PRUDENTIAL PLC APPOINTS NEW SENIOR INDEPENDENT DIRECTOR

PHILIP REMNANT CBE TO JOIN BOARD OF PRUDENTIAL ON 1 JANUARY 2013

Prudential plc (Prudential) today announces that Philip John Remnant CBE ACA is to join the Board as an independent non-executive director and the Senior Independent Director on 1 January 2013. Mr Remnant, 57, takes the role previously held by Paul Manduca until he became Chairman earlier this year. He brings to the position high-level experience from the financial services industry and from a number of senior public service roles. He will join the Nomination, Audit and Remuneration Committees.

Mr Remnant is currently a senior adviser at Credit Suisse, a Deputy Chairman of the Takeover Panel, a non-executive director of UK Financial Investments Limited and Chairman of City of London Investment Trust plc. His prior experience includes two spells as Director General of the Takeover Panel as well as being a Vice Chairman of Credit Suisse First Boston Europe and Head of the UK Investment Banking Department. In 2011 he was made a CBE for services to the financial services industry and the public sector.

Commenting on the appointment, Paul Manduca, Chairman of Prudential, said:

I am delighted to welcome Philip to Prudential. He brings a wealth of experience of financial services at the highest level, a deep understanding of the needs of shareholders and a terrific record of public service. He adds to the strength of our Board as we meet the opportunities created by our continued profitable growth and the challenges of the still uncertain global macroeconomic climate.

Forward-Looking Statements

This document may contain forward-looking statements with respect to certain of Prudential's plans and its goals and expectations relating to its future financial condition, performance, results, strategy and objectives. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about Prudential's beliefs and expectations, are forward-looking statements. These statements are based on plans, estimates and projections as at the time they are made, and therefore undue reliance should not be placed on them. By their nature, all forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty. A number of important factors could cause Prudential's actual future financial condition or performance or other indicated results to differ materially from those indicated in any forward-looking statement. Such factors include, but are not limited to, future market conditions, fluctuations in interest rates and exchange rates, and the performance of financial markets generally; the policies and actions of regulatory authorities, including, for example, new government initiatives related to the financial crisis and the effect of the European Union's Solvency II requirements on Prudential's capital maintenance requirements; the impact of competition, inflation, and deflation; experience in particular with regard to mortality and morbidity trends, lapse rates and policy renewal rates; the timing, impact and other uncertainties of future acquisitions or combinations within relevant industries; the impact of changes in capital, solvency standards or accounting standards, and tax and other legislation and regulations in the jurisdictions in which Prudential and its affiliates operate; and the impact of legal actions and disputes. These and other important factors may, for example, result in changes to assumptions used for determining results of operations or re-estimations of reserves for future policy benefits. Further discussion of these and other important factors that could cause Prudential's actual future financial condition or performance or other indicated results to differ, possibly materially, from those anticipated in Prudential's forward-looking statements can be found under the Risk Factors heading in the Annual Report and the Risk Factors heading of Prudential's most recent annual report on Form 20-F filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, as well as under the Risk Factors heading of any subsequent Prudential Half Year Financial Report. Prudential's most recent Annual Report, Form 20-F and any subsequent Half Year Financial Report are/will be available on its website at www.prudential.co.uk.

Any forward-looking statements contained in this document speak only as of the date on which they are made. Prudential expressly disclaims any obligation to update the forward-looking statements contained in this document or any other forward-looking statements it may make, whether as a result of future events, new information or otherwise, except as required pursuant to the UK Prospectus Rules, the UK Listing Rules, the UK Disclosure and Transparency Rules, the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the SGX-ST listing rules or other applicable laws and regulations.
