The following changes are effective as of March 17, 2017:

WisdomTree Strong Dollar U.S. Equity Fund:

The second and third paragraphs in the section of the Prospectuses entitled Principal Investment Strategies of the Funds are hereby deleted and replaced with the following:

The Index consists of equity securities of U.S. companies that derive more than 80% of their revenue from the United States. Companies in the Index are incorporated and headquartered in the United States, and have positive cumulative earnings over the four fiscal quarters preceding the annual reconstitution date. To be eligible for inclusion in the Index a company must meet the following criteria: (i) market capitalization of at least $5 billion as of the Index screening date; (ii) average daily dollar volume of at least $200,000 for the six months preceding the Index screening date; and (iii) a calculated volume factor (the average daily dollar volume for the three months preceding the Index screening date divided by the preliminary weight of the security in the Index) greater than $200 million. For these purposes, a company's preliminary weight is determined by applying the weighting scheme described below to all of the companies eligible for inclusion in the Index before taking into account their calculated volume factors.

Edgar Filing: WisdomTree Trust - Form 497

The Index is a modified earnings stream weighted index. The earnings for each company are adjusted based on the percent of revenue from within the United States. The maximum weight of any individual security is capped at 5%. In addition, the maximum weight of any one sector in the Index, at the time of the Index's annual screening date, is capped at 25%; however, the real estate and utilities sectors are each capped at 5%. These sector weights may fluctuate above the specified cap in response to market conditions and/or the application of volume factor adjustments. If a component security no longer meets applicable trading volume thresholds as of the annual Index screening date, the Index methodology applies a volume factor adjustment to reduce such component security's weight in the Index and reallocates the reduction in the weight pro rata among the other remaining securities.

The third sentence in the fourth paragraph of the section of the Prospectuses entitled "Principal Investment Strategies of the Funds" is hereby deleted.

WisdomTree Weak Dollar U.S. Equity Fund:

The last sentence of the fourth paragraph in the section of the Prospectuses entitled "Principal Investment Strategies of the Funds" is hereby deleted and replaced with the following:

As of March 13, 2017, a significant portion of the Index is comprised of companies in the information technology, health care and consumer staples sectors.

The following risks are hereby added to the section of the Prospectuses entitled "Principal Risks of Investing in the Fund":

Consumer Staples Sector Risk. The consumer staples sector consists of, for example, companies whose primary lines of business are food, beverage and other household items. This sector can be affected by, among other things, changes in price and availability of underlying commodities, rising energy prices and global economic conditions. Unlike the consumer discretionary sector, companies in the consumer staples sector have historically been characterized as non-cyclical in nature and therefore less volatile in times of change.

Health Care Sector Risk. The Fund currently invests a significant portion of its assets in the health care sector. This sector can be significantly affected by, among other things, lapsing patent protection, technological developments that make drugs obsolete, government regulation, price controls, and approvals for drugs.

The following risks are hereby added to the section of the Statutory Prospectus entitled "Additional Principal Risk Information about the Funds - Sector Risks":

Consumer Staples Sector Risk
