ITEM 5.02 CHANGE IN OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

On February 12, 2014, the Company accepted the resignation of David Rzepnicki from the Board of Directors. Mr. Rzepnicki had no disagreements with management or the Company related to operations, policies or practices.

To fill the vacancy left by Mr. Rzepnicki's resignation, the remaining board members appointed Jamen Shively to fill the remainder of the term, which expires at the next annual meeting of shareholders.

Jamen Shively, age 45, has a background in engineering and marketing, with specialties in artificial intelligence, the modeling and optimization of complex networks, and the creation and positioning of new categories of products and services. Jamen founded Diego Pellicer Inc. in 2012, and built the brand from zero to the #1 most recognized brand of cannabis in the world in less than one year. Prior to founding Diego Pellicer, Jamen worked for Microsoft from 2003 - 2009 as the Corporate Strategy Manager, where he focused on the creation and development of new categories of software products and online services. During this time, Jamen also founded and headed the online marketplace for the specialty food industry, Findood, winning first place in the Northwest Entrepreneur Network's First Look Forum Competition for the top new startup in 2010. Prior to 2003, he headed Shively International Inc., which built and operated both cybercafés and educational computer centers in Mexico. Before founding Shively International, he worked for Cemex in Mexico and was the designer of the Tactical System for Cemex, which, using an artificial intelligence technology which Jamen developed, determines the optimal production and distribution plan for all of Cemex cement products worldwide. Just prior to founding Diego Pellicer Inc., Jamen completed his undergraduate work at U.C. Berkeley in Civil Engineering, and did graduate work at M.I.T. and U.C. Berkeley in Civil Engineering and Materials Science. He is a Fellow of the National Science Foundation.
