaries are United Air Lines, Inc. (together with its consolidated subsidiaries, United) and, effective October 1, 2010, Continental Airlines, Inc. (together with its consolidated subsidiaries, Continental). All significant intercompany transactions are eliminated.

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q is a combined report of UAL, United and Continental. We sometimes use the words we, our, us, and the Company for disclosures that relate to all of UAL, United and Continental Successor (defined below). As UAL consolidates United for financial statement purposes, disclosures that relate to United activities also apply to UAL; and, effective October 1, 2010, disclosures that relate to Continental Successor activities also apply to UAL. When appropriate, UAL, United and Continental are named specifically for their related activities and disclosures.

Continental Acquisition Accounting. As a result of the application of the acquisition method of accounting, Continental's financial statements prior to October 1, 2010 are not comparable with Continental's financial statements for periods on or after October 1, 2010. References to Successor refer to Continental on or after October 1, 2010, after giving effect to the application of acquisition accounting. References to Predecessor refer to Continental prior to October 1, 2010.

Interim Financial Statements. The UAL, United and Continental unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements shown here have been prepared as required by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC). Some information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements that comply with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (GAAP) have been condensed or omitted as permitted by the SEC. The financial statements include all adjustments, including normal recurring adjustments and other adjustments, which are considered necessary for a fair presentation of the Company's financial position and results of operations. Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation. The significant reclassifications are described in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2010 (the 2010 Annual Report). These reclassifications were made to conform the financial statement presentation of United and Continental. These financial statements should be read together with the information included in the 2010 Annual Report.

NOTE 1 - NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements

Frequent Flyer Awards. United and Continental have loyalty programs to increase customer loyalty. Program participants earn mileage credits (miles) by flying on United, Continental and certain other participating airlines. Program participants can also earn miles through purchases from other non-airline partners that participate in the Company's loyalty programs. We sell miles to these partners, which include retail merchants, credit card issuers, hotels and car rental companies, among others. Miles can be redeemed for free, discounted or upgraded air travel and non-travel awards. The Company records its obligation for future award redemptions using a deferred revenue model.

In the case of the sale of air transportation services, the Company recognizes a portion of the ticket sales as revenue when the air transportation occurs and defers a portion of the ticket sale that represents the fair value of the miles, as described further below. In the case of miles sold to third parties, historically we have had two primary revenue elements: marketing and air transportation.

The adoption of the Accounting Standards Update 2009-13, Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force (ASU 2009-13), as described below, resulted in the revision of the accounting for certain aspects of the frequent flyer accounting.

Passenger Tickets

Effective January 1, 2011, the Company began applying the provisions of ASU 2009-13, which resulted in a change to the Company's accounting for passenger ticket sales that include the issuance of miles that may be redeemed for free travel or other products or services at a future date. Under the Company's accounting policy prior to January 1, 2011, the Company estimated the weighted average fair value of miles that were issued in connection with the sale of air transportation. The fair value of the miles was deferred and the residual amount of ticket proceeds was recognized as revenue at the time the air transportation was provided.

Table of Contents

Effective January 1, 2011, the Company began applying the new guidance to determine the estimated selling price of the air transportation and miles as if each element were sold on a separate basis and allocating the total consideration to each of these elements on a pro rata basis. The estimated selling price of miles is computed using an estimated weighted average equivalent ticket value that is adjusted by a sales discount that considers a number of factors, including ultimate fulfillment expectations associated with miles sold in flight transactions to various customer groups.

As a result of the prospective adoption, the new accounting policy was only applied to new sales of air transportation in 2011. Generally, as compared to the historical accounting policy, for passenger tickets sold with miles earned, the new accounting policy decreases the value of miles that the Company records as deferred revenue and increases the passenger revenue recorded at the time air transportation is provided. Due to the average period from purchase of air transportation to the provision of air transportation, the new accounting policy was only applicable to a portion of the Company's multiple element ticket transactions recorded during the three and six months ended June 30, 2011. The application of the new accounting method resulted in the following increases to revenue (in millions, except per share amounts):

	Three Months Ended June 30, 2011			Six Months Ended June 30, 2011
	UAL	United	Continental	UAL	United	Continental
Revenue	$ 106	$ 66	$ 40	$ 161	$ 104	$ 57
Per basic share	$ 0.32			$ 0.49
Per diluted share	$ 0.27			$ 0.42

We estimate that application of the new accounting method in the remaining half of 2011 will increase UAL's revenue as compared to revenue that would have been recorded under the historical method of accounting. The Company cannot reliably estimate the impact of ASU 2009-13 on its future revenue, because the impact depends on many factors, including the volume of air transportation sales with mileage credit components.

Co-branded Credit Card Partner Mileage Sales

United and Continental each had significant contracts to sell frequent flyer miles to their co-branded credit card partner, Chase Bank USA, N.A. (Chase). Miles can be redeemed for free, discounted or upgraded air travel and non-travel awards. On June 9, 2011, these contracts were modified and the Company entered into one agreement with Chase (the Co-Brand Agreement). The Company applied the provisions of ASU 2009-13 to the Co-Brand Agreement as a materially modified contract.

Under the Co-Brand Agreement and ASU 2009-13, we have identified five elements in the agreement: air transportation; use of the United brand and access to frequent flyer member lists; advertising; baggage services; and airport lounge usage. The fair value of the elements is determined using management's estimated selling price of each element. The objective of using estimated selling price based methodology is to determine the price at which we would transact a sale if the product or service were sold on a stand-alone basis. Accordingly, we determine our best estimate of selling price considering multiple inputs and methods including, but not limited to, discounted cash flows, brand value, volume discounts, published selling prices, number of miles awarded and number of miles redeemed. The Company estimated the selling prices and volumes over the term of the modified agreement in order to determine the allocation of proceeds to each of the multiple elements to be delivered.

The new guidance changed the allocation of arrangement consideration to the number of units of accounting; however, the pattern and timing of revenue recognition for those units did not change. The Company records passenger revenue related to the air transportation element when the transportation is delivered. The other elements are generally recognized as other operating revenue when earned.

The application of the new accounting standard decreases the value of the air transportation deliverables related to the Co-Brand Agreement that the Company records as deferred revenue (and ultimately passenger revenue when redeemed awards are flown) and increases the value primarily of the marketing-related deliverables recorded in other revenue at the time these marketing-related deliverables are provided. Other than the effects disclosed in the Special Revenue Item section below, the impact of adoption of ASU 2009-13 did not have a significant impact on revenue during the second quarter of 2011 as compared to revenue that would have been recognized under the Company's historical accounting method.

While revenue recognition is subject to fluctuation based on credit card sale volumes and frequent flyer redemption patterns, the Company expects, as a result of the Co-Brand Agreement, that other revenue will increase by approximately $70 million per quarter, with passenger revenue reduced by approximately $20 million per quarter for the remainder of the year. These estimates are subject to variability primarily depending on the volume of future transactions.

Table of Contents

Pending new or materially modified contracts after January 1, 2011, certain other non-airline partners who participate in the loyalty programs and to which we sell miles remain subject to our historical residual accounting method.

Special Revenue Item

The transition provisions of ASU 2009-13 require that the Company's existing deferred revenue balance be adjusted retroactively to reflect the value of any undelivered element remaining at the date of contract modification as if we had been applying ASU 2009-13 since the Co-Brand Agreement contract initiation. We applied this transition provision by revaluing the undelivered transportation element using its new estimated selling price as determined in connection with the contract modification. This estimated selling price was lower than the rate at which the undelivered element had been deferred under the previous contracts and recorded the following one-time non-cash adjustment to decrease frequent flyer deferred revenue and increase special revenue (in millions):

	Three Months Ended			Six Months Ended
	June 30, 2011			June 30, 2011

NOTE 3 - INCOME TAXES

Our effective tax rates differ from the federal statutory rate of 35% primarily due to the following: changes in the valuation allowance, expenses that are not deductible for federal income tax purposes, and foreign and state income taxes. We are required to provide a valuation allowance for our deferred tax assets in excess of deferred tax liabilities because we have concluded that it is more likely than not that such deferred tax assets will ultimately not be realized.

Share-Based Compensation. In February 2011, UAL granted share-based compensation awards pursuant to the United Continental Holdings, Inc. 2008 Incentive Compensation Plan. These share-based compensation awards include approximately 0.5 million shares of restricted stock that vest pro-rata over three years on the anniversary of the grant date. These awards also include approximately 3.0 million performance-based restricted stock units (RSUs) (equivalent to approximately 1.9 million RSUs at the target performance level), consisting of approximately 1.2 million RSUs that vest based on UAL's return on invested capital for the period beginning January 1, 2011 and ending December 31, 2013 and 1.8 million RSUs that vest based on the achievement of merger-related goals. Vesting of a portion of the merger incentive RSUs is based on the achievement of certain merger-related milestones and vesting of the remainder of the merger incentive RSUs is based on the achievement of revenue and cost synergies over a three-year performance period ending December 31, 2013. The RSUs will be settled in cash. If the specified performance conditions are achieved, cash payments will be made shortly after the end of the performance period or achievement of the specified merger milestone, as applicable, based on the fair market value of UAL common stock. The Company accounts for the performance-based RSUs as liability awards. The table below presents information related to share-based compensation expense (in millions):

Profit Sharing Plans. Effective for 2011, substantially all employees participate in profit sharing plans, which pay 15% of total pre-tax earnings, excluding special items and stock compensation expense, to eligible employees when pre-tax profit excluding special items, profit sharing expense and stock-based compensation program expense exceeds $10 million. Eligible U.S. co-workers in each participating work group will receive a profit sharing payout using a formula based on the ratio of each qualified co-worker's annual eligible earnings to the eligible earnings of all qualified co-workers in all domestic workgroups. The international profit sharing plan utilizes the same profit sharing payout percentage that is paid out to eligible U.S. co-workers. UAL recorded profit sharing and related payroll tax expense of $90 million in the three and six months ended June 30, 2011. Profit sharing expense is recorded as a component of salaries and related costs in the consolidated statements of operations.

During 2010, United and Continental maintained separate employee profit sharing plans for the employees of each respective subsidiary. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, United and Continental Predecessor recorded profit sharing and related payroll tax expense of $63 million and $19 million, respectively.

(a) These derivatives are not designated as hedges. The Convertible Debt Supplemental Derivative Asset is classified in Other Asset - Other, net, and the Convertible Debt Conversion Option Liability is classified in Other liabilities and deferred credits - Other in Continental's consolidated balance sheets. The earnings impact is classified in Nonoperating income (expense) - Miscellaneous, net in Continental's statements of consolidated operations.

As of June 30, 2011, Continental's auction rate securities, which had a par value of $145 million and unrealized gains of $2 million, were variable-rate debt instruments with contractual maturities generally greater than ten years and with interest rates that reset every 7, 28 or 35 days, depending on the terms of the particular instrument. These securities are secured by pools of student loans guaranteed by state-designated guaranty agencies and reinsured by the U.S. government. All of the auction rate securities that Continental holds are senior obligations under the applicable indentures authorizing the issuance of the securities.

During the first six months of 2010, Continental Predecessor sold, at par, auction rate securities having a par value of $106 million. Certain of these auction rate securities were subject to a put right granted to Continental by an institution permitting Continental to sell to the institution certain auction rate securities at their full par value. Continental classified the auction rate securities underlying the put right as trading securities and elected the fair value option under applicable accounting standards for the put right, with changes in the fair value of the put right and the underlying auction rate securities recognized in earnings currently. Continental recognized gains on the sales using the specific identification method. The gains were substantially offset by the cancellation of the related put rights. The net gains are included in miscellaneous nonoperating income (expense) in the Continental Predecessor statement of consolidated operations and were not material.

As of June 30, 2011, United's enhanced equipment trust certificate (EETC) securities, which were repurchased in open market transactions in 2007, have an amortized cost basis of $68 million and unrealized losses of $3 million. As of June 30, 2011, these securities have been in an unrealized loss position for a period of over twelve months. However, United has not recognized an impairment loss in earnings related to these securities because it does not intend or expect to be required to sell the securities and expects to recover the entire amortized cost basis. All changes in the fair value of these investments have been classified within accumulated other comprehensive income.

The Continental Successor debt-related derivatives presented in the table above relate to (a) supplemental indenture agreements that provide that Continental's convertible debt, which was previously convertible into shares of Continental common stock, is convertible into shares of UAL common stock upon the terms and conditions specified in the indentures, and (b) the embedded conversion options in Continental's convertible debt that are required to be separated and accounted for as though they are free-standing derivatives as a result of the Continental debt becoming convertible into the common stock of a different reporting entity. These derivatives are reported in Continental's separate financial statements and eliminated in consolidation for UAL. See the Company's 2010 Annual Report for additional information.

The table below presents the carrying values and estimated fair values of financial instruments not presented in the tables above as of June 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010 (in millions):

Table of Contents

Fair value of the financial instruments included in the tables above was determined as follows:

Description	Fair Value Methodology
Cash, Cash Equivalents, Investments and Restricted Cash	The carrying amounts approximate fair value because of the short-term maturity of these assets and liabilities. These assets have maturities of less than one year except for the EETCs, auction rate securities and corporate debt. Fair value is based on either (a) the trading prices of the investment or similar instruments, or (b) an income approach, which uses valuation techniques to convert future amounts into a single present amount based on current market expectations about those future amounts when observable trading prices are not available.
Fuel Derivatives	Derivative contracts are privately negotiated contracts and are not exchange traded. Fair value measurements are estimated with option pricing models that employ observable inputs. Inputs to the valuation models include contractual terms, market prices, yield curves, fuel price curves and measures of volatility, among others.
Foreign Currency Derivatives	Fair value is determined with a formula utilizing observable inputs. Significant inputs to the valuation models include contractual terms, risk-free interest rates and forward exchange rates.
Debt	Fair values were based on either market prices or the discounted amount of future cash flows using our current incremental rate of borrowing for similar liabilities.
Convertible Debt Derivative Asset and Option Liability	The Company used a binomial lattice model to value the conversion options and the supplemental derivative assets. Significant binomial model inputs that are not objectively determinable include volatility and discount rate.

NOTE 6 - HEDGING ACTIVITIES

Aircraft Fuel Hedges. The Company has a risk management strategy to hedge a portion of its price risk related to projected aircraft fuel requirements. The Company periodically enters into derivative contracts to mitigate the adverse financial impact of potential increases in the price of fuel. The Company does not enter into derivative instruments for non-risk management purposes. Prior to April 1, 2010, United's fuel hedges were not accounted for as fair value or cash flow hedges under accounting principles related to hedge accounting. Effective April 1, 2010, United designated substantially all of its outstanding fuel derivative contracts, which settle in periods subsequent to June 30, 2010, as cash flow hedges under applicable accounting standards. In addition, substantially all new fuel derivative contracts entered into subsequent to April 1, 2010 were designated as cash flow hedges.

For fuel derivative instruments designated as cash flow hedges, the Company records the effective portion of periodic changes in the fair value of the derivatives in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) (AOCI) until the underlying fuel is consumed and recorded in fuel expense. Hedge ineffectiveness results when the change in the fair value of the derivative instrument exceeds the change in the value of the Company's expected future cash outlay to purchase and consume fuel. To the extent that the periodic changes in the fair value of the derivatives are not effective, that ineffectiveness is recorded to miscellaneous nonoperating income (expense) in the statements of consolidated operations. Nonoperating income (expense) for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 includes $34 million and $31 million, respectively, of expense resulting from ineffectiveness caused by a decrease in fuel hedge values in excess of the decrease in aircraft fuel prices during the quarter. The impact is concentrated in the fuel hedges entered into by Continental as a result of the redesignation of Continental's fuel hedge portfolio under cash flow hedge accounting as of April 1, 2011 when the portfolio was fully integrated with United's fuel hedge portfolio. This redesignation deferred certain gains on these contracts that will be recognized as part of fuel expense as these positions settle in the future, and therefore any impact is expected to be neutral to earnings over the full term of each contract, assuming current fuel prices.

The Company records each derivative instrument as a derivative asset or liability (on a gross basis) in its consolidated balance sheets and, accordingly, records any related collateral on a gross basis.

As of June 30, 2011, our projected fuel requirements for the remainder of 2011 were hedged as follows:

	Maximum Price		Minimum Price
	% of Expected Consumption	Weighted Average Price (per gallon)	% of Expected Consumption	Weighted Average Price (per gallon)
UAL
Heating oil collars	15%	$ 3.32	15%	$ 2.65

Aircraft fuel call options	4	3.15	N/A	N/A
Aircraft fuel swaps	1	3.14	1	3.14
Total	51%		30%

As of June 30, 2011, United and Continental had hedged projected fuel requirements for the remainder of 2011 of 54% and 44%, respectively, consistent with the hedged instruments and underlyings presented in the table above for UAL. As of June 30, 2011, UAL, United and Continental had also hedged 13%, 16% and 8%, respectively, of projected first half 2012 fuel consumption.

Derivative Credit Risk and Fair Value

The Company is exposed to credit losses in the event of nonperformance by counterparties to its derivative instruments. While the Company records derivative instruments on a gross basis, the Company monitors its net derivative position with each counterparty to monitor credit risk. Based on the fair value of our fuel derivative instruments, our counterparties may require us to post collateral when the price of the underlying commodity decreases, and we may require our counterparties to provide us with collateral when the price of the underlying commodity increases. The following table presents information related to the Company's derivative credit risk as of June 30, 2011 (in millions):

NOTE 8 - COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

General Guarantees and Indemnifications. In the normal course of business, the Company enters into numerous real estate leasing and aircraft financing arrangements that have various guarantees included in the contracts. These guarantees are primarily in the form of indemnities under which the Company typically indemnifies the lessors and any tax/financing parties against tort liabilities that arise out of the use, occupancy, operation or maintenance of the leased premises or financed aircraft. Currently, the Company believes that any future payments required under these guarantees or indemnities would be immaterial, as most tort liabilities and related indemnities are covered by insurance (subject to deductibles). Additionally, certain leased premises such as fueling stations or storage facilities include indemnities of such parties for any environmental liability that may arise out of or relate to the use of the leased premises.

Legal and Environmental Contingencies. The Company has certain contingencies resulting from litigation and claims incident to the ordinary course of business. Management believes, after considering a number of factors, including (but not limited to) the information currently available, the views of legal counsel, the nature of contingencies to which the Company is subject and prior experience, that the ultimate disposition of these contingencies will not materially affect the Company's consolidated financial position or results of operations.

The Company records liabilities for legal and environmental claims when a loss is probable and reasonably estimable. These amounts are recorded based on the Company's assessments of the likelihood of their eventual disposition. The amounts of these liabilities could increase or decrease in the near term, based on revisions to estimates relating to the various claims.

The Company believes that it will have no financial exposure for claims arising out of the events of September 11, 2001 in light of the provisions of the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act of 2001 limiting claimants' recoveries to insurance proceeds, the resolution of the majority of the wrongful death and personal injury cases by settlement and the withdrawal of all related proofs of claim from UAL Corporation's Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection.

Trans-Atlantic Joint Venture. Under the revenue-sharing joint venture agreement covering trans-Atlantic routes, payments among participants are based on a formula that compares current period unit revenue performance on trans-Atlantic routes to a historic period or baseline, which is reset annually. The payments are calculated on a quarterly basis and are subject to a cap. UAL recorded a decrease in passenger revenue of $44 million related to its estimated revenue sharing obligations through the six months ended June 30, 2011.

Contingent Senior Unsecured Notes. UAL would be obligated under an indenture to issue to the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC) up to $500 million aggregate principal amount of 8% Contingent Senior Notes (the 8% Notes) in up to eight equal tranches of $62.5 million if certain financial triggering events occur (with each tranche issued no later than 45 days following the end of any applicable fiscal year). A triggering event occurs when UAL's EBITDAR, as defined in the 8% Notes indenture, exceeds $3.5 billion over the prior 12 months ending June 30 or December 31 of any applicable fiscal year. The twelve month measurement periods began with the fiscal year ended December 31, 2009 and will end with the fiscal year ending December 31, 2017. As of June 30, 2011, a triggering event under the 8% Notes indenture occurred and, as a result, UAL is obligated to issue one tranche of $62.5 million of the 8% Notes no later than February 14, 2012. This tranche will mature June 30, 2026, with interest accruing from the triggering event measurement date at a rate of 8% per annum that is payable in cash in semi-annual installments starting June 30, 2012. The tranche of 8% Notes will be callable, at UAL's option, at any time at par, plus accrued and unpaid interest. UAL recorded a liability for the fair value of the $62.5 million tranche in the second quarter of 2011, which totaled $49 million. This $49 million charge is being classified as an integration cost as the financial results of UAL, excluding Continental's results, would not have resulted in a triggering event under the indenture (see Note 10). The amount recorded is net of a discount applied to the future principal and interest payments using market interest rates for similar structured notes. This is the first such occurrence of UAL's obligation to issue a tranche of 8% Notes.

Commitments. The table below summarizes the Company's commitments as of June 30, 2011, which primarily relate to the acquisition of aircraft and related spare engines, aircraft improvements and include other commitments primarily to acquire information technology services and assets (in millions):

	UAL	United	Continental Successor
Last Six Months of 2011	$ 517	$ 178	$ 339
2012	1,451	145	1,306
2013	925	59	866
2014	1,089	96	993
2015	1,533	377	1,156
After 2015	7,503	6,837	666
	$ 13,018	$ 7,692	$ 5,326

United Aircraft Commitments. As of June 30, 2011, United had firm commitments to purchase 25 Boeing 787 aircraft and 25 Airbus A350XWB aircraft for delivery from 2016 through 2019. United also has purchase options for 42 Airbus A319 and A320 aircraft and purchase rights for 50 Boeing 787 aircraft and 50 Airbus A350XWB aircraft.

Edgar Filing: CONTINENTAL AIRLINES INC /DE/ - Form 10-Q

United has secured considerable backstop financing commitments from its aircraft and engine manufacturers, subject to certain customary conditions. However, there is no guarantee that United will be able to obtain any or all of the backstop financing, or any other financing, for the aircraft and engines on acceptable terms when necessary or at all.

Continental Aircraft Commitments. As of June 30, 2011, Continental had firm commitments to purchase 83 new aircraft (58 Boeing 737 aircraft and 25 Boeing 787 aircraft) scheduled for delivery from August 2011 through 2016. Continental took delivery of three Boeing 737 aircraft in the first six months of 2011 and is currently scheduled to take delivery of one additional Boeing 737 aircraft in the remainder of 2011. Continental also has options to purchase 89 additional Boeing aircraft.

Continental has a financing commitment for the Boeing 737 aircraft scheduled for delivery in August 2011 but does not have backstop financing or any other financing currently in place for the other Boeing aircraft on order. Further financing will be necessary to satisfy Continental's capital commitments for its firm order aircraft and other related capital expenditures. Continental can provide no assurance that backstop financing or any other financing not already in place for aircraft deliveries will be available to Continental on acceptable terms when necessary or at all.

Credit Card Processing Agreements. United and Continental have agreements with financial institutions that process customer credit card transactions for the sale of air travel and other services. Under certain of United's and Continental's credit card processing agreements, the financial institutions either require, or under certain circumstances have the right to require, that United and Continental maintain a reserve equal to a portion of advance ticket sales that have been processed by that financial institution, but for which United and Continental have not yet provided the air transportation (referred to as relevant advance ticket sales).

Under United's and Continental's new combined credit card processing agreement with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (JPMorgan Chase) and Paymentech, LLC, United and Continental are required to provide a cash reserve, determined based on the amount of unrestricted cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments (unrestricted cash balance) held by United and Continental. If United's and Continental's unrestricted cash balance is at or more than $3.5 billion as of any calendar month-end measurement date, the required cash reserve will be $25 million. However, if United's and Continental's unrestricted cash balance is less than $3.5 billion, their required reserve will increase to a percentage of relevant advance ticket sales as summarized in the following table:

Total Unrestricted Cash Balance of United and Continental	Required% of Relevant Advance Ticket Sales (a)
Less than $3.5 billion	25%
Less than $3.0 billion	50%

(a) Represents percentage of advance ticket sales generated by bankcard transactions. As of June 30, 2011, approximately 50% of the combined company's advance ticket sales is generated from bankcard transactions.

Based on United's and Continental's June 30, 2011 unrestricted cash balance, United and Continental were not required to provide cash collateral above the $25 million reserve balance. If the Company is required to post additional cash collateral under the new combined JPMorgan Chase credit card processing agreement as a result of an increase in the required reserve amount, Continental will be required to post additional collateral under its credit card processing agreement with American Express that could be significant.

An increase in the future reserve requirements and the posting of a significant amount of cash collateral as provided by the terms of any of the Company's material credit card processing agreements could materially reduce the Company's liquidity. See Note 17 of the 2010 Annual Report for additional information on the Company's other credit card processing agreements.

Guarantees and Off-Balance Sheet Financing. In the Company's financing transactions that include loans, the Company typically agrees to reimburse lenders for any reduced returns with respect to the loans due to any change in capital requirements and, in the case of loans in which the interest rate is based on the London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR), for certain other increased costs that the lenders incur in carrying these loans as a result of any change in law, subject in most cases to certain mitigation obligations of the lenders. The following table contains information related to the Company's outstanding debt at June 30, 2011 (in millions):

	UAL	United	Continental
Floating rate debt (a)	$ 3,182	$ 2,250	$ 932
Fixed rate debt (a)	444	213	231
Carrying value of loans/leases from non-U.S. entities (b)	3,499	2,461	1,038

(a) Remaining terms of up to nine years, subject to these increased cost provisions.

(b) Remaining terms of up to 9 years; the Company bears the risk of any change in tax laws that would subject loan or lease payments thereunder to non-U.S. entities to withholding taxes, subject to customary exclusions.

United has guaranteed interest and principal payments on $270 million of the Denver International Airport bonds, which are due in 2032 unless United elects not to extend its equipment and ground lease, in which case the bonds are due in 2023. The bonds were issued in two tranches - approximately $170 million aggregate principal amount of 5.25% discount bonds and $100 million aggregate principal amount of 5.75% premium bonds. The related lease obligation is accounted for as an operating lease with the associated expense recorded on a straight-line basis resulting in ratable accrual of the final $270 million lease obligation over the expected lease term through 2032.

Continental is contingently liable for US Airways' obligations under a lease agreement between US Airways and the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey related to the East End Terminal at LaGuardia Airport. These obligations include the payment of ground rentals to the Port Authority and the payment of other rentals in respect of the full amounts owed on special facilities revenue bonds issued by the Port Authority having an outstanding par amount of $95 million at June 30, 2011, and a final scheduled maturity in 2015. If US Airways defaults on these obligations, Continental would be obligated to cure the default and would have the right to occupy the terminal after US Airways' interest in the lease had been terminated.

Continental is the lessee of real property under long-term leases at a number of airports where it is also the guarantor of approximately $1.7 billion of underlying debt and interest thereon. These leases are typically with municipalities or other governmental entities, which are excluded from the consolidation requirements concerning variable interest entities. To the extent Continental's lease and related guarantee are with a separate legal entity other than a governmental entity, Continental is not the primary beneficiary because the lease terms are consistent with market terms at the inception of the lease and the lease does not include a residual value guarantee, fixed-price purchase option or similar feature. The leasing arrangements associated with approximately $1.5 billion of these obligations are accounted for as operating leases, and the leasing arrangements associated with approximately $190 million of these obligations are accounted for as capital leases.

Credit Facilities. United has a $255 million revolving loan commitment, which matures on February 1, 2012, available under its Amended and Restated Revolving Credit, Term Loan and Guaranty Agreement, dated as of February 2, 2007 (the Amended Credit Facility). United used $226 million and $253 million of the commitment capacity for letters of credit at June 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, respectively. Unless this revolving loan commitment is amended or replaced, these letters of credit will be required to be backed with cash collateral by the fourth quarter of 2011. Through a separate arrangement, United has an additional $150 million available under an unused credit facility that expires in the fourth quarter of 2011.

Labor Negotiations. As of June 30, 2011, UAL and its subsidiaries had approximately 83,000 active employees, of whom approximately 74% were represented by various U.S. labor organizations. United and Continental had approximately 82% and 63%, respectively, of their active employees represented by various U.S. labor organizations. United has been in negotiations for amended collective bargaining agreements with all of its unions since 2009. Consistent with commitments contained in its current labor contracts, United has filed for mediation assistance in conjunction with four of its six unions - the Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA), the Association of Flight Attendants - Communication Workers of America (AFA), the International Association of Machinists (IAM) and the Aerospace Workers and the Professional Airline Flight Control Association. The only collective bargaining agreement at Continental that is amendable is with the pilot group.

After the Company's May 2010 merger announcement, ALPA opted to suspend negotiations at both United and Continental to focus on joint negotiations for a new collective bargaining agreement that would apply to the combined company. United and Continental reached agreement with ALPA on a Transition and Process Agreement that provides a framework for conducting pilot operations for the two employee groups until the parties reach agreement on a joint collective bargaining agreement and the carriers obtain a single operating certificate. In August 2010,

Edgar Filing: CONTINENTAL AIRLINES INC /DE/ - Form 10-Q

United and Continental began joint negotiations with ALPA and those negotiations are presently ongoing. In December 2010, ALPA and the Company jointly applied to the National Mediation Board (the NMB) for mediation assistance for the joint pilot and flight instructor negotiations.

In June 2011, United's maintenance technicians and related employees represented by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (the Teamsters) voted against a tentative agreement on a proposed collective bargaining agreement. The Company has since filed with the NMB to proceed with mediated negotiations for a joint collective bargaining agreement for all Teamsters-represented mechanic and related employees. The joint agreement would cover approximately 8,650 active mechanic and related employees located throughout the United States.

Certain unions have filed applications seeking single carrier findings by the NMB for purposes of union representation. When the NMB determines that United and Continental are considered a single carrier, the NMB may order an election if there is a difference in union representation between the employee groups. Until the union representation issues are resolved, the incumbent unions will continue to represent those employee groups they currently represent. In December 2010, ALPA filed for a single carrier finding with the NMB although there is no dispute as to which union represents the pilot groups. There has been no decision on this filing to date. In January 2011, the IAM filed two separate applications seeking single carrier findings by the NMB for fleet service and stores/stock clerk employees. On April 28, 2011, the NMB issued its determination that a single carrier existed for fleet service employees at United and Continental, and on June 13, 2011, the NMB authorized an election for fleet service employees to elect a common representative. This election began on July 7, 2011 and will end on August 11, 2011. On July 2, 2011, the NMB extended the certification of the IAM to stores/stock clerk employees for the combined company due to the larger number of IAM-represented employees at United as compared to Continental.

In January 2011, the AFA filed a single carrier request with the NMB for United and Continental flight attendants. In April 2011, the NMB ruled that United and Continental are now operating as a single carrier for union representation of flight attendants which permitted the NMB to begin the union representation election process for that group. An election was held for the flight attendants and, on June 30, 2011, the NMB certified the AFA as the representative of flight attendants at the combined company. On July 2, 2011, the International Federation of Professional and Technical Engineers filed for a single carrier finding for purposes of union representation among the engineers and related employees at the combined company.

The outcome of labor negotiations may materially impact the Company's future financial results. However, it is too early in the process to assess the timing or magnitude of the impact, if any.

IAH Terminal B Redevelopment Project. In May 2011, UAL, in partnership with the Houston Airport System, announced that it is expected to begin construction of the first phase of a $1 billion terminal improvement project for Terminal B at Bush Intercontinental Airport (IAH) by the end of 2011. UAL's initial commitment is to construct the first phase of the currently anticipated three-phase project that will create a new Terminal B south concourse dedicated to domestic regional jet operations. UAL's cost of construction of phase one of the project is currently estimated to be approximately $100 million and is expected to be funded by special facilities bonds issued by the City of Houston, which bonds would be guaranteed by UAL and/or one of its subsidiaries and would be payable from the rentals paid by UAL or one of its subsidiaries under a special facilities lease agreement with the City of Houston, or cash. Construction of the remaining phases of the project will be based on demand over the next 7 to 10 years, with phase one currently expected to be completed in late 2013.

Based on a qualitative assessment of the IAH Terminal B Redevelopment Project, given the expectation that UAL and/or one of its subsidiaries would guarantee the special facilities bonds, and the requirement that UAL or one of its subsidiaries fund cost overruns with no stated limits would result in the Company paying more than 90% of the total project costs at a given time, UAL or one of its subsidiaries will be considered the owner of the property during the construction period. Because, for accounting purposes, UAL or one of its subsidiaries would also be considered the owner of the construction project upon its completion, the construction project will be treated as a financing transaction such that the property and related financing will remain on UAL's consolidated balance sheet.

NOTE 9 - DEBT AND ADVANCED PURCHASE OF MILES

As of June 30, 2011, a substantial portion of our assets are pledged as collateral for our debt. These assets principally consist of aircraft and the related spare parts and engines, route authorities and, in the case of United, loyalty program intangible assets. As of June 30, 2011, UAL, United and Continental were in compliance with their respective debt covenants.

5% Convertible Notes. In the first quarter of 2011, UAL repurchased all of its $150 million face value 5% Senior Convertible Notes due in 2021 with cash after substantially all of the notes were put to UAL by the noteholders.

4.5% Senior Limited-Subordinated Convertible Notes. In the second quarter of 2011, UAL repurchased at par value approximately $570 million of the $726 million outstanding principal amount of its 4.5% Senior Limited-Subordination Convertible Notes due 2021 with cash after the notes were put to UAL by the noteholders. The remaining $156 million outstanding principal amount of the notes was reclassified from current maturities of long-term debt to long-term debt at June 30, 2011.

Contingent Senior Unsecured Notes PBGC. As of June 30, 2011, UAL is obligated under the 8% Notes indenture to issue to the PBGC $62.5 million aggregate principal amount of 8% Notes no later than February 14, 2012. UAL recorded a liability for the fair value of the non-cash obligation of approximately $49 million in its condensed consolidated balance sheet at June 30, 2011. See Note 8 of this report for additional information on the 8% Notes.

Chase Co-Brand Agreement. United and Continental each had significant contracts to sell frequent flyer miles to Chase through their separate co-branded agreements. As a result of the contract modification of these co-brand agreements, Continental's pre-purchased credit and debit card miles liabilities that had been accounted for as long-term debt were reclassified to advanced purchase of miles as the terms related to the miles have been changed such that the pre-purchased miles no longer meet the definition of debt. As a result, Continental's long-term debt decreased $210 million, advanced purchase of miles increased $270 million and other assets increased $60 million.

In July 2011, UAL sold an additional $165 million of pre-purchased miles to Chase and Continental rolled the remaining balance of the pre-paid miles under its previously existing co-branded agreement into the Co-Brand Agreement when it terminated its debit card co-brand agreement with Chase. UAL has the right, but is not required, to repurchase the pre-purchased miles from Chase during the term of the agreement. The Co-Brand Agreement contains termination penalties that may require United and Continental to make certain payments and repurchase outstanding pre-purchased miles in cases such as the Company's insolvency, bankruptcy, false representations or other material breaches. The Company will record these amounts as advanced purchase of miles in the non-current liabilities section of the Company's condensed consolidated balance sheets.

The obligations of the UAL, United, Continental and Mileage Plus Holdings, LLC to Chase under the Co-Brand Agreement are joint and several. Certain of United's obligations under the Co-Brand Agreement in an amount not more than $850 million are secured by a junior lien in all collateral pledged by United under its Amended Credit Facility. All of Continental's obligations under the Co-Brand Agreement are secured by a junior lien in all collateral pledged by Continental to secure its 6.750% Senior Secured Notes due 2015. United also provides a first priority lien to Chase on its MileagePlus assets to secure certain of its obligations under the Co-Brand Agreement and its obligations under the new combined credit card processing agreement among Continental, United, Paymentech, LLC and JPMorgan Chase. After Continental's OnePass Program is terminated on December 31, 2011, certain of the OnePass Program assets will be added as collateral to such MileagePlus assets. See Note 1 of this report for additional information related to the Co-Brand Agreement.

NOTE 10 - SPECIAL ITEMS

Special Revenue Item. As discussed in Note 1, during the second quarter of 2011, the Company modified the previously existing United and Continental co-branded credit card agreements with Chase as a result of the merger. This modification resulted in the following one-time adjustment to decrease frequent flyer deferred revenue and increase special revenue in accordance with ASU 2009-13 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 as follows (in millions):

	UAL	United	Continental
Special revenue item	$ 107	$ 88	$ 19

Special Charges. For the three and six months ended June 30, special charges consisted of the following (in millions):

Total	$ 106	$ 106	$ 24	$ 124	$ 124	$ 34

Integration-related costs include costs to terminate certain service contracts that will not be used by the Company, costs to write-off system assets that are no longer used or planned to be used by the Company, payments to third-party consultants to assist with integration planning and organization design, severance related costs primarily associated with administrative headcount reductions, relocation and training, and compensation costs related to the systems integration. In addition, as of June 30, 2011, UAL is obligated under the 8% Notes indenture to issue to the PBGC $62.5 million aggregate principal amount of 8% Notes no later than February 14, 2012. UAL recorded a liability for the fair value of the obligation of approximately $49 million as described above in Notes 8 and 9. This is being classified as an integration-related cost as the financial results of UAL, excluding Continental's results, would not have resulted in a triggering event under the 8% Notes indenture. Other special charges include gains and losses on the disposal of aircraft and related spare parts.

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, the charges related to UAL and United in the table above primarily related to asset impairment charges incurred as a result of a decrease in the value of certain aircraft-related assets. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, Continental Predecessor's charges presented in the table above primarily consisted of aircraft-related charges related to grounded Boeing 737-300 aircraft, which is net of gains on the sale of two Boeing 737-500 aircraft. Merger-related costs related to third-party costs incurred for legal, finance, advisory, accounting and consultant fees and communication costs.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

Overview

United Continental Holdings, Inc. (together with its consolidated subsidiaries, UAL) is a holding company and its principal, wholly-owned subsidiaries are United Air Lines, Inc. (together with its consolidated subsidiaries, United) and, effective October 1, 2010, Continental Airlines, Inc. (together with its consolidated subsidiaries, Continental). We sometimes use the words we, our, us, and the Company in this Form 10-Q disclosures that relate to all of UAL, United and Continental.

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q is a combined report of UAL, United, and Continental including their respective consolidated financial statements. As UAL consolidates United and Continental for financial statement purposes, disclosures that relate to United activities also apply to UAL and, effective October 1, 2010, disclosures that relate to Continental Successor activities also apply to UAL, unless otherwise noted. When appropriate, UAL, United and Continental are named specifically for their related activities and disclosures.

United and Continental transport people and cargo through their mainline operations, which utilize full-sized jet aircraft, and regional operations, which utilize smaller aircraft that are operated under contract by United Express, Continental Express and Continental Connection carriers. United and Continental together serve virtually every major market around the world, either directly or through participation in the Star Alliance®, the world's largest airline network. Based on annual flight schedules as of July 1, 2011, the Company offers approximately 5,700 daily departures to 375 destinations through its United and Continental subsidiaries and their regional affiliates.

Second Quarter Financial Highlights

UAL's second quarter 2011 net income was $577 million, or $1.49 diluted earnings per share, excluding $39 million of net special items. On a GAAP basis, UAL's second quarter 2011 net income was $538 million, or $1.39 diluted loss per share.

UAL's passenger revenue increased 6.6% during the second quarter of 2011 as compared to the second quarter of 2010, excluding the impact of Continental's operations following the close of the merger.

Offsetting the improvement in revenue was a 23.4% year-over-year increase in UAL's second quarter 2011 fuel cost, excluding the impact of the merger. This increase was primarily due to a 24.2% increase in the price of fuel.

UAL's operating income was $808 million during the second quarter of 2011, resulting in an operating margin of 8.2%.

UAL's unrestricted cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments totaled $8.6 billion at June 30, 2011.

UAL made scheduled debt and net capital lease payments of $1.0 billion, including $570 million of the $726 million UAL 4.5% Senior Limited-Subordination Convertible Notes due 2021.

Profit sharing and related payroll tax expense accruals through the six months ended June 30, 2011 amounted to $90 million.

Second Quarter Operational Highlights

UAL's consolidated traffic and capacity decreased 1.0% and 0.8%, respectively, during the second quarter of 2011 as compared to the second quarter of 2010.

For the quarter ended June 30, 2011, United and Continental recorded a U.S. Department of Transportation on-time arrival rate of 77.8% and 74.2%, respectively, and a completion factor of 98.6% and 99.7%, respectively.

Outlook

Due to significant increases in fuel prices, UAL plans to reduce consolidated capacity from its previous 2011 projections by reducing flight frequencies, indefinitely postponing the start of flights to certain markets and exiting less profitable routes. As compared to 2010 pro-forma capacity, UAL expects its full-year 2011 consolidated capacity to be roughly flat year-over-year, its full-year 2011 international capacity to be up 2% to 3% and full-year 2011 domestic capacity to be down 2% to 3% year-over-year. UAL is also analyzing the removal of certain less fuel-efficient aircraft from its fleet and will be taking other cost-saving measures.

Table of ContentsIntegration

While United and Continental continued to operate as two separate airlines, the Company made progress toward integrating products, services and policies during the quarter. United's and Continental's check-in and ticket counter facilities are now co-located at 46 airports, and nearly half of the total fleet, or 601 aircraft, including the first Boeing 747-400, are now repainted in the new United livery. During the quarter, the Company announced that MileagePlus will be the loyalty program for the combined company beginning in 2012. Moving to a single loyalty program will be a significant milestone in the integration of the two airlines.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion provides an analysis of UAL's results of operations and reasons for material changes therein for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011 as compared to the corresponding period in 2010.

To provide a more meaningful comparison of UAL's 2011 financial performance to 2010, we have quantified the increases relating to our operating results that are due to the inclusion of Continental's operations after the merger date. The increases due to the merger, presented in the tables below, represent actual Continental results for the second quarter and first six months of 2011, net of eliminations. Intercompany transactions were immaterial.

Second Quarter 2011 Compared to Second Quarter 2010

UAL recorded net income of $538 million in the second quarter of 2011 as compared to net income of $273 million in the second quarter of 2010. Excluding special items, UAL had net income of $577 million in the second quarter of 2011 as compared to net income of $430 million in the second quarter of 2010. See "Reconciliation of GAAP to non-GAAP Financial Measures" at the end of this item for additional information related to non-GAAP financial measures. We consider a key measure of our performance to be operating income, which was $808 million for the second quarter of 2011, as compared to $441 million for the second quarter of 2010. Significant components of our operating results for the three months ended June 30 are as follows (in millions, except percentage changes):

	2011	2010	$ Change	$ Increase Due to Merger	Increase (Decrease) Excluding Merger Impact	% Change Excluding Merger Impact

Passenger load factor (points)	1.2	(0.9)	(0.9)	(3.8)	(0.1)	(0.1)	(0.1)

(a) Yield is a measure of the average price paid per passenger mile, which is calculated by dividing passenger revenue by RPMs. Excluding the impact of the merger, consolidated passenger revenue in the second quarter of 2011 increased approximately $298 million as compared to the year-ago period primarily due to improved pricing as consolidated average fare per passenger and yield increased by 12.8% and 7.7%, respectively. The increase in pricing was due to strengthening economic conditions and capacity discipline. Higher volumes of both business travelers and international premium cabin passengers drove improvements in both average fare per passenger and yield. The average fare per passenger also increased in the 2011 period, as compared to the 2010 period, due to a number of fare increases implemented in response to higher fuel prices.

Effective January 1, 2011, UAL adopted the provisions of ASU 2009-13, which increased UAL passenger revenue associated with passenger ticket sales that include the issuance of frequent flyer mileage credits by approximately $106 million in the second quarter of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period, consisting of $66 million and $40 million for United and Continental, respectively, as compared to passenger revenue that would have been recorded under the historical method of accounting. During the second quarter of 2011, UAL modified the previously existing United and Continental co-branded credit card agreements with Chase as a result of the merger. This contract modification resulted in a one-time adjustment of $107 million, consisting of $88 million and $19 million for United and Continental, respectively, to decrease the deferred revenue balance and increase special revenue in accordance with ASU 2009-13. See Note 1 to the financial statements included in Part

I, Item 1 of this report for additional information related to this accounting pronouncement.

Due to the decline in demand for travel to Japan following the March 11, 2011 earthquake and tsunami, UAL's second quarter consolidated passenger revenue was impacted by approximately $100 million.

Table of Contents

Excluding the impact of the merger, other operating revenue in the second quarter of 2011 decreased approximately $22 million, or 5%, due to a decline in the number of passengers from which bag fees were being collected.

Operating Expenses

The table below includes data related to UAL's operating expenses for the three months ended June 30 (in millions, except for percentage changes):

	2011	2010	$ Change	$ Increase due to Merger	$ Change Excluding Merger Impact	% Change Excluding Merger Impact
Aircraft fuel	$ 3,227	$ 1,486	$ 1,741	$ 1,394	$ 347	23.4

	$ 9,001	$ 4,720	$ 4,281	$ 3,910	$ 371	7.9

Excluding the impact of the merger, aircraft fuel expense increased $347 million, or 23%, year-over-year due to a 44% increase in fuel prices, which was partially offset by a year-over-year increase in fuel hedge gains. As of June 30, 2011, UAL, including United and Continental, had $101 million in unrealized fuel hedge gains recorded as a component of AOCI. Such gains will be recognized in earnings within the next twelve months if the gains are not reversed through changes in market prices prior to expiration of the contracts. The table below presents the significant changes in aircraft fuel cost per gallon in the three month period ended June 30, 2011 as compared to the year-ago period, excluding merger impacts. See Note 6 to the financial statements in Part I, Item 1 of this report for additional details regarding fuel hedge gains.

	(In millions)			Average price per gallon
	2011	2010	% Change	2011	2010	% Change
Fuel purchase cost	$ 2,046	$ 1,435	42.6	$ 3.39	$ 2.35	44.3

Total fuel consumption (gallons) 604 610 (1.0)

Excluding the impact of the merger, aircraft maintenance materials and outside repairs increased $45 million, or 18%, in the second quarter of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period primarily due to increased rates on aircraft maintenance and the timing of airframe routine maintenance work.

Details of UAL's special charges include the following for the three months ended June 30 (in millions):

	2011	2010
Aircraft-related charges, net	$ 1	$ 73
Merger-related costs		28
Integration-related costs	145
Other		5
Total special charges	$ 146	$ 106

In the second quarter of 2011, UAL's special charges of $146 million primarily relate to the integration of United's and Continental's operations, as further described in Note 10 to the financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this report. In the second quarter of 2010, UAL recorded asset impairments of $73 million which primarily relate to the decrease in value of aircraft-related assets and $28 million of merger-related costs.

Nonoperating Income (Expense). The following table illustrates the year-over-year dollar and percentage changes in UAL's nonoperating income (expense) for the three months ended June 30 (in millions, except for percentage changes):

	2011	2010	$ Change	$ Merger Impact	Favorable/(Unfavorable) $ Change Excluding Merger Impact	% Change Excluding Merger Impact
Interest expense	$ (250)	$ (178)	$ (72)	$ (88)	$ 16	9.0

Total	$ (266)	$ (170)	$ (96)	$ (110)	$ 14	(8.2)

Excluding the impact of the merger, interest expense decreased $16 million in the second quarter of 2011, or 9%, compared to the year-ago period primarily due to a decrease in debt outstanding during the second quarter of 2011 as compared to debt outstanding during the year-ago period.

During the second quarter of 2011, miscellaneous, net included fuel hedge ineffectiveness of $34 million primarily resulting from a decrease in fuel hedge values in excess of the decrease in aircraft fuel prices during the quarter, which is concentrated in the fuel hedges entered into by Continental as a result of the re-designation of Continental's fuel hedge portfolio under cash flow hedge accounting as of April 1, 2011 when the portfolio was fully integrated with United's fuel hedge portfolio.

Income Taxes. Our effective tax rates differ from the federal statutory rate of 35% primarily due to the following: changes in the valuation allowance, expenses that are not deductible for federal income tax purposes, and foreign and state income taxes. We are required to provide a valuation allowance for our deferred tax assets in excess of deferred tax liabilities because management has concluded that it is more likely than not that such deferred tax assets will ultimately not be realized.

Table of ContentsFirst Six Months 2011 Compared to First Six Months 2010

UAL recorded net income of $325 million in the first six months of 2011 as compared to net income of $191 million in the first six months of 2010. Excluding special items, UAL had net income of $441 million in the first six months of 2011 as compared to net income of $338 million in the first six months of 2010. See Reconciliation of GAAP to non-GAAP Financial Measures at the end of this item for additional information related to non-GAAP financial measures. We consider a key measure of our performance to be operating income, which was $842 million for the first six months of 2011, as compared to $517 million for the first six months of 2010. Significant components of our operating results for the six months ended June 30 are as follows (in millions, except percentage changes):

Edgar Filing: CONTINENTAL AIRLINES INC /DE/ - Form 10-Q

Excluding the impact of the merger, consolidated passenger revenue in the first six months of 2011 increased approximately $672 million as compared to the year-ago period primarily due to improved pricing as consolidated average fare per passenger and yield increased by 13.6% and 9.1%, respectively. The increase in pricing was due to strengthening economic conditions and capacity discipline. Higher volumes of both business travelers and international premium cabin passengers drove improvements in both average fare per passenger and yield. The average fare per passenger also increased in the 2011 period, as compared to the 2010 period, due to a number of fare increases implemented in response to higher fuel prices.

Effective January 1, 2011, UAL adopted the provisions of ASU 2009-13, which increased UAL passenger revenue associated with passenger ticket sales that include the issuance of frequent flyer mileage credits by approximately $161 million in the first six months of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period, consisting of $104 million and $57 million for United and Continental, respectively, as compared to passenger revenue that would have been recorded under the historical method of accounting. During the second quarter of 2011, the Company modified the previously existing United and Continental co-branded credit card agreements with Chase as a result of the merger. This contract modification resulted in a one-time adjustment of $107 million, consisting of $88 million and $19 million for United and Continental, respectively, to decrease the deferred revenue balance and increase special revenue in accordance with ASU 2009-13. See Note 1 to the financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this report for additional information related to this accounting pronouncement.

Due to the decline in demand for travel to Japan following the March 11, 2011 earthquake and tsunami, UAL's consolidated passenger revenue for the first six months of 2011 was impacted by approximately $130 million.

Excluding the impact of the merger, cargo revenues increased by $11 million, or 3.2%, in the first six months of 2011 as compared to the first six months of 2010 due to the effects of an improving economy and higher fuel surcharge rates, which were partially offset by lower volume.

Operating Expenses

The table below includes data related to UAL's operating expenses for the six months ended June 30 (in millions, except for percentage changes):

	2011	2010	$ Change	$ Increase due to Merger	$ Change Excluding Merger Impact	% Change Excluding Merger Impact

	$ 17,169	$ 8,885	$ 8,284	$ 7,439	$ 845	9.5

Excluding the impact of the merger, aircraft fuel expense increased $652 million, or 24%, year-over-year due to a 38% increase in fuel prices, which was partially offset by a year-over-year increase in fuel hedge gains. The table below presents the significant changes in aircraft fuel cost per gallon in the six months ended June 30, 2011 as compared to the year-ago period, excluding merger impacts. See Note 6 to the financial statements in Part I, Item 1 of this report for additional details regarding fuel hedge gains.

Excluding the impact of the merger, aircraft maintenance materials and outside repairs increased $113 million, or 24%, in the second quarter of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period primarily due to increased rates on aircraft maintenance and the timing of airframe routine maintenance work.

Details of UAL's special charges include the following for the six months ended June 30 (in millions):

	2011	2010
Aircraft-related charges, net	$ (1)	$ 90
Merger-related costs		28
Integration-related costs	224
Other		6
Total special charges	$ 223	$ 124

In the six months ended June 30, 2011, UAL's special charges of $223 million primarily relate to the integration of United's and Continental's operations, as further described in Note 10 to the financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this report. In the six months ended June 30, 2010, UAL recorded asset impairments of $90 million which primarily relate to the decrease in value of aircraft-related assets and $28 million of merger-related costs.

Nonoperating Income (Expense). The following table illustrates the year-over-year dollar and percentage changes in UAL's nonoperating income (expense) for the six months ended June 30 (in millions, except for percentage changes):

	2011	2010	$ Change	$ Merger Impact	Favorable/(Unfavorable)
					$ Change Excluding Merger Impact	% Change Excluding Merger Impact
Interest expense	$ (504)	$ (363)	$ (141)	$ (171)	$ 30	8.3

Total	$ (511)	$ (327)	$ (184)	$ (194)	$ 10	(3.1)

Excluding the impact of the merger, interest expense decreased $30 million, or 8%, compared to the year-ago period primarily due to a decrease in debt outstanding during the first six months of 2011 as compared to debt outstanding during the year-ago period. During the first six months of 2011, miscellaneous, net included fuel hedge ineffectiveness of $31 million primarily resulting from a decrease in fuel hedge values in excess of the decrease in aircraft fuel prices during the three months ended June 30, 2011, which is concentrated in the fuel hedges entered into by Continental as a result of the re-designation of Continental's fuel hedge portfolio under cash flow hedge accounting as of April 1, 2011 when the portfolio was fully integrated with United's fuel hedge portfolio.

Excluding the impact of the merger, the unfavorable variance of miscellaneous, net in the first six months of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period was primarily due to the $21 million gain related to the repayment of certain EETC debt instruments during the first six months of 2010.

Income Taxes. Our effective tax rates differ from the federal statutory rate of 35% primarily due to the following: changes in the valuation allowance, expenses that are not deductible for federal income tax purposes, and foreign and state income taxes. We are required to provide a valuation allowance for our deferred tax assets in excess of deferred tax liabilities because management has concluded that it is more likely than not that such deferred tax assets will ultimately not be realized.

Table of ContentsLIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCESCurrent Liquidity

As of June 30, 2011, UAL had $8.6 billion in unrestricted cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments, as compared to $8.7 billion at December 31, 2010. At June 30, 2011, UAL also had $404 million of restricted cash and cash equivalents, which is primarily collateral for performance bonds, letters of credit, credit card processing agreements and estimated future workers' compensation claims.

As is the case with many of our principal competitors, we have a high proportion of debt compared to capital. We have a significant amount of fixed obligations, including debt, aircraft leases and financings, leases of airport property and other facilities and pension funding obligations. At June 30, 2011, UAL had approximately $13.6 billion of debt and capital lease obligations, including $1.5 billion that will become due in the next 12 months. In addition, we have substantial non-cancelable commitments for capital expenditures, including the acquisition of new aircraft and related spare engines.

In the second quarter of 2011, UAL repurchased at par value approximately $570 million of the $726 million outstanding principal amount of its 4.5% Senior Limited-Subordination Convertible Notes due 2021 with cash after the notes were put to UAL by the noteholders. The remaining $156 million outstanding principal amount of the notes were classified as long-term debt at June 30, 2011.

UAL would be obligated under an indenture to issue to the PBGC up to $500 million aggregate principal amount of 8% Notes in up to eight equal tranches of $62.5 million if certain financial triggering events occur (with each tranche issued no later than 45 days following the end of any applicable fiscal year). A triggering event occurs when UAL's EBITDAR, as defined in the 8% Notes indenture, exceeds $3.5 billion over the prior 12 months ending June 30 or December 31 of any applicable fiscal year. The twelve month measurement periods began with the fiscal year ended December 31, 2009 and will end with the fiscal year ending December 31, 2017. As of June 30, 2011, a triggering event under the 8% Notes indenture occurred and, as a result, UAL is obligated to issue one tranche of $62.5 million of the 8% Notes no later than February 14, 2012. This tranche will mature June 30, 2026, with interest accruing from the triggering event measurement date at a rate of 8% per annum that is payable in cash in semi-annual installments starting June 30, 2012. The tranche of 8% Notes will be callable, at UAL's option, at any time at par, plus accrued and unpaid interest. UAL recorded a liability for the fair value of the $62.5 million tranche in the second quarter of 2011, which totaled $49 million. This $49 million charge is being classified as an integration cost as the financial results of UAL, excluding Continental's results, would not have resulted in a triggering event under the 8% Notes indenture. The amount recorded is net of a discount applied to the future principal and interest payments using market interest rates for similar structured notes. This is the first such occurrence of UAL's obligation to issue a tranche of 8% Notes.

United has a $255 million revolving loan commitment, which matures on February 1, 2012, available under its Amended Credit Facility. As of June 30, 2011, United had used $226 million of the commitment capacity for letters of credit. Unless this revolving loan commitment is amended or replaced, these letters of credit will be required to be backed with cash collateral by the fourth quarter of 2011. Through a separate arrangement, United has an additional $150 million available under an unused credit facility that expires in the fourth quarter of 2011.

As of June 30, 2011, United had firm commitments to purchase 25 Boeing 787 aircraft and 25 Airbus A350XWB aircraft for delivery from 2016 through 2019. United also has purchase options for 42 Airbus A319 and A320 aircraft and purchase rights for 50 Boeing 787 aircraft and 50 Airbus A350XWB aircraft.

United has secured considerable backstop financing commitments from its aircraft and engine manufacturers, subject to certain customary conditions. However, there is no guarantee that United will be able to obtain any or all of the backstop financing, or any other financing, for the aircraft and engines on acceptable terms when necessary or at all.

As of June 30, 2011, Continental had firm commitments to purchase 83 new aircraft (58 Boeing 737 aircraft and 25 Boeing 787 aircraft) scheduled for delivery from August 2011 through 2016. Continental took delivery of three Boeing 737 aircraft in the first six months of 2011 and is currently scheduled to take delivery of one additional Boeing 737 aircraft in the remainder of 2011. Continental also has options to purchase 89 additional Boeing aircraft.

Continental has a financing commitment for the Boeing 737 aircraft scheduled for delivery in August 2011 but does not have backstop financing or any other financing currently in place for the other Boeing aircraft on order. Further financing will be necessary to satisfy Continental's capital commitments for its firm order aircraft and other related capital expenditures. Continental can provide no assurance that backstop financing or any other financing not already in place for aircraft deliveries will be available to Continental on acceptable terms when necessary or at all.

As of June 30, 2011, a substantial portion of UAL's assets, principally aircraft, spare engines, aircraft spare parts, route authorities and certain other intangible assets were pledged under various loan and other agreements. The Company has limited undrawn lines of credit and most of our otherwise readily financeable assets are encumbered. The global economic recession severely disrupted the global capital markets, resulting in a diminished availability of financing and a higher cost for financing that was obtainable. Although access to the capital markets has improved, as evidenced by financing transactions in 2010, we cannot give any assurances that we will be able to obtain additional financing or otherwise access the capital markets in the future on acceptable terms (or at all). We must sustain our profitability and/or access the capital markets to meet our significant long-term debt and capital lease obligations and future commitments for capital expenditures, including the acquisition of aircraft and related spare engines.

Credit Ratings. As of the filing date of this report, UAL, United and Continental had the following corporate credit ratings:

	S&P	Moody's	Fitch
UAL	B	B2	B- (outlook positive)
United	B	B2	B- (outlook positive)
Continental	B	B2	B- (outlook positive)

These credit ratings are below investment grade levels. Downgrades from these rating levels, among other things, could restrict the availability, or increase the cost of future financing for the Company, and/or increase the amount of reserves required under the Company's card processing agreement with JPMorgan Chase and its affiliates, as discussed in Note 8 to the financial statements in Part I, Item 1 of this report.

Sources and Uses of Cash

Operating Activities. UAL's cash flows provided by operations for the six months ended June 30, 2011 were $1.8 billion compared to $1.4 billion in the same period in 2010. Including the impact of Continental, UAL's cash flows from operations increased by $402 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011 compared to the same period in 2010. The increase is attributable to an increase in net income and cash flow impact of certain working capital items. The increase is also due to increased future bookings and higher fares related to advance ticket sales. The increase was partially offset by payments of $242 million in United profit sharing and related payroll taxes during the first quarter of 2011.

Investing Activities. UAL's capital expenditures were $350 million and $124 million in the six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010, respectively. Capital expenditures for the six months ended June 30, 2011 included $61 million related to the acquisition of six aircraft which were being operated under leases and which were immediately sold to third parties upon acquisition for proceeds of $48 million. UAL's capital expenditures in the first six months of 2011 were also higher, as compared to the year-ago period, due to the impact of Continental's capital expenditures and expenditures for integration-related projects. In addition to capital expenditures during the six months ended June 30, 2011, UAL acquired three aircraft through the issuance of debt, as discussed under Financing Activities below. The purchase of short-term investments increased by $443 million in the first six months of 2011 due to the investment of higher cash balances as compared to the year-ago period.

Financing Activities. During the first six months of 2011, UAL made debt and capital lease payments of $1.7 billion. These payments include $150 million related to UAL's 5% Senior Convertible Notes and $570 million related to UAL's 4.5% Senior Limited-Subordination Convertible Notes, as discussed in Note 9 to the financial statements in Part I, Item 1 of this report.

UAL received $239 million during the first six months of 2011 from Continental's December 2010 pass-through trust financing. The proceeds in the first six months of 2011 related to the financing of three new and seven currently owned aircraft. The proceeds related to the seven currently owned aircraft were used for general corporate purposes. As noted in Investing Activities above, the financing proceeds related to the acquisition of three new aircraft are not reflected as a financing activity in the consolidated statement of cash flows as the funds are distributed directly to the aircraft supplier. See the 2010 Annual Report for additional information related to this financing.

In January 2010, United issued the remaining $612 million of equipment notes related to the Series 2009-1 EETCs. Proceeds of $568 million from this financing were used to complete the prepayment of the remaining principal of the equipment notes issued in connection with the Series 2001-1 EETCs and the remaining proceeds of $44 million were primarily used for general corporate purposes. UAL also received cash proceeds of $21 million from the distribution of United's Series 2001-1 EETC trust assets upon repayment of the note obligations.

In January 2010, United issued the remaining $696 million of equipment notes related to the Series 2009-2 EETCs. Proceeds of $493 million from this financing were used to prepay the remaining principal of the equipment notes issued in connection with the Series 2000-2 EETCs and the remaining proceeds of $203 million were primarily used for general corporate purposes.

Commitments, Contingencies and Liquidity Matters

As described in the Company's 2010 Annual Report, the Company's liquidity may be adversely impacted by a variety of factors, including, but not limited to, obligations associated with fuel hedge settlements and related collateral requirements, pension funding obligations, reserve requirements associated with credit card processing agreements, guarantees, commitments and contingencies. See the Company's 2010 Annual Report and Notes 4, 6 and 8 to the financial statements contained in Part I, Item 1 of this report for information related to these matters.

United and Continental - Results of OperationsUnited

The following table presents information related to United's results of operations for the three and six months ended June 30 (in millions, except percentage changes):

United had net income of $281 million and $121 million in the second quarter and first six months of 2011, respectively, as compared to net income of $281 million and $207 million in the second quarter and first six months of 2010, respectively. Excluding the impact of the merger on UAL's results of operations, United's results of operations were consistent with UAL's results discussed above. Prior to the merger, United was

UAL is our only significant operating subsidiary. As compared to the second quarter of 2010, United's consolidated revenue increased $407 million, or 8%, to $5.6 billion for the three months ended June 30, 2011. Similarly, United's consolidated revenue increased $840 million, or 9%, to $10.2 billion for the six months ended

June 30, 2011 as compared to the year-ago period. These increases were primarily due to an improvement in global economic conditions, which in turn resulted in higher average fares, as discussed in UAL's results of operations above. Average fares were also higher due to fare increases implemented in response to higher fuel prices.

During the second quarter of 2011, the Company modified the United and Continental co-branded credit card agreements with Chase as a result of the merger. This contract modification resulted in a one-time adjustment of $88 million for United to decrease the deferred revenue balance and increase special revenue in accordance with ASU 2009-13. See Note 1 to the financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this report for additional information related to this accounting pronouncement.

Aircraft fuel expense increased 23% and 24% in the second quarter and first six months of 2011, respectively, as compared to the year-ago period, which was primarily driven by increased market prices for aircraft fuel, as highlighted in the fuel table in Operating Expenses, above. Fuel hedge (gains) losses were $(213) million and $51 million in the three months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010, respectively, and $(338) million and $35 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2010, respectively. Hedge gains were higher as a result of increases in the price of fuel above the prices in United's hedge contracts.

Aircraft maintenance materials and outside repairs increased $45 million, or 18%, in the second quarter of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period, primarily due to increased rates and volume on aircraft maintenance. Similarly, aircraft maintenance materials and outside repairs increased $115 million, or 25%, in the first six months of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period.

Special charges decreased $16 million, or 15%, in the second quarter of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period, primarily due to a decline in asset impairments recorded related to a decrease in the value of aircraft-related assets. Special charges increased $40 million, or 32%, in the first six months of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period, primarily due to costs associated with the integration of United and Continental, as discussed above.

United's nonoperating expense decreased $8 million, or 5%, in the second quarter of 2011 as compared to the year-ago period, and increased $8 million, or 3%, in the first six months of 2011 as compared to 2010. Excluding the merger impact discussed above, United's interest expense is consistent with UAL's interest expense, except for approximately $5 million of interest expense from UAL's $345 million 6% Senior Convertible Notes due 2029 that are not outstanding at United.

As a result of the application of acquisition accounting effective October 1, 2010, the financial statements prior to October 1, 2010 are not comparable with the financial statements after October 1, 2010. The following table presents information related to Continental's results of operations for the three and six months ended June 30 (in millions, except percentage changes):

Continental's operating income and net income in the second quarter of 2011 were $374 million and $262 million, respectively, as compared to operating income and net income of $329 million and $233 million, respectively, in the second quarter of 2010. Similarly, Continental's operating income and net income in the first six months of 2011 were $403 million and $205 million, respectively, as compared to operating income and net income of $279 million and $87 million, respectively, in the first six months of 2010. These improvements were largely due to the improvement in global economic conditions following the severe recession in 2009, consistent with the improvement in UAL's and United's results described above.

During the second quarter of 2011, the Company modified the United and Continental co-branded credit card agreements with Chase as a result of the merger. This contract modification resulted in a one-time adjustment of $19 million for Continental to decrease the deferred revenue balance and increase special revenue in accordance with ASU 2009-13. See Note 1 to the financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this report for additional information related to this accounting pronouncement.

Aircraft fuel expense increased approximately 41% and 37% in both the second quarter and first six months as compared to 2010, primarily due to an increase in the market prices of aircraft fuel. Fuel hedge gains were $65 million and $94 million in the second quarter and first six months of 2011, respectively. Similarly, fuel hedge losses were $9 million and $6 million in the second quarter and first six months of 2010, respectively.

Aircraft rent decreased 25% in both the second quarter and first six months of 2011 as compared to 2010, primarily due to the amortization of a lease fair value adjustment which was recorded as part of acquisition accounting.

Continental's nonoperating expense in both the second quarter and first six months of 2011 includes a net loss of $2 million and $14 million, respectively, associated with marking to market the fair value of Continental's derivative assets and liabilities related to agreements that provide for Continental's convertible debt to be settled with UAL common stock. This net loss and the related derivatives are only reflected in the Continental stand-alone financial statements. See Note 5 to the financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this report for additional information.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

See Critical Accounting Policies in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in the 2010 Annual Report for a discussion of the Company's critical accounting policies. Also see Note 1 to the financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this report for a discussion of changes in accounting for revenue due to the adoption of new accounting policies.

FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

Certain statements throughout Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and elsewhere in this report are forward-looking and thus reflect our current expectations and beliefs with respect to certain current and future events and financial performance. Such forward-looking statements are and will be subject to many risks and uncertainties relating to our operations and business environment that may cause actual results to differ materially from any future results expressed or implied in such forward-looking statements. Words such as expects, will, plans, anticipates, indicates, believes, forecast, guidance, outlook and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements.

Additionally, forward-looking statements include statements that do not relate solely to historical facts, such as statements which identify uncertainties or trends, discuss the possible future effects of current known trends or uncertainties, or which indicate that the future effects of known trends or uncertainties cannot be predicted, guaranteed or assured. All forward-looking statements in this report are based upon information available to us on the date of this report. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events, changed circumstances or otherwise, except as required by applicable law.

The Company's actual results could differ materially from these forward-looking statements due to numerous factors including, without limitation, the following: its ability to comply with the terms of its various financing arrangements; the costs and availability of financing; its ability to maintain adequate liquidity; its ability to execute its operational plans; its ability to control its costs, including realizing benefits from its resource optimization efforts, cost reduction initiatives and fleet replacement programs; its ability to utilize its net operating losses; its ability to attract and retain customers; demand for transportation in the markets in which it operates; an outbreak of a disease that affects travel demand or travel behavior; demand for travel and the impact that global economic conditions have on customer travel patterns; excessive taxation and the inability to offset future taxable income; general economic conditions (including interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates, investment or credit market conditions, crude oil prices, costs of aviation fuel and energy refining capacity in relevant markets); its ability to cost-effectively hedge against increases in the price of aviation fuel; any potential realized or unrealized gains or losses related to fuel or currency hedging programs; the effects of any hostilities, act of war or terrorist attack; the ability of other air carriers with whom the Company has alliances or partnerships to provide the services contemplated by the respective arrangements with such carriers; the costs and availability of aviation and other insurance; the costs associated with security measures and practices; industry consolidation or changes in airline alliances; competitive pressures on pricing and on demand; its capacity decisions and the capacity decisions of its competitors; U.S. or foreign governmental legislation, regulation and other actions (including open skies agreements); labor costs; its ability to maintain satisfactory labor relations and the results of the collective bargaining agreement process with its union groups; any disruptions to operations due to any potential actions by its labor groups; weather conditions; the possibility that expected merger synergies will not be realized or will not be realized within the expected time period; and other risks and uncertainties set forth under Item 1A., Risk Factors of the 2010 Annual Report, as well as other risks and uncertainties set forth from time to time in the reports the Company files with the SEC. Consequently, forward-looking statements should not be regarded as representations or warranties by the Company that such matters will be realized.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK.

There have been no material changes in market risk from the information provided in Item 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk in our 2010 Annual Report except as follows:

Aircraft Fuel. As of June 30, 2011, UAL's projected consolidated fuel requirements for the remainder of 2011 were hedged as follows:

	Maximum Price		Minimum Price
	%	Weighted	%	Weighted
	of	Average	of	Average
	Expected	price	Expected	price
	Consumption	(per gallon)	Consumption	(per gallon)
Remainder of 2011
Heating oil collars	15%	$ 3.32	15%	$ 2.65
Heating oil call options	4	2.41	N/A	N/A
Heating oil swaps	3	2.24	3	2.24
WTI crude oil call options	13	2.32	N/A	N/A
WTI crude oil swaps	11	2.17	11	2.17
Aircraft fuel call options	4	3.15	N/A	N/A
Aircraft fuel swaps	1	3.14	1	3.14
Total	51%		30%

As of June 30, 2011, UAL had hedged 13% of the projected first half 2012 fuel consumption.

At June 30, 2011, UAL fuel derivatives were in a net asset position of $191 million. See Note 6 to the financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this report for additional information related to fuel hedges.

Disclosures for United and Continental are omitted under the reduced disclosure format permitted by General Instruction H (2) of Form 10-Q.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

UAL, United and Continental each maintain controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports filed or submitted by UAL, United and Continental to the SEC is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified by the SEC's rules and forms, and is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. The management of UAL, United and Continental, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, performed an evaluation to conclude with reasonable assurance that UAL's, United's and Continental's disclosure controls and procedures were designed and operating effectively to report the information each company is required to disclose in the reports they file with the SEC on a timely basis. Based on that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer of UAL, United and Continental have concluded that as of June 30, 2011, disclosure controls and procedures of each company were effective.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting during the Quarter Ended June 30, 2011

Except as set forth below, during the three months ended June 30, 2011, there were no changes in UAL's, United's or Continental's internal control over financial reporting during their most recent fiscal quarter that materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, their internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934).

On October 1, 2010, UAL and Continental completed the merger transaction. We are currently integrating policies, processes, employees, technology and operations for the combined company. Management will continue to evaluate our internal control over financial reporting as we execute merger integration activities.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

In addition to the legal proceedings below, UAL, United and Continental are parties to other legal proceedings as described in the Company's 2010 Annual Report and the Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2011.

Litigation Related to the Merger Transaction

On June 29, 2010, forty-nine purported purchasers of airline tickets filed an antitrust lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California against Continental and UAL Corporation in connection with the merger. The plaintiffs alleged that the merger may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in the transportation of airline passengers in the United States and the transportation of airline passengers to and from the United States on international flights, in violation of Section 7 of the Clayton Act. On August 9, 2010, the plaintiffs filed a motion for preliminary injunction pursuant to Section 16 of the Clayton Act, seeking to enjoin the merger. On September 27, 2010, the court denied the plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction, which allowed the merger to close. After the closing of the merger, the plaintiffs appealed the court's ruling to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and moved for a hold separate order pending the appeal, which was denied. The Ninth Circuit affirmed the District Court's denial of the preliminary injunction on May 23, 2011 and, on July 8, 2011, denied the plaintiffs' motions for rehearing and for rehearing en banc.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS.

See Part I, Item 1A., Risk Factors, of the 2010 Annual Report for a detailed discussion of the risk factors affecting UAL, United and Continental. The discussion below includes updates to certain risk factor disclosures included in the 2010 Annual Report, which are in addition to, and not in lieu of, those contained in the 2010 Annual Report.

The Company may be unable to continue to comply with certain covenants in agreements with financial institutions that process customer credit card transactions, which, if not complied with, could materially and adversely affect the Company's liquidity.

United and Continental have agreements with financial institutions that process customer credit card transactions for the sale of air travel and other services. Under certain of United's and Continental's credit card processing agreements, the financial institutions either require, or under certain circumstances have the right to require, that United and Continental maintain a reserve equal to a portion of advance ticket sales that have been processed by that financial institution, but for which United and Continental have not yet provided the air transportation.

Under United's and Continental's new combined credit card processing agreement with Paymentech, LLC and JPMorgan Chase, United and Continental are required to provide a cash reserve determined based on the unrestricted cash balance held by United and Continental. If United's and Continental's unrestricted cash balance is at or more than $3.5 billion as of any calendar month-end measurement date, the required reserve will remain at $25 million. However, if United's and Continental's unrestricted cash balance is less than $3.5 billion, their required reserve will increase to a percentage of relevant advance ticket sales that could be significant. Based on United's and Continental's June 30, 2011 unrestricted cash balance, United and Continental were not required to provide cash collateral above the $25 million reserve balance. If Continental is required to post additional cash collateral under the new combined JPMorgan Chase credit card processing agreement as a result of an increase in the required reserve amount, Continental will also be required to post additional collateral under its credit card processing agreement with American Express that could be significant.

Under United's credit card processing agreement with American Express, in addition to certain other risk protections provided to American Express, United is required to provide reserves based primarily on its unrestricted cash balance and net current exposure as of any calendar month-end measurement date with United's required reserves increasing to stated percentages of net current exposure that could be significant as United's unrestricted cash balance falls below certain minimum cash amounts. The agreement with American Express permits United to provide certain replacement collateral in lieu of cash collateral, as long as United's unrestricted cash balance is above $1.35 billion. Such replacement collateral may be pledged for any amount of the required reserve up to the full amount thereof, with the stated value of such collateral determined according to the agreement. Replacement collateral may be comprised of aircraft, slots and routes, real estate or other collateral as agreed between the parties. Based on United's unrestricted cash balance at June 30, 2011, United was not required to provide any reserves under this agreement.

An increase in the future reserve requirements and the posting of a significant amount of cash collateral, as provided by the terms of any or all of United's and Continental's material credit card processing agreements, could materially reduce the Company's liquidity. See Note 8 of this report and Note 17 of the 2010 Annual Report for a more detailed discussion of our obligations under the Company's credit card processing agreements.

Table of ContentsExtensive government regulation could materially increase the Company's operating costs and restrict its ability to conduct its business.

Airlines are subject to extensive regulatory and legal compliance requirements that result in significant costs and may have adverse effects. Laws, regulations, taxes and airport rates and charges, both domestically and internationally, have been proposed from time to time that could significantly increase the cost of airline operations or reduce airline revenue. The Company cannot provide any assurance that current laws and regulations, or laws or regulations enacted in the future, will not adversely affect its financial condition or results of operations.

Each of United and Continental operates under a certificate of public convenience and necessity issued by the Department of Transportation (the DOT). If the DOT altered, amended, modified, suspended or revoked these certificates, it could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business. The Federal Aviation Administration (the FAA) from time to time also issues directives and other regulations relating to the maintenance and operation of aircraft that require material expenditures or operational restrictions by the Company, and which could include the temporary grounding of an entire aircraft type if the FAA identifies design, manufacturing, maintenance or other issues requiring immediate corrective action. FAA requirements cover, among other things, retirement of older aircraft, security measures, collision avoidance systems, airborne windshear avoidance systems, noise abatement and other environmental concerns, aircraft operation and safety and increased inspections and maintenance procedures to be conducted on older aircraft. These FAA directives or requirements could have a material adverse effect on the Company.

In addition, the Company's operations may be adversely impacted due to the existing antiquated air traffic control (ATC) system utilized by the U.S. government. During peak travel periods in certain markets, the current ATC system's inability to handle existing travel demand has led to short-term capacity constraints imposed by government agencies and resulted in delays and disruptions of air traffic. In addition, the current system will not be able to effectively handle projected future air traffic growth. Imposition of these ATC constraints on a long-term basis may have a material adverse effect on our results of operations. Failure to update the ATC system in a timely manner, and the substantial funding requirements of a modernized ATC system that may be imposed on air carriers may have an adverse impact on the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

The airline industry is subject to extensive federal, state and local taxes and fees that increase the cost of the Company's operations. In addition to taxes and fees that the Company is currently subject to, proposed taxes and fees are currently pending and if imposed, would increase the Company's operating expenses.

Access to landing and take-off rights, or slots, at several major U.S. airports and many foreign airports served by the Company are, or recently have been, subject to government regulation. Certain of the Company's major hubs are among increasingly congested airports in the United States and have been or could be the subject of regulatory action that might limit the number of flights and/or increase costs of operations at certain times or throughout the day. The FAA may limit the Company's airport access by limiting the number of departure and arrival slots at high density traffic airports, which could affect the Company's ownership and transfer rights, and local airport authorities may have the ability to control access to certain facilities or the cost of access to its facilities, which could have an adverse effect on the Company's business. In addition, in 2008, the FAA planned to withdraw and auction a certain number of slots held by airlines at the three primary New York area airports, which the airlines challenged and the FAA terminated in 2009. If the FAA were to plan another auction that survived legal challenge by the airlines, the Company could incur substantial costs to obtain such slots. Further, the Company's operating costs at airports at which it operates, including the Company's major hubs, may increase significantly because of capital improvements at such airports that the Company may be required to fund, directly or indirectly. In some circumstances, such costs could be imposed by the relevant airport authority without the Company's approval and may have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition.

The ability of U.S. carriers to operate international routes is subject to change because the applicable arrangements between the United States and foreign governments may be amended from time to time, or because appropriate slots or facilities may not be made available. The Company currently operates on a number of international routes under government arrangements that limit the number of carriers permitted to operate on the route, the capacity of the carriers providing services on the route, or the number of carriers allowed access to particular airports. If an open skies policy were to be adopted for any of these routes, such an event could have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial position and results of operations and could result in the impairment of material amounts of related tangible and intangible assets. In addition, competition from revenue-sharing joint ventures and other alliance arrangements by and among other airlines could impair the value of the Company's business and assets on the open skies routes.

The Company's plans to enter into or expand U.S. antitrust immunized alliances and joint ventures on various international routes are subject to receipt of approvals from applicable U.S. federal authorities and obtaining other applicable foreign government clearances or satisfying the necessary applicable regulatory requirements. There can be no assurance that such approvals and clearances will be granted or continued in effect upon further regulatory review or that changes in regulatory requirements or standards can be satisfied.

Many aspects of the Company's operations are also subject to increasingly stringent federal, state, local and international laws protecting the environment. Future environmental regulatory developments, such as climate change regulations in the United States and abroad could adversely affect operations and increase operating costs in the airline industry. There are certain climate change laws and regulations that have already gone into effect and that apply to the Company, including the European Union Emissions Trading Scheme (subject to legal challenge), the State of California's cap and trade regulations, environmental taxes for certain international flights, limited greenhouse gas reporting requirements and land-use planning laws which could apply to airports and could affect airlines in certain circumstances. In addition, there is the potential for additional regulatory actions in regard to the emission of greenhouse gases by the aviation industry. The precise nature of future requirements and their applicability to the Company are difficult to predict, but the financial impact to the Company and the aviation industry would likely be adverse and could be significant.

See Item 1, Business-Industry Regulation, in the Company's 2010 Annual Report for further information on government regulation impacting the Company.

The issuance of UAL's 8% Contingent Senior Notes could adversely impact the Company's results of operations, liquidity and financial position.

UAL would be obligated under an indenture to issue to the Pension Benefit Guarantee Corporation (PBGC) up to $500 million aggregate principal amount of 8% Contingent Senior Notes (the 8% Notes) if certain financial triggering events occur. The 8% Notes would be issued in up to eight equal tranches of $62.5 million (with each tranche issued no later than 45 days following the end of any applicable fiscal year). A triggering event occurs when UAL's EBITDAR (as defined in the 8% Notes indenture) exceeds $3.5 billion over the prior twelve months ending June 30 or December 31 of any applicable fiscal year. The twelve-month measurement periods began with the fiscal year ended December 31, 2009 and will end with the fiscal year ending December 31, 2017.

If the issuance of a tranche would cause a default under any other securities then existing, UAL may satisfy its obligations with respect to such tranche by issuing UAL common stock having a market value equal to $62.5 million. Each issued tranche will mature 15 years from its respective triggering event date, with interest payable in cash in semi-annual installments, and will be callable, at UAL's option, at any time at par, plus accrued and unpaid interest. Because Continental's EBITDAR will be included in the calculation for periods subsequent to the closing of the merger, the merger increases the likelihood that all or a portion of the 8% Notes will be issued, as well as the likelihood that the timing of any such issuances would be accelerated.

As of June 30, 2011, a triggering event occurred under the 8% Notes indenture and, as a result, UAL is obligated to issue one tranche of $62.5 million of the 8% Notes to the PBGC no later than February 14, 2012. This is the first such tranche of 8% Notes to be issued by UAL under the 8% Notes indenture. Because the issuance of subsequent tranches of the 8% Notes is based upon future operating results, UAL cannot predict whether future issuances will occur or the timing of any such issuances. The first issuance and any future issuances of the 8% Notes could adversely impact the Company's results of operations because of increased charges to earnings for the principal amount of the notes issued and increased interest expense related to the 8% Notes. Issuance of such notes could adversely impact the Company's liquidity due to increased cash required to meet interest and principal payments.
