On November 23, 2007 the Trans Energy, Inc. Board of Directors announced that it has approved a common share buy-back program to be executed immediately by the company. The program allows Trans Energy to purchase its own shares through brokers or directly from shareholders and will begin immediately. Although the Board allocated a maximum of $500,000 to carry out the program, the company is not obligated to purchase any specific number of outstanding shares. The company will reevaluate the program on an ongoing basis.

Any share purchases made under the program will be funded out of the company's cash reserves. The company does not intend to borrow any funds to finance any purchases. Although the buy-back program is not part of an intended effort to take the company private, given the company's small size management has indicated that it will discuss and evaluate the relative costs and benefits of remaining public in the future.
