CRYPTOLOGIC CONTINUES TO OUTPERFORM IN Q2 2003

*Revenue up 22%, netprofit up 27%;
Strong growth momentum continues through global & product expansion*

August 14, 2003 (Toronto, ON) CryptoLogic Inc., a leading software developer to the Internet gaming and e-commerce industries, announced today its financial results for the second quarter and six months ended June 30, 2003. Strong second quarter results exceeded expectations and signify that the company's business continues to build on a solid platform of organic growth, international expansion and new products.

CryptoLogic continues to execute well, and the seasonably strong second quarter was our best performance in the last year and a half, said Lewis Rose, CryptoLogic's President and CEO. We're making meaningful strides in what continues to be a challenging market. At CryptoLogic, we've been focusing on the fundamentals, and diversifying both our products and our geographic markets. Our strategy is paying off with revenue up more than 20% and earnings up more than 25% over last year.

CryptoLogic's second quarter highlights included:

- Strong revenue and earnings performance resulted in diluted earnings per share of $0.21 that surpassed analysts' consensus of $0.15;
- Continued favourable growth in overseas markets with licensees' revenue from international sources rising to approximately 55% in the first half of 2003, up from almost 50% in the first quarter;
- Steady growth in poker and bingo revenue, together on track to exceed 10% of 2003 revenue, up from nil in the second quarter last year; and
- Commenced the application process for listing and trading on the London Stock Exchange to leverage CryptoLogic's strong roster of UK-based customers and operations, and to extend its reach into this favourable international market for online gaming.

Stronger-Than-Expected Q2 Performance (All financial figures are expressed in U.S. dollars) In the second quarter, CryptoLogic surpassed expectations by recording $10.8 million in revenue, net income of $2.6 million and diluted earnings per share of $0.21. This also compared strongly to second quarter results in 2002, in which the company posted revenue of $8.9 million and net income of $2.0 million or $0.16 per diluted share before a non-recurring special charge, and a net loss of $7.8 million or $0.65 per diluted share after the special charge.

CryptoLogic continued to execute well on its strategic imperatives as reflected in the strength of its 2003 second quarter results. This better-than-expected performance was evidence of increased deposits driven by a stabilized base business, increased international penetration with existing and new customers, and marketing initiatives including the continued success of the company's recently introduced poker and bingo products.

Revenue for the six months ended June 30, 2003 increased 12% to $19.7 million compared with $17.6 million in first six months of 2002. In the first six months of 2003, net income improved to $4.4 million or $0.36 per diluted share, versus $4.2 million before the non-recurring special charge or $0.32 per diluted share in the first six months of 2002. After the non-recurring special charge, the company had a net loss of $5.6 million or $0.46 per diluted share in the corresponding 2002 period.

Strengthened Balance Sheet

CryptoLogic continued to strengthen its balance sheet. At June 30, 2003, CryptoLogic had no debt, and a cash position of $58.3 million or $4.74 per diluted share (comprising cash and cash equivalents, and including restricted cash of $7.1 million). The company's working capital was $39.8 million or $3.23 per diluted share. For the second quarter, cash flow from earnings was $3.0 million, compared with negative cash flow of $0.7 million in the comparable 2002 period. Operating cash flow for the second quarter of $15.5 million (2002: $1.3 million) was atypically high due to temporary changes in working capital items, much of which is expected to reverse over the balance of the year.

Customer-Driven Product Growth

In keeping with its market-driven product strategy, CryptoLogic expanded its game suite with more than 10 new choices of the most popular casino games to help licensees attract and retain players and drive organic growth. This brand new bonus pack introduced Single-Deck and Multi-Split Blackjack, an enhanced European Roulette, and an exciting series of new slots including 9-Line slots to give players more chances to win.

CryptoLogic-developed poker and bingo products continued to exceed expectations in the quarter. The company's newest customers, ukbetting plc and Bingo Entertainment, have launched their online poker sites, extending live poker action to millions of Europeans. CryptoLogic's expanding list of brand name poker licensees, through its WagerLogic licensing subsidiary, is enhancing financial results, and extends the company's leading position into the burgeoning online poker market.

Recently-introduced single and private tournament options are further enhancing the marketing draw of its poker solution. The proven performance of the company's centralized poker technology enables CryptoLogic to offer new customers participation in one of the highest traffic and most profitable poker rooms on the Internet.

International Expansion and Diversification

CryptoLogic works with some of the most prominent international names in land-based and online gaming, and continues to pursue attractive global growth prospects that offer immediate revenue-generating opportunities. As a result, revenue generated in the first half of 2003 from licensees' international players has reached approximately 55% of total revenue, up from almost 50% in the first quarter.

London Stock Exchange Listing

During the second quarter, CryptoLogic commenced the application process to list and trade its shares on the London Stock Exchange's Main Market (LSE). A LSE listing would highlight the company's strong international presence, including its UK-based operations and its major UK gaming customers such as William Hill, Littlewoods Gaming, the Ritz Club London Online and ukbetting.

The UK, which has a favourable attitude towards online gaming, represents a key growth market for CryptoLogic. In fact, Britain has started to draft legislation with a view to establishing itself as a leading, world-class regulated and licensed market for online gaming. A UK listing would also extend CryptoLogic's capital market access to a broader global shareholder base in this gaming-friendly jurisdiction. CryptoLogic continues to distinguish itself by seeking and achieving the highest level of transparency and compliance to the most exacting government-regulated standards for online gaming and disclosure requirements in Tier-One jurisdictions and senior stock exchanges around the world.

During the UK listing process, CryptoLogic is unable to provide earnings guidance. The company will re-evaluate its policy on guidance in accordance with UK guidelines and practice.

Outlook

While the first half of 2003 continued a highly positive trend for CryptoLogic, the company continues to operate in a challenging marketplace, particularly with ongoing uncertainty in the U.S. and from increasing competition that will reduce future margins from licensees. CryptoLogic will also continue to invest in key areas of its business – global expansion outside North America, marketing initiatives, new payment options, product development and regulatory efforts – to ensure the sustainability of its forward momentum and long-term growth.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

As at June 30, 2003

(All figures are in U.S. dollars, except where otherwise indicated)

(Unaudited)

These consolidated interim financial statements of CryptoLogic Inc. (the Company) have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles using the same accounting policies as were used for the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2002. This consolidated interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2002, as set out in the 2002 Annual Report.

1. Stock Option Plan

In accordance with the new recommendations adopted in 2002, the Company will continue its existing policy that no compensation cost is recorded on the grant of stock options to employees. Consideration paid by employees on the exercise of stock options is recorded as share capital. However, under the new standard the Company is required to provide additional pro forma disclosures for options granted to employees as if the fair value based accounting method had been used to account for employee stock options.

The fair value of the options granted were made using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using a dividend yield of 0% and the following weighted assumptions.

	2003	2002
Risk-free rate	3.0%	2.0%
Expected volatility	75.0%	100.0%
Expected life of options in years	5.0	5.0

Had compensation expense been determined based on the fair value of the employee stock option awards at the grant dates in accordance with the new recommendations, the Company's net income and earnings per share would have been changed to the following pro-form amounts:

	Three months ending June 30, 2003		Six months ending June 30, 2003		Three months ending June 30, 2002		Six months ending June 30, 2002

2. Special Charge

During the second quarter FY 2002, the Company took a one-time special charge of $10.5 million ($9.9 million on an after tax basis). This charge was comprised of a write-down of investments that were deemed permanently impaired, including the 100% write-down of the Company's investment in SCG Enterprises Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of Sports.com, as well as costs associated with consolidation of the Company's players' support operations, executive management reorganization, and estimated settlement and legal costs.
