ALTANA Has Withdrawn the EU Marketing Authorisation Application for Daxas

Bad Homburg, November 15, 2005 ALTANA (NYSE: AAA; FSE: ALT) today announced that it has withdrawn the European Marketing Authorisation Application (MAA) for Daxas[®] (roflumilast).

ALTANA Pharma has taken this decision after consulting with the EMEA today. The submission of a new MAA will be pursued, after further clinical data are available.

ALTANA Pharma is committed to continue the development of Daxas[®] and will pursue further clinical studies to strengthen the anti-inflammatory product profile and possible market potential of Daxas[®].

The phosphodiesterase4 (PDE4)-inhibitor Daxas[®] (roflumilast) is an oral investigational, steroid free anti-inflammatory agent being studied for the treatment of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) and asthma.

This press release contains forward-looking statements, i.e., current estimates or expectations of future events or future results such as the expected submission of a new MAA for Daxas and expected further clinical data. These statements are based on beliefs of ALTANA's management as well as assumptions made by and information currently available to ALTANA. Many factors that ALTANA is unable to predict with accuracy could cause ALTANA's actual results to be materially different from those that may be expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made. ALTANA does not intend, and does not assume any obligation, to update forward-looking statements to reflect facts, circumstances or events that have occurred or changed after such statements have been made.
