CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

Dear Shareholders,

In the first half of 2015, the world economic recovery was slow, the economic growth in China stabilized from slowing down and saw signs of bottoming out, while international oil prices continued to hover at low levels. In view of the challenges from the external environment, staff at all levels of the Company worked hand in hand and took the initiative to adapt to the “New Normal”. We made further progress in our focus on the “Year of Quality and Efficiency” program and achieved notable results.

During the period, the Company moved forward steadily on its oil and gas exploration activities and achieved encouraging results. Positive momentum continued in our exploration activities offshore China. Our construction projects also progressed smoothly with majority of the new projects commencing production ahead of schedule. Our efforts to reduce costs and enhance efficiency in our development and production operations achieved outstanding results and oil and gas production significantly increased year over year. Under the low oil prices environment, the Company was able to maintain its profitability and healthy financial position. All-in cost per BOE was well managed. Meanwhile, the Company maintained a good record in health, safety and environmental protection.

In view of the Company's financial position and in accordance with its dividend policy, the Board of Directors has declared an interim dividend of HK$0.25 per share (tax inclusive) for the first half of 2015.

Looking forward to the second half of the year and beyond, the Company expects the severe operating environment to continue. There is little optimism in the world's macro-economic environment; international oil prices are expected to remain at a low level and competition in China's natural gas market is expected to intensify. We will fortify our confidence about the future, remain steadfast in implementing our established strategy, and pursue high-quality, effective and sustainable development.

We will focus more on economic efficiency. The development of the Company in the future will be driven by both production and economic efficiency instead of only by production volume. We will emphasize economic production volume rather than focus solely on production growth. We will strive to minimize cyclical fluctuations in production profile and enhance our competitiveness during downturn periods.

On overseas development, we will strengthen the concept of "assets management" and balance the relationship between scale and profitability of our assets. We will continue to optimize our asset portfolio and raise the profitability of the overseas assets. At the same time, we will integrate our various resources from a global perspective which cover technologies, talents, management and capital in order to enhance our international profile to a higher level.

Meanwhile, we will continue to treat production safety as the Company's most fundamental value which we will conscientiously pursue. We will continue to strengthen our safety management and to identify and solve hidden safety problems in order to eradicate potential major accidents to ensure our sustainable long-term development.

Dear shareholders, in view of the complicated and volatile external environment, we will closely monitor the international economy and the trend of industry development. We will observe international practices and take an active part in global competition. We will also put in strong efforts to remain at the forefront of the industry, utilize our advantages, establish first class international competitiveness, and continue to create greater value for our shareholders.

CEO'S STATEMENT

Dear Shareholders,

During the first half of 2015, faced with the low international oil prices environment, our staff at all levels have taken proactive steps by making tremendous efforts to reduce costs and enhance efficiency. The concept of efficiency has also been infiltrated into our various operational activities while measures were taken to streamline the management structure and raise the standard of management. As a result of these initiatives, favourable results were achieved during the period: our exploration, development and production activities have maintained stable growth, and major financial indicators remained healthy.

REVIEW OF THE FIRST HALF OF THE YEAR

In the area of exploration, the Company made six new discoveries and drilled 21 successful appraisal wells. In offshore China, the Company made a mid-sized light crude oil discovery in Eastern South China Sea, namely Liuhua 20-2, which is expected to facilitate the joint development with the neighbouring Liuhua 16-2 and Liuhua 23-1 oil and gas structures. The Company also made another mid-sized discovery in Bohai, namely Penglai 20-2.

On development and production, during the first half of the year, net oil and gas production reached 240.1 million BOE, representing a 13.5% increase year over year. With the new projects commencing production, our production volume offshore China increased significantly by 19.1%. The Company also achieved steady production growth overseas, mainly attributable to the Golden Eagle project in the U.K. North Sea which commenced production in the second half of last year, as well as production ramp-up of the Eagle Ford project in the U.S. and the Missan oilfields in Iraq.

Construction of new projects also progressed smoothly. To date, of the seven projects that were planned to commence production this year, five have already commenced production, including Jinzhou 9-3 oilfield comprehensive adjustment, Bozhong 28/34 oilfields comprehensive adjustment, Kenli 10-1 oilfield and Dongfang 1-1 gas field phase one adjustment which all commenced production in the first half of the year, as well as Luda 10-1 oilfield comprehensive adjustment which commenced production in July. Benefitting from our measures to reduce costs and increase efficiency, a number of projects have commenced production earlier than schedule and the respective costs were lower than targeted budget.

With regard to our financial performance, the Company effectively controlled its costs benefitting from our measures to reduce costs and enhance efficiency. Compared to the same period last year, all-in cost per BOE decreased 4.5% year over year to US$41.24, of which operating cost per BOE decreased significantly by 18.5%. The significant decline in international oil prices has however offset the positive impact of the oil and gas production growth. During the period, oil and gas sales revenue was RMB77.03 billion, representing a decline of 34.2% year over year. Net profit was RMB14.73 billion and earnings per share was RMB0.33, representing a decline of 56.1% year over year.

The Company always places health, safety and environmental protection as its top priority. In the first half of the year, by insisting on high standards in these areas, the safety of the staff members and the stability of our production operation were ensured.

OUTLOOK FOR THE SECOND HALF OF THE YEAR

In the second half of the year, facing challenges from the weakness of the global economy and persistently low international oil prices, we will continue to push ahead the “Year of Quality and Efficiency” program, with emphasis on the following areas:

Firstly, to strengthen measures to reduce costs and enhance efficiency. We will strictly control costs, raise the quality and efficiency of our future development and expand our achievements in all areas while maintaining health, safety and environmental protection.

Secondly, to meticulously organize production operation. We will carry out our oil and gas exploration and development by focusing on economic benefits, accelerate the assessment of important exploration targets and advance the integration of exploration and development. We will also maximize our efforts to ensure base production of the existing oil and gas fields, to bring forward new project construction and to ensure that our annual production targets are met.

Thirdly, to enforce a safety culture and ensure safe and stable oil and gas operation. We will be fully prepared for the upcoming typhoon season in the second half of the year offshore China and implement the measures related to typhoon prevention and staff evacuation. We will also strengthen the management of overseas safety and environmental protection and ensure smooth progress of production operations.

We will effectively execute the year’s operational strategy under the guidance of the Company’s growth strategy, proactively deal with the adverse environment of low oil prices and ensure that all annual production and operation targets for the year are achieved.

SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

On 15 July 2015, an emulsion leak from a pipeline was discovered within Nexen's Long Lake operations, located south of Fort McMurray, Alberta. The estimated size of the leak is 5,000 m³ over an area of approximately 16,000 m² mostly within a compacted pipeline corridor. The affected wells were suspended, and Nexen's emergency (i) response plan was activated. Cleanup and site remediation are well underway, guided by an Environmental Protection Order issued by the Alberta Energy Regulator. The Emergency Operations Centre has transitioned to Operations Services, who are managing the K1A recovery program. For Immediate Release

Lowering Costs and Enhancing Efficiency Program Achieved Remarkable Results

Steady Development with Solid Performance in 1H 2015

(Hong Kong, August 26, 2015) - CNOOC Limited (the “Company”, NYSE: CEO, SEHK: 00883, TSX: CNU) today announced its interim results for the six months ended June 30, 2015.

In the first half of the year, the Company ensured spending in exploration in its core area offshore China, and prioritized mature areas and rolling areas to improve utilization of exploration resources. The Company made six new discoveries and drilled 21 successful appraisal wells. In offshore China, the Company made a mid-sized light crude oil discovery in Eastern South China Sea, namely Liuhua 20-2, which is expected to facilitate the joint development with the adjacent Liuhua 16-2 and Liuhua 23-1 oil and gas structures. The Company also made a mid-sized discovery in Bohai, namely Penglai 20-2.

Benefiting from the lowering costs and enhancing efficiency program, of the seven projects scheduled to come on stream in 2015, the Jinzhou 9-3 oilfield comprehensive adjustment, Bozhong 28/34 oilfields comprehensive adjustment, Kenli 10-1 oilfield, Dongfang 1-1 gas field phase one adjustment and Luda 10-1 oilfield comprehensive adjustment have successfully commenced production, and several came on stream ahead of schedule and under budget. The other two new projects are progressing smoothly.

During the period, the Company changed the performance evaluation system to motivate subsidiaries to implement more stringent cost control mechanisms, optimized management mechanisms and conducted special programs to reduce operation costs, and fully utilized the market mechanism to lower the costs of services and supplies. These initiatives allowed the Company to effectively control its costs. The Company's all-in cost was US$41.24 per barrel of oil equivalent (BOE), down 4.5% year-on-year (yoy), while operating cost was US$9.60 per BOE, down 18.5% yoy.

For the first half of the year, the Company's total net oil and gas production reached 240.1 million BOE, up 13.5% yoy, primarily due to the production contribution from newly commenced projects in Bohai and the Eastern South China Sea. Production from offshore China rose by 19.1% yoy to 156.3 million BOE and production from overseas was 83.9 million BOE, up 4.4% yoy. The Company's 2015 full year production target of 475-495 million BOE remains unchanged.

The Company's average realized oil price was US$57.53 per barrel in the first half of 2015, representing a decline of 45.9% yoy, while the average realized natural gas price rose by 1.7% yoy to US$6.55 per thousand cubic feet. Due to the substantial decline in realized oil prices, the Company's oil and gas sales revenue were RMB77.03 billion, representing a decline of 34.2% yoy, and net profit fell 56.1% yoy to RMB14.73 billion.

Mr. Yang Hua, Chairman of the Company, said, "In view of the challenges from the external environment, staff at all levels of the Company worked hand in hand, made further progress in our focus on the "Year of Quality and Efficiency" program and achieved favourable results. We will fortify our confidence about the future, remain steadfast in implementing our established strategy, and pursue high-quality, effective and sustainable development."

Mr. Li Fanrong, CEO of the Company, said, "In the first half of 2015, the Company made tremendous efforts to reduce costs and enhance efficiency. As a result of these initiatives, our exploration, development and production activities have maintained stable growth, and major financial indicators remained healthy. In the second half of the year, we will effectively execute the year's operational strategy under the guidance of the Company's growth strategy, proactively deal with the adverse environment of low oil prices and ensure that all annual production and operation targets for the year are achieved.”

In the first half of the year, the Company’s basic earnings per share reached RMB0.33. The Board has declared an interim dividend of HK$0.25 per share (tax inclusive).
