ADE CORPORATION

NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Basis of Preparation

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements of ADE Corporation (the "Company") include, in the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting only of normal and recurring adjustments) necessary for a fair statement of the Company's financial position, results of operations and cash flows at the dates and for the periods indicated. Results of operations for interim periods are not necessarily indicative of those to be achieved for full fiscal years.

Pursuant to accounting requirements of the Securities and Exchange Commission applicable to quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, the accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements and these notes do not include all disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. Accordingly, these statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended April 30, 2001.

2. Change in Accounting Principle

In December 1999, the SEC issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements" ("SAB 101"). SAB 101 summarizes certain areas of the Staff's views in applying generally accepted accounting principles to revenue recognition in financial statements. Historically, for some of the Company's sales transactions, a portion of the sales price, usually 10%, was not due until installation occurs and the customer accepts the product. Under SAB 101 and the new accounting method adopted retroactive to May 1, 2000, the Company now defers recognition of the portion of the sales price not due until the customer has accepted the product. Effective during the first quarter of the year ended April 30, 2001, the Company implemented the SEC's SAB 101 guidelines, which was reported as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle as of May 1, 2000. The cumulative effect of the change in accounting principle resulted in a charge to income of $1.8 million (net of income taxes of $0), or $0.13 per share, in the first quarter of fiscal 2001. The results for the three and six months ended October 31, 2000 have been adjusted to reflect the adoption of SAB 101.

3. Comprehensive Income (Loss)

Comprehensive income (loss) was as follows:

	$ 17,575	$ 21,134

6. Earnings (Loss) Per Share

Basic and diluted earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing income (loss) available to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. For the three months ended October 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively, 735,450 and 144,200 common shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options have been excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share, as their effect would have been antidilutive. For the six months ended October 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively, 524,690 and 150,240 common shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options have been excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share, as their effect would have been antidilutive. For the three months ended October 31, 2001 and the six months ended October 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively, basic and diluted loss per share is the same due to the antidilutive effect of potential common shares outstanding.

7. Segment Reporting

The Company has three reportable segments: ADE Semiconductor Systems Group ("SSG"), ADE Phase Shift ("PST") and ADE Technologies ("ATI"). SSG manufactures and markets metrology and inspection systems to the semiconductor wafer and device manufacturing industries that are used to improve yield and capital productivity. Sales of the Company's stand-alone software products and software consulting services are also included in the SSG segment. PST manufactures and markets high performance, non-contact surface metrology equipment using advanced interferometric technology that provides enhanced yield management to the data storage, semiconductor and optics industries. ATI manufactures and markets high precision magnetic characterization and non-contact dimensional metrology gaging systems primarily to the data storage industry.

Edgar Filing: ADE CORP - Form 10-Q

The Company's reportable segments are determined based upon the nature of the products, the external customers and customer industries and the sales and distribution methods used to market the products. The Company evaluates performance based upon profit or loss from operations. The Company does not measure the assets allocated to the segments. Management fees representing certain services provided by corporate offices have been allocated to each of the reportable segments based upon the usage of those services by each segment. Additionally, other income (loss), the provision for (benefit from) income taxes and the equity in net earnings (loss) of affiliated companies are not included in segment profitability.

8. New Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141, "Business Combinations" and SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets." SFAS No. 141 requires that all business combinations be accounted for under the purchase method only and that certain acquired intangible assets in a business combination be recognized as assets apart from goodwill. SFAS No. 142 requires that ratable amortization of goodwill be replaced with periodic tests of the goodwill's impairment and that intangible assets other than goodwill be amortized over their useful lives. SFAS No. 141 is effective for all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001 and for all business combinations accounted for by the purchase method for which the date of acquisition is after June 30, 2001. The provisions of SFAS No. 142 will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001, and will thus be adopted by the Company, as required, in fiscal year 2003. The Company is currently assessing the impact of SFAS No. 141 and SFAS No. 142 on its consolidated financial position and results of operations and has not yet determined the impact of this adoption.

In October 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets" effective January 1, 2002. SFAS No. 144 supersedes SFAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed Of" and provides a single accounting model for long-lived assets to be disposed of. The Company is currently assessing the impact of this new statement on its consolidated financial position and results of operations and has not yet determined the impact of this adoption.

9. Income Taxes

The Company has deferred tax assets, which have arisen primarily as a result of operating losses incurred in prior years, as well as other temporary differences between book and tax accounting. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes," requires the establishment of a valuation allowance to reflect the likelihood of the realization of deferred tax assets. As a result of current year operating losses to date, anticipated additional operating losses for the third quarter of 2002, an expected operating loss for fiscal 2002, and uncertainty as to the extent and timing of profitability in future periods, the Company recorded an additional valuation allowance to reserve the remaining deferred tax assets during the three months ended October 31, 2001, resulting in income tax expense of $10.6 million. As of October 31, 2001 the company has a full valuation allowance. As of October 31, 2001, the Company has available unused operating loss carryforwards, which may be applied against future taxable income.

10. Pending Litigation

On October 12, 2000, the Company filed a patent infringement lawsuit against KLA-Tencor (KLA), a competitor, in the U.S. District Court in Delaware. The Company seeks damages and a permanent injunction against further infringement of United States Patent Number 6,118,525, entitled "Wafer Inspection System for Distinguishing Pits and Particles." On November 22, 2000, KLA filed a counterclaim in the United States District Court in Delaware alleging that ADE has infringed three patents owned by KLA. KLA is seeking damages for the alleged patent infringement and a permanent injunction against future infringement. In addition, KLA has asked the District Court for a declaration that United States Patent Number 6,118,525, owned by ADE, is invalid and not infringed by KLA. At this time, the Company cannot predict the outcome or the amount of gain or loss, if any.

ADE CORPORATION

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Introduction

ADE Corporation (the "Company") designs, manufactures, markets and services highly precise, automated measurement, defect detection and handling equipment with current applications in the production of semiconductor wafers, semiconductor devices and computer disks.

The following information should be read in conjunction with the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in this Quarterly Report and the audited consolidated financial statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations contained in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended April 30, 2001.

Forward-Looking Statements

This quarterly report on Form 10-Q contains certain forward-looking statements that are subject to known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed by such statements. Those statements that make reference to the Company's expectations, predictions and anticipations should be considered forward-looking statements. These statements include, but are not limited to, risks and uncertainties associated with the strength of the semiconductor and hard disk markets, wafer pricing and wafer demand, the results of its product development efforts, the success of ADE's product offerings to meet customer needs within the timeframes required by customers in these markets, further increases in backlog, our visibility and the Company's predictions of future financial outcomes. Further information on potential factors that could affect ADE Corporation's business is described in "Other Risks" appearing at the end of this Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and in the Company's reports on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including its Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended April 30, 2001.

Results of Operations

Three Months Ended October 31, 2001 compared to Three Months Ended October 31, 2000

Revenue. Revenue decreased 7% to $21.9 million in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 from $23.7 million in the second quarter of fiscal 2001. Decreased sales of the Company's products in the Semiconductor Systems Group ("SSG") segment reflected a decrease in demand for capital equipment in the semiconductor wafer and device industries as a result of the current severe down cycle. The decrease in revenue in the SSG segment was somewhat offset by an increase in revenue from the ADE Phase Shift ("PST") segment due to industry acceptance and the related shipments of PST's NanoMapper tool. Wafer manufacturer's capital equipment purchases have been focused on advanced industry requirements rather than on capacity expansion, which resulted in technology purchases of the Company's next generation of products. For the three months ended October 31, 2001, 84% of the Company's revenue was derived from the semiconductor industry compared to 88% for the year earlier period. The Company sells its semiconductor products to both wafer and device manufacturers. Historically, the Company's semiconductor revenue has been derived to a greater extent from wafer manufacturers compared to device manufacturers. For the three months ended October 31, 2001, 81% of semiconductor revenue was derived from wafer manufacturers while 19% was derived from device manufacturers compared to 73% and 27%, respectively, for the year earlier period. An increase in short-term chip demand or increases in semiconductor market capital expenditures is expected to impact device manufacturers prior to wafer manufacturers as wafer manufacturers are further down on the overall semiconductor industry supply chain.

The data storage industry has continued to experience extreme pricing pressure, consolidation and excess supply in many data storage market segments, which has resulted in reduced production and capital equipment purchases. Consequently, revenues in each of the metrology product lines that are marketed to the data storage industry by the Company's ADE Technologies ("ATI") segment have decreased in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 compared with the year earlier period. Data storage industry revenue comprised 16% of total revenue for the three months ended October 31, 2001, compared to 12% for the year earlier period.

Edgar Filing: ADE CORP - Form 10-Q

Gross Margin. Gross margin decreased to 37% in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 from 49% in the second quarter of fiscal 2001. The decrease in gross margin was due primarily to the higher volume of shipments of 300mm products in the SSG segment, which carry lower margins in their initial stages than the Company's legacy products. The Company expects these lower margins to continue in the short term due to expected shipments of newer technologies. Also contributing to the decrease in gross margins was a decline in factory utilization during the second quarter of fiscal 2002 due to the decrease in demand for the Company's products. The decrease in gross margins at the SSG and ATI segments was somewhat offset by an increase in the gross margin of the PST segment.

Research and Development. Research and development expense increased $785,000, or 15%, to $6.0 million in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 from $5.2 million in the second quarter of 2001 and increased as a percentage of revenue to 27% compared to 22% in the second quarter of fiscal 2001. The increase in expense resulted primarily from continued investment by the SSG segment to develop its Advanced Flatness System ("AFS") and Advanced Wafer Inspection System ("AWIS") to capitalize on the next wave of worldwide capital spending, which is expected to be focused on 300mm wafer production. Also contributing to the overall increase was an increased investment in research and development at the PST segment. The Company also continues to develop new products for the data storage industry, including those that measure the magnetic properties of materials used in manufacturing disk drives. The Company is committed to continuing its investment in research and development to maintain its position as a technological leader, which may necessitate continued research and development spending at or above current levels.

Marketing and Sales. Marketing and sales expense decreased $733,000, or 17%, to $3.6 million in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 from $4.3 million in the second quarter of 2001 and decreased as a percentage of revenue to 16% from 18% in the second quarter of fiscal 2001. The decreased expense resulted primarily from decreased commissions expense on sales made through internal and external sales representatives. The mix of sales channels through which the Company's products are sold may have a significant impact on the Company's marketing and sales expense and the results in any period may not be indicative of marketing and sales expense for future periods. Also contributing to the decrease in expense was decreased travel and tradeshow expenses during the second quarter of fiscal 2002. The decrease in marketing and sales expense as a percentage of revenue resulted from the decrease in expense during the second quarter of fiscal 2002, partially offset by the decrease in revenue as discussed above.

General and Administrative. General and administrative expense increased $172,000 or 7% to $2.8 million in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 from $2.6 million in the second quarter of fiscal 2001 and increased as a percentage of revenue to 13% from 11% in the second quarter of 2001. Expenses increased primarily due to an increase in legal expenses, which was partially offset by a decrease in recruiting and consulting expenses.

Interest and Other Income, Net. Net interest and other income was $48,000 in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 compared to net interest and other income of $326,000 in the second quarter of fiscal 2001. The decrease in interest and other income resulted primarily from lower interest returns due to lower interest rates during the second quarter of fiscal 2002 compared to the year earlier period.

Income Taxes. There was a provision for income taxes of $10.6 million in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 compared to a provision for income taxes of $64,000 in the second quarter of fiscal 2001. The provision for income taxes in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 consists of an increase in the valuation allowance against the Company's deferred tax assets. The Company has deferred tax assets, which have arisen primarily as a result of operating losses incurred in prior years, as well as other temporary differences between book and tax accounting. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes," requires the establishment of a valuation allowance to reflect the likelihood of the realization of deferred tax assets. As a result of current year operating losses to date, anticipated additional operating losses for the third quarter of 2002, an expected operating loss for fiscal 2002, and uncertainty as to the extent and timing of profitability in future periods, the Company recorded an additional valuation allowance to reserve the remaining deferred tax assets during the three months ended October 31, 2001, resulting in income tax expense of $10.6 million. As of October 31, 2001 the Company has a full valuation allowance. As of October 31, 2001, the Company has available unused operating loss carryforwards, which may be applied against future taxable income.

Equity in Net Earnings (Loss) of Affiliated Companies. Equity in net earnings of affiliated companies was $109,000 in the second quarter of fiscal 2002 compared to equity in earnings of affiliated companies of $304,000 in the second quarter of fiscal 2001. The Company's Japanese affiliate sells primarily to the semiconductor industry and the current period earnings reflect the timing of shipments and the recognition of revenue by the affiliate.

Six Months Ended October 31, 2001 compared to Six Months Ended October 31, 2000

Revenue. Revenue increased 5% to $47.3 million in the six months ended October 31, 2001 from $45.1 million in the year earlier period. Increased sales of the Company's products in the Semiconductor Systems Group ("SSG") and ADE Phase Shift ("PST") segments reflected a higher level of demand for capital equipment in the semiconductor wafer industry during the six months ended October 31, 2001, which was somewhat offset by a decline in demand in the semiconductor device industry. Also contributing to the increase in revenue was the industry acceptance and the related shipments of the PST segment's NanoMapper tool. Currently, the semiconductor industry is in the midst of a severe down cycle. As a result, wafer manufacturers' capital equipment purchases have focused on advanced industry requirements rather than capacity expansion, which has resulted in technology purchases of the Company's next generation of products. For the six months ended October 31, 2001 and 2000, 86% of the Company's revenue was derived from the semiconductor industry. The Company sells its semiconductor products to both wafer and device manufacturers. Historically, the Company's semiconductor revenue has been derived to a greater extent from wafer manufacturers compared to device manufacturers. For the six months ended October 31, 2001, 87% of semiconductor revenue was derived from wafer manufacturers while 13% was derived from device manufacturers compared to 79% and 21%, respectively, for the year earlier period. An increase in short-term chip demand or increases in semiconductor market capital expenditures is expected to impact device manufacturers prior to wafer manufacturers as wafer manufacturers are further down on the overall semiconductor industry supply chain.

The data storage industry has been experiencing extreme pricing pressure, consolidation and excess supply in many data storage market segments, which has resulted in reduced production and capital equipment purchases. Consequently, revenues in each of the metrology product lines that are marketed to the data storage industry by the Company's ADE Technologies ("ATI") segment have decreased in the six months ended October 31, 2001 compared with the year earlier period. Data storage industry revenue comprised 14% of total revenue for the six months ended October 31, 2001 and 2000.

Gross Margin. Gross margin decreased to 39% in the six months ended October 31, 2001 from 49% in the year earlier period. The decrease in gross margin was due primarily to the higher volume of shipments of 300mm products in the SSG segment, which carry lower margins in their initial stages than the Company's legacy products. The Company expects these lower margins to continue in the short term due to expected shipments of newer technologies. Also contributing to the decrease in gross margins was a decline in factory utilization during the second quarter of fiscal 2002 in all of the Company's segments.

Research and Development. Research and development expense increased $1.7 million, or 17%, to $12.1 million in the six months ended October 31, 2001 from $10.3 million in the year earlier period and increased as a percentage of revenue at 26% compared to 23% in the year earlier period. The increase in expense resulted primarily from continued investment by the SSG segment to develop its AFS and AWIS products to capitalize on the next wave of worldwide capital spending, which is expected to be focused on 300mm wafer production. Also contributing to the overall increase was continued investment in research and development at the PST segment. The Company also continues to develop new products for the data storage industry, including those that measure the magnetic properties of materials used in manufacturing disk drives. The Company is committed to continuing its investment in research and development to maintain its position as a technological leader, which may necessitate continued research and development spending at or above current levels.

Marketing and Sales. Marketing and sales expense decreased $1.4 million, or 16%, to $7.1 million in the six months ended October 31, 2001 from $8.5 million in the year earlier period and decreased as a percentage of revenue to 15% from 19% in the year earlier period. The decreased expense resulted primarily from decreased commissions expense on sales made through external sales representatives. The mix of sales channels through which the Company's products are sold may have a significant impact on the Company's marketing and sales expense and the results in any period may not be indicative of marketing and sales expense for future periods. Also contributing to the decrease in expense was decreased payroll expense as well as a decrease in travel and tradeshow expenses during the six months ended October 31, 2001. The decrease in marketing and sales expense as a percentage of revenue resulted both from the increase in revenue and the decrease in expense during the six months ended October 31, 2001 as discussed above.

General and Administrative. General and administrative expense increased $257,000 or 5% to $5.1 million in the six months ended October 31, 2001 from $4.9 million in the year earlier period and remained consistent as a percentage of revenue at 11% compared to the year earlier period. Expenses increased due primarily to an increase in payroll and legal expenses offset by a decrease in recruiting and consulting expenses.

Interest and Other Income, Net. Net interest and other income was $360,000 in the six months ended October 31, 2001 compared to net interest and other income of $665,000 in the year earlier period. The decrease in interest and other income resulted primarily from lower interest returns due to lower interest rates during the six months ended October 31, 2001 compared to the year earlier period.

Edgar Filing: ADE CORP - Form 10-Q

Income Taxes. There was a provision for income taxes of $10.6 million in the six months ended October 31, 2001 compared to a provision for income taxes of $64,000 in the year earlier period. The provision for income taxes in the six months ended October 31, 2001 consists of an increase in the valuation allowance against the Company's deferred tax assets. The Company has deferred tax assets, which have arisen primarily as a result of operating losses incurred in prior years, as well as other temporary differences between book and tax accounting. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes," requires the establishment of a valuation allowance to reflect the likelihood of the realization of deferred tax assets. As a result of current year operating losses to date, anticipated additional operating losses for the third quarter of 2002, an expected operating loss for fiscal 2002, and uncertainty as to the extent and timing of profitability in future periods, the Company recorded an additional valuation allowance to reserve the remaining deferred tax assets during the six months ended October 31, 2001, resulting in income tax expense of $10.6 million. As of October 31, 2001 the Company has a full valuation allowance. As of October 31, 2001, the Company has available unused operating loss carryforwards, which may be applied against future taxable income.

Equity in Net Earnings (Loss) of Affiliated Companies. Equity in net earnings of affiliated companies was $177,000 in the six months ended October 31, 2001 compared to equity in net loss of affiliated companies of $418,000 in the year earlier period. The net earnings from affiliated companies in the six months ended October 31, 2001 compared to the loss in the year earlier period was due primarily to the absence of the losses incurred by the Company's former affiliate, Microspec, which was sold during the first quarter of fiscal 2001. The Company's Japanese affiliate sells primarily to the semiconductor industry and the current period earnings reflect the timing of shipments and the recognition of revenue by the affiliate.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

At October 31, 2001, the Company had $31.2 million in cash and cash equivalents and $61.3 million in working capital. In addition, the Company had $3.4 million in restricted cash used as security for a tax-exempt Industrial Development Bond issued through the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Agency in December 1997. Under the terms of the bond agreement, the Company may substitute a letter of credit in an amount equal to approximately 105% of the outstanding principal balance as collateral for the Company's obligations under the IDB, assuming the Company has the ability to borrow under a credit facility. Such actions would allow the restricted cash balance to be used for general corporate purposes.

Cash provided by operating activities for the six months ended October 31, 2001 was $3.5 million. This amount resulted from net loss of $15.8 million adjusted for non-cash charges of $13.3 million and a $5.9 million net decrease in working capital accounts. Non-cash items consisted primarily of a deferred income tax charge of $10.6 million and $2.8 million of depreciation and amortization. Working capital items consisted primarily of decreases in accounts receivable of $5.2 million, inventories of $4.5 million, accounts payable of $1.0 million and accrued expenses and other current liabilities of $3.6 million, which were offset by an increase in deferred income on sales to affiliate of $0.8 million. The decrease in accounts receivable was due to improved collections in the first six months of fiscal 2002. The decrease in inventory was due to the high volume of shipments during the first six months of fiscal 2002 as well as a decrease in the purchase of raw materials. The decrease in accounts payable was due to the timing of payments and the decrease in inventory purchases. The decrease in accrued expenses and other current liabilities was primarily due to the decrease in deferred revenue and other accrued expenses. The increase in deferred income on sales to affiliate is due to the timing of shipments and revenue recognition by the Company's Japanese affiliate.

Cash used in investing activities was $1.8 million, and consisted primarily of $2.1 million for purchases of fixed assets, which was partially offset by a combined decrease in other assets and restricted cash of $282,000.

Cash provided by financing activities was $323,000, which consisted of $621,000 of aggregate proceeds from the issuance of common stock from the exercise of stock options and stock purchased through the employee stock purchase plan, partially offset by $298,000 in repayments of long-term debt.

The Company expects to meet its near-term working capital needs and capital expenditures primarily through cash generated from operations and its available cash and cash equivalents.

Other Risk Factors

Capital expenditures by semiconductor wafer and device manufacturers historically have been cyclical as they in turn depend upon the current and anticipated demand for integrated circuits. While the semiconductor industry is in the midst of a severe down cycle, it is not clear when semiconductor wafer manufacturers, who account for approximately 75% of the Company's revenue, will be in a position to increase their purchases of capital equipment. The data storage industry has been in a period of oversupply and excess manufacturing capacity for an extended period of time and this has also had an adverse impact on the Company. At October 31, 2001, the Company's backlog was $33.3 million. The Company remains uncertain about when sustained growth in revenue will return. The Company continues to evaluate its cost structure relative to expected revenue and will continue to implement aggressive cost containment measures where necessary.

Furthermore, the Company's success is dependent upon supplying technologically superior products to the marketplace at appropriate times to satisfy customer needs. Product development requires substantial investment and is subject to technological risks. Delays or difficulties in product development or market acceptance of newly developed products could adversely affect the future performance of the Company.

Change in Accounting Principle

In December 1999, the SEC issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements" ("SAB 101"). SAB 101 summarizes certain areas of the Staff's views in applying generally accepted accounting principles to revenue recognition in financial statements. Historically, for some of the Company's sales transactions, a portion of the sales price, usually 10%, was not due until installation occurs and the customer accepts the product. Under SAB 101 and the new accounting method adopted retroactive to May 1, 2000, the Company now defers recognition of the portion of the sales price not due until the customer has accepted the product. Effective during the first quarter of the year ended April 30, 2001, the Company implemented the SEC's SAB 101 guidelines, which was reported as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle as of May 1, 2000. The cumulative effect of the change in accounting principle resulted in a charge to income of $1.8 million (net of income taxes of $0), or $0.13 per share, in the first quarter of fiscal 2001. The results for the three and six months ended October 31, 2000 have been adjusted to reflect the adoption of SAB 101.

New Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141, "Business Combinations" and SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets." SFAS No. 141 requires that all business combinations be accounted for under the purchase method only and that certain acquired intangible assets in a business combination be recognized as assets apart from goodwill. SFAS No. 142 requires that ratable amortization of goodwill be replaced with periodic tests of the goodwill's impairment and that intangible assets other than goodwill be amortized over their useful lives. SFAS No. 141 is effective for all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001 and for all business combinations accounted for by the purchase method for which the date of acquisition is after June 30, 2001. The provisions of SFAS No. 142 will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001, and will thus be adopted by the Company, as required, in fiscal year 2003. The Company is currently assessing the impact of SFAS No. 141 and SFAS No. 142 on its consolidated financial position and results of operations and has not yet determined the impact of this adoption.

In October 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets" effective January 1, 2002. SFAS No. 144 supersedes SFAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed Of" and provides a single accounting model for long-lived assets to be disposed of. The Company is currently assessing the impact of this new statement on its consolidated financial position and results of operations and has not yet determined the impact of this adoption.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

There were no material changes in the Company's exposure to market risk from April 30, 2001.

OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings:

On October 12, 2000, the Company filed a patent infringement lawsuit against KLA-Tencor (KLA), a competitor, in the U.S. District Court in Delaware. The Company seeks damages and a permanent injunction against further infringement upon United States Patent Number 6,118,525, entitled "Wafer Inspection System for Distinguishing Pits and Particles." On November 22, 2000, KLA filed a counterclaim in the United States

District Court in Delaware that ADE has infringed upon three patents owned by KLA. KLA is seeking damages for patent infringement and a permanent injunction against any future infringement activity. In addition, KLA has asked the District Court for a declaration that United States Patent Number 6,118,525, owned by ADE, is invalid and not infringed upon by KLA. At this time, the Company cannot predict the outcome or the amount of gain or loss, if any.
