SHAREHOLDER LETTER

YOUR FUND'S GOAL: TEMPLETON EMERGING MARKETS FUND SEEKS LONG-TERM CAPITAL APPRECIATION BY INVESTING PRIMARILY IN EMERGING COUNTRY EQUITY SECURITIES.

Dear Shareholder:

This semiannual report for Templeton Emerging Markets Fund covers the period ended February 28, 2002. The global macroeconomic environment throughout the six months under review was extremely challenging. During the first half of the period, this was reflected in severe market volatility worldwide and falling equity valuations in many markets. However, the latter half saw many stock markets rebound as investors reevaluated their portfolios and began accumulating shares trading at attractive valuations.

Several characteristics marked the period, including stalled U.S. economic growth, continued economic anemia in Japan, Argentina's political and economic upheaval, China's entry into the World Trade Organization (WTO), weak demand for technology-related products worldwide (especially in the telecommunications and PC industries), and the September terrorist attacks in the U.S. and military action in Afghanistan. These factors contributed to a high degree of investor uncertainty for developed and emerging markets.

The dollar value, number of shares or principal value, and complete legal titles of all portfolio holdings are listed in the Fund's Statement of Investments (SOI). The SOI begins on page 11.

"MOST ASIAN ECONOMIES BENEFITED FROM LOWER U.S. INTEREST RATES AND IMPROVING REGIONAL COOPERATION INITIATIVES. ..."

However, market expectations for a U.S. recovery in 2002 and repeated interest rates cuts by the U.S. Federal Reserve Board led to some recuperation in many markets during the final quarter of 2001, continuing into early 2002.

Most Asian economies benefited from lower U.S. interest rates and improving regional cooperation initiatives, and we believe a gradual recovery, along with active reforms and restructuring, could increase domestic demand as well. For the six months ended February 28, 2002, the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) South Korea Index increased 55.41%, as the country recorded higher growth than its Asian neighbors, and technology-related stocks experienced substantial price increases as investors returned to the sector after the 2000 technology crash. 1 Taiwan's stock market benefited from the island's acceptance into the WTO, investors seeking to take advantage of relatively cheap technology stocks, and Taiwan's stabilizing political situation as President Chen Shui-bian's Democratic Progressive Party replaced the Kuomintang as the largest party in the legislature. In China, the nation's accession into the WTO, its successful bid to host the 2008 Olympic Games and the mainland market's opening up led foreign direct investment into the country to increase 14.9% in 2001 compared with 2000. 2 In addition, China's rapid economic growth further attracted investors.

During the six months under review, Argentina's economic uncertainty affected most Latin American equity markets. We believe de la Rúa's resignation and the installation of a new government should allow the country to work toward solving its problems rather than prolonging them. Longer term, we expect the new government to focus on reviving the economy as a whole. In Brazil, presidential elections scheduled for this year may divert attention from the implementation of needed reforms; however, we believe Brazil will continue working on achieving long-term economic recovery and attracting foreign investment. Elsewhere in the region, Mexico's sovereign debt was upgraded to investment-grade status, clearly underlining the country's financial and economic stability.

As a region, Eastern Europe was the strongest performer, and the MSCI Emerging Markets Eastern Europe Index gained 21.17% for the six-month period ended February 28, 2002. Eastern Europe managed to remain relatively unscathed by the slowing U.S. economy, which gripped Asia and Latin America. In addition, aspirations of convergence to European Monetary Union (EMU) standards pushed most markets to strive for positive change. In our opinion, Poland is one of the region's most interesting countries because its solid economic fundamentals, high foreign reserves and reforms resulting from its anticipated accession into the EMU combine to make it an attractive place to invest. In Poland's recent elections, the Democratic Left Alliance emerged victorious and formed a coalition government with the Polish Peasant Party and the Labor Union to establish a majority position. In our opinion, such an agreement could lead to more stability and greater power to implement policy changes. In Turkey, we believe increasing cooperation with the U.S. in the war against terrorism could be working in its favor. Additionally, the International Monetary Fund approved US$16 billion stand-by credit for the nation. We believe that Turkey's growing importance to the western world should provide it with much-needed support to pull itself out of an economic crisis.

Finally, on the African continent, expansionary fiscal policies in the form of lower taxes and increased government investment could help South Africa's gross domestic product growth remain higher than the global average. In addition, a strengthening economy should further support the country's recovery. In our opinion, South Africa's market is highly regarded because of its sound judicial and regulatory structures, as well as the adherence of the listed companies to accepted codes of corporate governance.

Within this environment, the MSCI Emerging Markets Free Index returned 12.45% in U.S. dollar terms for the six months ended February 28, 2002. ⁴ During the same time, Templeton Emerging Markets Fund posted a +4.52% cumulative total return in market-price terms and +15.28% in net asset value terms, as shown in the Performance Summary on page 8. We attribute the Fund's performance largely to our fundamental investment approach, focusing on companies and not on top-down analysis of economies or sectors.

We increased our Asian exposure during the reporting period, as we believe Asian economies stand to benefit from growing demand for exports. During the period, we made substantial purchases in Taiwan. The technology crash and reduced export demand for electronics, especially from the U.S., led many share prices to fall substantially, and the Fund increased its exposure to what we consider strong companies with superior technology at attractive prices. We increased our holdings in China Red Chip companies, as we believe many of them are well-positioned to benefit from China's accession into the WTO and the subsequent implementation of reforms. We also added a number of what we believed were attractively priced South Korean stocks, which in our opinion combine solid technological and production expertise with improving financial management skills and attractive valuations.

In Latin America, the Fund's exposure to Mexico was decreased as a general economic slowdown impacted corporate earnings. During the six-month period, we found several Mexican stocks trading at what we believed were attractive valuations. We increased our Brazilian exposure, as we believe that Brazil's improving trade and fiscal accounts combined with moderate impact from Argentina's situation could allow the country to benefit from greater capital inflows. During the reporting period, the Fund's exposure to South Africa fell slightly due to the country's weakening currency. Over the long-term, however, we believe the Fund should benefit from its South African holdings, and as a result we made some additional purchases during the period. The uncertainty over the Middle East peace process and the technology sector correction provided us with an attractive entry point into Israel, in our opinion, and we took the opportunity to purchase shares of companies trading at what were in our view appealing valuations. Furthermore, we expect the Fund to benefit over the long term from its investments in Turkey.

Due to the portfolio activity mentioned above and changes in value of individual stocks during the reporting period, Mexico's Cemex and Telmex and Hong Kong's Cheung Kong Holdings fell out of the Fund's top 10 list. Poland's PKN, Turkey's Akbank and Brazil's Centrais Eletricas Brasileiras replaced them as of February 28, 2002.

Looking forward, we are optimistic about the long-term prospects for emerging markets in general and for Templeton Emerging Markets Fund. Repeated interest rate cuts by the U.S. Federal Reserve Board helped many markets. Many observers expect the U.S. economy to recover in the second half of 2002, and we are already seeing signs of a pick-up in a number of markets where we have investments. Recent reports indicate a gradual recovery of semiconductor prices and improving profit margins in cyclical industries, which we expect to continue. We believe that the discipline imposed by our bottom-up, value orientation has guided us well, and we expect this strategy to bring long-term benefits to our shareholders.

It is important to note that investing in foreign securities involves special risks, such as adverse economic, social and political developments in the countries where the Fund invests, as well as market and currency volatility. Emerging markets securities involve heightened risks related to the same factors, in addition to those associated with their relatively small size and lesser liquidity. Investing in any emerging market means accepting a certain amount of volatility and, in some cases, the consequences of severe market corrections. For example, Hong Kong's equity market has increased 491% in the last 15 calendar years, but has suffered 12 quarterly declines of more than 15% each during that time. 5 While short-term volatility can be disconcerting, declines exceeding 50% are not unusual in emerging markets.

Notes to Financial Statements (unaudited)

1. ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Templeton Emerging Markets Fund, Inc. (the Fund) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a closed-end, diversified investment company. The Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation by investing mainly in emerging country equity securities. The following summarizes the Fund's significant accounting policies.

A. SECURITY VALUATION

Securities listed or traded on a recognized national exchange or NASDAQ are valued at the latest reported sales price. Over-the-counter securities and listed securities for which no sale is reported are valued within the range of the latest quoted bid and asked prices. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at fair value as determined by management in accordance with procedures established by the Board of Directors.

B. FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSLATION

Portfolio securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars based on the exchange rate of such currencies against U.S. dollars on the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of securities and income items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate in effect on the transaction date.

The Fund does not separately report the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates from changes in market prices on securities held. Such changes are included in net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the recorded amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in foreign exchange rates on foreign denominated assets and liabilities other than investments in securities held at the end of the reporting period.

C. FOREIGN CURRENCY CONTRACTS

When the Fund purchases or sells foreign securities it may enter into foreign exchange contracts to minimize foreign exchange risk from the trade date to the settlement date of the transactions. A foreign exchange contract is an agreement between two parties to exchange different currencies at an agreed upon exchange rate on a specified date. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in the Statement of Operations.

The risks of these contracts include movement in the values of the foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar and the possible inability of the counterparties to fulfill their obligations under the contracts.

D. INCOME TAXES

No provision has been made for income taxes because the Fund's policy is to qualify as a regulated investment company under the Internal Revenue Code and to distribute all of its taxable income.

1. ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONT.)

E. SECURITY TRANSACTIONS, INVESTMENT INCOME, EXPENSES AND DISTRIBUTIONS

Security transactions are accounted for on trade date. Realized gains and losses on security transactions are determined on a specific identification basis. Certain income from foreign securities is recorded as soon as information is available to the Fund. Interest income and estimated expenses are accrued daily. Dividend income and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

F. ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Edgar Filing: TEMPLETON EMERGING MARKETS FUND INC - Form N-30D

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the amounts of income and expense during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

2. CAPITAL SHARES

On November 29, 2000, the Board of Directors of the Fund authorized management to implement an open-market share repurchase program pursuant to which the Fund may purchase, from time to time, shares of the Fund's common stock in open-market transactions, at the discretion of management.

At February 28, 2002, there were 30 million shares authorized ($0.01 par value). During the period ended February 28, 2002 and the year ended August 31, 2001, there were no share transactions.

3. TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES AND RELATED PARTIES

Certain officers of the Fund are also officers or directors of Templeton Asset Management Ltd. (TAML) and Franklin Templeton Services, LLC (FT Services), the Fund's investment manager and administrative manager, respectively.

The Fund pays an investment management fee to TAML of 1.25% per year of the Fund's average daily net assets. Management fees were reduced on assets invested in the Franklin Institutional Fiduciary Trust Money Market Portfolio (the Sweep Money Fund) in an amount not to exceed the management fees paid by the Sweep Money Fund. The Fund pays an administrative fee monthly to FT Services at an annual rate of 0.15% per year of the Fund's average daily net assets.

4. INCOME TAXES

At February 28, 2002, the cost of investments and net unrealized depreciation for income tax purposes were as follows:

Cost of investments	$159,453,876

Unrealized appreciation	18,651,656
Unrealized depreciation	(19,872,372)

Net unrealized depreciation	$ (1,220,716)

Net investment income and net realized capital gains differ for financial statement and tax purposes primarily due to differing treatments of passive foreign investment companies, wash sales, foreign currency transactions and losses realized subsequent to October 31 on the sale of securities and foreign currencies.

At August 31, 2001, the Fund had deferred capital and currency losses occurring subsequent to October 31, 2000 of $25,355,976 and $299,663 respectively. For tax purposes, such losses will be reflected in the year ending August 31, 2002.

At August 31, 2001, the Fund had tax basis capital losses which may be carried over to offset future capital gains. Such losses expire as follows:

Capital loss carryovers expiring in:
2008	$1,056,614
2009	2,373,131

	$3,429,745

5. INVESTMENT TRANSACTIONS

Purchases and sales of securities (excluding short-term securities) for the period ended February 28, 2002 aggregated $68,039,128 and $45,727,722, respectively.

TEMPLETON EMERGING MARKETS FUND, INC.
Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan

The Fund offers a Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan (the "Plan") with the following features:

Shareholders must affirmatively elect to participate in the Plan; Stock dividends and capital gains distributions will be reinvested automatically; Mellon Investor Services LLC, P.O. Box 3338, South Hackensack, NJ 07606-1938, will provide additional Plan information upon request.

Whenever the Fund declares dividends in either cash or common stock of the Fund, if the market price is equal to or exceeds net asset value at the valuation date, the participant will receive the dividends entirely in stock at a price equal to the net asset value, but not less than 95% of the then current market price of the Fund's shares. If the market price is lower than net asset value or if dividends and/or capital gains distributions are payable only in cash, the participant will receive shares purchased on the New York Stock Exchange or otherwise on the open market.

A participant has the option of submitting additional payments to Mellon Securities Trust Company (the "Plan Agent"), in any amounts of at least $100, up to a maximum of $5,000 per month, for the purchase of Fund shares for his or her account. These payments shall be made by check or money order payable to "Mellon Securities Trust Company" and sent to Mellon Investor Services LLC, P.O. Box 382009, Pittsburgh, PA 15250-8009, Attn: Templeton Emerging Markets Fund, Inc. The Plan Agent shall apply such payments (less a $5.00 service charge and less a pro rata share of trading fees) to purchases of the Fund's shares on the open market.

The automatic reinvestment of dividends and/or capital gains does not relieve the participant of any income tax that may be payable on dividends or distributions.

The participant may withdraw from the Plan without penalty at any time by written notice to the Plan Agent sent to Mellon Investor Services LLC, P.O. Box 3338, South Hackensack, NJ 07606-1938. Upon withdrawal, the participant will receive, without charge, stock certificates issued in the participant's name for all full shares held by the Plan Agent; or, if the participant wishes, the Plan Agent will sell the participant's shares and send the proceeds, less a service charge of $5.00 and less trading fees.

Whenever shares are purchased on the New York Stock Exchange or otherwise on the open market, each participant will pay a pro rata portion of trading fees. Trading fees will be deducted from amounts to be invested.
