Magal Receives an Order of Approximately US$ 4 Million to Protect Gas Pressure Stations

Tuesday July 31, 6:42 am ET

YAHUD, Israel, July 31 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Magal Security Systems, Ltd. (NASDAQ GM: MAGS; TASE: MAGS), today announced that it recently received an order for a turnkey project of approximately US$4 million from one of the leading oil and gas companies in the world, which its headquarters is located in Europe, to protect two gas pressure stations.

This turnkey project includes the company's DTR-2000 Taut Wire Intrusion Detection System with a built-in camera and illuminator, CCTV cameras and the MTC-1500 Thermal Day & Night Surveillance System, all integrated and controlled by Magal's DreamBox system.

DreamBox is a state-of-the-art embedded hardware and software product which in this project integrates intelligent video analysis, digital video recording and a video matrix switcher under its built-in security management system.

Mr. Izhar Dekel, CEO of Magal, said: "This is the second order received in 2007 to protect oil and gas facilities and we see big potential in this market. This order, together with the US$2.0 million order received in February, strengthens our position and broadens our experience as providers of turnkey security solutions to the oil and gas facilities' market."
