FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Form 10-Q and the documents incorporated by reference into this Form 10-Q may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. When used in this Form 10-Q, words such as anticipate, believe, estimate, expect, intend, predict, project, and similar expressions, as they relate to us or our management, identify forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements are based on the beliefs of our management as well as assumptions made by us and information currently available to us. These forward-looking statements are subject to certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions, including risks, uncertainties and assumptions related to the following:

Our failure to qualify as a REIT under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended;

Possible adverse changes in tax and environmental laws, as well as the impact of newly adopted accounting principles on our accounting policies and on period-to-period comparison of financial results;

Potential liability for uninsured losses and environmental contamination;

Our properties are illiquid assets;

Factors that could result in the poor operating performance of our properties including tenant defaults and increased costs such as taxes, insurance, utilities and casualty losses that exceed insurance limits;

Changes in market conditions including market interest rates and employment rates;

Our incurrence of debt and use of variable rate and derivative financial instruments;

Our real estate acquisition, redevelopment, development and construction activities;

The geographic concentration of our properties;

Changes in market conditions including capitalization rates applied in real estate acquisitions;

Competition in markets where we have properties;

Our dependence on key personnel whose continued service is not guaranteed;

Changes in our investment, financing and borrowing policies without shareholder approval;

The effect of shares available for future sale on the price of common shares;

Limited ability of shareholders to effect change of control;

Conflicts of interest with management, our board of trustees and joint venture partners could impact business decisions;

Our third-party property management, leasing, development and construction business and related services;

Risks associated with an increase in the frequency and scope of changes in state and local tax laws and increases in the number of state and local tax audits; and

Cost of compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and other similar laws related to our properties.

If one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or if any underlying assumption proves incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those anticipated, expected or projected. Such forward-looking statements reflect our current views with respect to future events and are subject to these and other risks, uncertainties and assumptions relating to our operations, results of operations, growth strategy and liquidity. All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements attributable to us or individuals acting on our behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by this paragraph. A detailed discussion of risks is included, under the caption "Risk Factors" in our Form 10-K, filed on March 15, 2005. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on our forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this Form 10-Q or the date of any document incorporated by reference into this Form 10-Q. We do not undertake any obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Table of Contents1. The OrganizationOrganization*

We are a self-administered and self-managed Maryland REIT that acquires, owns, manages, leases, develops and builds primarily office properties throughout the United States. We are self-administered in that we provide our own administrative services, such as accounting, tax and legal, through our own employees. We are self-managed in that we provide all the management and maintenance services that our properties require through our own employees, such as, property managers, leasing professionals and engineers. We operate principally through our operating partnership, Prentiss Properties Acquisition Partners, L.P., and its subsidiaries, and two management service companies, Prentiss Properties Resources, Inc. and its subsidiaries and Prentiss Properties Management, L.P. The ownership of the operating partnership was as follows at September 30, 2005:

(units in thousands)	Common		Series D Convertible Preferred
	Units	%	Units	%
Prentiss Properties Trust	46,329 ⁽¹⁾	96.27%	2,824	100.00%
Third parties	1,797	3.73%		0.00%
Total	48,126	100.00%	2,824	100.00%

(1) Includes 61,398 common shares held by the company pursuant to a deferred compensation plan. The shares are accounted for as common shares in treasury on our consolidated balance sheet.

As of September 30, 2005, we owned interests in a diversified portfolio of 130 primarily suburban Class A office and suburban industrial properties, the accounts of which were consolidated with and into the operations of our operating partnership.

	Number of Buildings	Net Rentable Square Feet (in thousands)
Office properties	103	16,665
Industrial properties	27	2,203
Total	130	18,868

As of September 30, 2005, our properties were 89% leased to approximately 962 tenants. In addition to managing properties that are wholly owned, we manage approximately 6.9 million net rentable square feet in office, industrial and other properties for third parties.

We have determined that our reportable segments are those that are based on our method of internal reporting, which disaggregates our business by geographic region. As of September 30, 2005, our reportable segments include our five regions (1) Mid-Atlantic; (2) Midwest; (3) Southwest; (4) Northern California; and (5) Southern California.

At September 30, 2005, our properties were located in 11 markets, which were included in our reportable segments as follows:

Reportable Segment	Market
Mid-Atlantic	Metropolitan Washington D.C.
Midwest	Chicago, Suburban Detroit
Southwest	Dallas/Fort Worth, Austin, Denver
Northern California	Oakland, East Bay, Silicon Valley
Southern California	San Diego, Los Angeles

Real Estate Transactions

At the direction of our board of trustees, during the first quarter of 2005, we initiated an analysis of our business strategy with respect to our commercial office real estate holdings in Chicago, Illinois and suburban Detroit, Michigan (our Midwest Region). Our Chicago portfolio consisted of 16 office properties containing approximately 2.4 million square feet and 4 industrial properties containing approximately 682,000 square feet. We own one office property in Detroit, Michigan containing approximately 241,000 square feet. As part of our analysis, Holliday Fenoglio Fowler, L.P. was retained as broker and has been marketing our Chicago and Detroit properties for sale. We have received purchase offers for all of the properties. After evaluating these offers, our board of trustees has unanimously approved our sale of the properties in the Midwest Region. In connection with the board's actions:

Table of Contents

- (1) Pursuant to Statement of Financial Accounting Standards, No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets we classified the properties located within our Midwest Region as properties held for sale. As a result, we recognized an impairment charge of $10.2 million representing the excess of the carrying amount of five of our Chicago properties, containing approximately 322,000 net rentable square feet, over the estimated fair value of the properties, less the cost to sell.
- (2) On September 28, 2005, we completed the sale of one office property containing approximately 541,000 net rentable square feet, (our 123 North Wacker property) located in downtown Chicago to an unrelated third party. The property was sold for gross proceeds of approximately $170.2 million and resulted in a gain on sale of approximately $65.8 million. Proceeds from the sale were placed in escrow pending the completion of Sec. 1031 like-kind asset exchanges. An amount of $133.0 million was immediately released due to an already identified and completed acquisition and was used to repay a portion of the outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility. At September 30, 2005, $37.2 million remained in escrow.

In addition to the properties located within our Midwest Region, on September 30, 2005, we classified one office property containing approximately 101,000 net rentable square feet located in Dallas/Fort Worth, a market within our Southwest Region, as held for sale.

Properties held for sale at September 30, 2005, included 17 office properties containing approximately 2.2 million net rentable square feet and 4 industrial properties containing approximately 682,000 net rentable square feet. The properties along with related assets were classified as Properties and related assets held for sale, net on our September 30, 2005 consolidated balance sheet. Mortgages and notes payable and other liabilities related to the properties held for sale were classified as Mortgages and notes payable related to properties held for sale, and Accounts payable and other liabilities related to properties held for sale, respectively, on our September 30, 2005 consolidated balance sheet.

Properties and related assets held for sale, net, consisted of the following at September 30, 2005:

	September 30, 2005
(in thousands)
Land	$ 49,541
Buildings and improvements	$ 263,583
Less: accumulated depreciation	$ (47,390)

Accounts receivable, net	$ 15,293
Escrowed cash	$ 794
Properties and related assets held for sale, net	$ 321,365

On July 14, 2005, Prentiss Office Investors, L.P., an entity established in January 2004 to acquire office properties in our core markets by our operating partnership and its affiliates which executed a joint venture agreement in February 2004, where Stichting Pensioenfond ABP, an unrelated third party, acquired a 49% limited partnership interest, acquired, from an unrelated third party, an office building with approximately 238,000 net rentable square feet. The property is located in the City Center submarket of the Oakland, California CBD and was acquired for gross proceeds of $40.0 million. Each partner contributed their pro rata share of the cash purchase price less debt assumed by Prentiss Office Investors, L.P. for the acquisition. Amounts contributed from the operating partnership were funded with proceeds from our revolving credit facility. As a part of the transaction, the venture assumed a $25.0 million non-recourse mortgage with a 5.175% interest rate that amortizes on a 30-year amortization schedule and has a maturity date of June 1, 2010.

On August 12, 2005, our operating partnership acquired from an unrelated third party, a two building office complex with approximately 350,000 net rentable square feet. The properties are located in Concord, California and were acquired for gross proceeds of $69.5 million. The acquisition was funded through the issuance of 547,262 common units of our operating partnership valued at $21.2 million and the assumption of a non-recourse mortgage loan valued at $43.4 million, which included a $3.9 million adjustment to fair value, with the balance funded with proceeds from our revolving credit facility. The non-recourse mortgage bears interest at 7.2%, has a 25-year amortization schedule and a maturity date of January 1, 2012. We issued two letters of credit for $6.0 million and $590,000 in connection with the loan assumption in lieu of reserve escrow and tax escrow accounts, respectively.

Other Transactions

On July 14, 2005, we completed a $100.0 million loan collateralized by two office buildings in Tyson's Corner, Virginia. The interest rate is fixed at 4.84% and the monthly payments are interest only until August 10, 2008 at which time it converts to amortizing, on a 30-year amortization schedule, until the maturity date of August 10, 2015. The proceeds were used to repay a portion of the outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility.

On July 26, 2005, we renewed our revolving credit facility, increased its capacity from $375.0 to $400.0 million and obtained an expansion right to $500.0 million. The facility also includes a right to extend the maturity date from July 26, 2008 to July 26, 2009. The interest rate on the facility will fluctuate based on our overall leverage with a range between LIBOR plus 85 basis points and LIBOR plus 135 basis points. The pricing on the renewed facility generally represents a 25 basis point to 30 basis point pricing reduction across the leverage grid and a modification of several covenants to the company's benefit. Except as set forth above, the remaining terms of the revolving credit facility remain substantially unchanged. Banking participants in the revolving credit facility include JP Morgan Chase Bank as Administrative Agent; Bank of America as Syndication Agent; Commerzbank, EuroHypo, Societe General, PNC Bank, Sun Trust, Union Bank of California, Comerica Bank, Mellon Bank, Deutsche Bank, ING Real Estate Finance, US Bank and Wachovia Bank as Lenders.

On July 26, 2005, and August 3, 2005, we modified our $75.0 million unsecured term loan with Commerzbank and our $100.0 million unsecured term loan with EuroHypo, respectively. The modifications were basically the same pricing and covenant changes that were incorporated into our revolving credit facility renewal as discussed above, with the expiration dates remaining unchanged at March 15, 2009 and May 22, 2008, respectively.

On August 1, 2005, using proceeds from our revolving credit facility, we paid off a $45.5 million loan collateralized by a property in Oakland, California. The loan which was scheduled to mature on November 1, 2005 had an interest rate of 8.22%. In accordance with the terms of the loan, there were no prepayment penalties.

On August 2, 2005, we completed the sale of our mortgage note receivable to an unrelated party for total proceeds of $1.0 million. The proceeds were used to repay a portion of the outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility.

At June 30, 2005, we had 3,773,585 shares outstanding of Participating Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Shares of Beneficial Interest, Series D (the Series D Preferred Shares) held by Security Capital Preferred Growth, Incorporated. During the third quarter, pursuant to their rights under the agreement which allows Security Capital Preferred Growth, Incorporated to convert any or all of the Series D Preferred Shares into common shares on a one for one basis, Security Capital Preferred Growth, Incorporated converted 950,000 Series D Preferred Shares into 950,000 common shares. As a result, we have 2,823,585 Series D Preferred Shares outstanding at September 30, 2005. The book value of the shares converted was reclassified from Preferred shares to Common shares and Additional paid-in capital on our consolidated balance sheet.

2. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements are unaudited; however, our financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for interim financial information and the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Accordingly, they do not include all of the disclosures required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for complete financial statements. In our opinion, all adjustments (consisting solely of normal recurring matters) necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements for these interim periods have been included. The December 31, 2004 comparative balance sheet information was derived from audited financial statements. The results for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be obtained for the full fiscal year. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with our audited financial statements, and notes thereto, included in our annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004.

3. Share-Based Compensation

In December 2002, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure. The statement amends Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, expanding disclosure requirements and providing alternative methods of transition for an entity that voluntarily changes to the fair value based method of accounting for stock or share-based employee compensation.

On January 1, 2003, we adopted the fair value based method of accounting as prescribed by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 as amended for our share-based compensation plans, and we elected to apply this method on a prospective basis as prescribed in Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 148. The prospective basis requires that we apply the fair value based method of accounting to all awards granted, modified or settled after the beginning of the fiscal year in which we adopt the accounting method.

Historically, we applied the intrinsic value based method of accounting as prescribed by APB Opinion 25 and related Interpretations in accounting for our share-based awards. Had we fully adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 for awards issued prior to January 1, 2003 it would have changed our method for recognizing the cost of our plans. Had the compensation cost for our share-based compensation plans been determined consistent with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, our net income applicable to common shareholders and net income per common share for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004 would approximate the pro forma amounts below:

4. Earnings per Share

We calculate earnings per share in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 128, Earnings per Share. It is our policy to use the if-converted method to determine how our Series D Convertible Preferred Shares should be included in our earnings per share calculation. However, the Financial Accounting Standards Board believes that the dilutive effect on basic earnings per share of participating convertible securities can not be less than that which would result from the use of the application of the two-class method that would be required if the same security were not convertible. The two-class method is an earnings allocation formula that treats a participating security as having right to earnings that otherwise would have been available to common shareholders. The dilutive effect of applying the if-converted method for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005 results in less dilution than would result from the use of the two-class method; therefore, our earnings per share for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005 is calculated using the earnings allocation method prescribed by the two-class method. As required by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 128, the table below presents a reconciliation of the numerator and denominator used to calculate basic and diluted earnings per share for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 and 2004:

We record the amortization related to deferred leasing costs and tenant improvements and in-place lease values in the line item depreciation and amortization. We record above market lease value amortization in the line item rental income. Amortization for deferred financing cost is recorded in the line item amortization of deferred financing costs, and the amortization for prepaid items is recorded in the line items property operating and maintenance and real estate taxes.

6. Notes Receivable

Our notes receivable balance of $1.5 million at December 31, 2004 is the result of a real estate transaction that included a non-recourse promissory note totaling $4.4 million, collateralized by a real estate property sold, maturing March 1, 2005, bearing interest at 7.95% per annum and requiring interest only payments until maturity. In the preparation of our financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2004, we recognized a $2.9 million write-down of the note. In an effort to reflect our estimate of the realizable value of the note, during the second quarter of 2005, we recognized an additional $500,000 write-down to the note. On August 2, 2005, we completed the sale of our note receivable to an unrelated third party for total proceeds of $1.0 million.

7. Accounts Receivable, Net

Accounts receivable, excluding $15.3 million which is included in Properties and related assets held for sale, net at September 30, 2005, consisted of the following at September 30, 2005 and December 31, 2004:

	(in thousands)
	September 30, 2005	December 31, 2004
Rents and services	$ 10,875	$ 10,449

(1) All of our variable rate loans are based on 30-day LIBOR with the exception of our Prentiss Properties Capital Trust I & II Debentures which are based on 90-day LIBOR. 30-day and 90-day LIBOR were 3.86% and 4.07% at September 30, 2005, respectively.

- (2) The PPREFI portfolio loan is collateralized by 36 properties with an aggregate net book value of real estate of $232.6 million.
- (3) The term loan is collateralized by two properties with an aggregate net book value of real estate of $18.1 million.
- (4) The term loan is collateralized by 9 properties with an aggregate net book value of real estate of $106.2 million.
- (5) Includes $13.5 million related to properties held for sale.
- (6) The variable rate mortgage loans are collateralized by 5 buildings with an aggregate net book value of $84.5 million.

- (7) Includes $20.0 million with an interest rate equal to LIBOR plus 110 basis points relating to properties held for sale.
- (8) Interest rates on our variable rate mortgages range from 30-day LIBOR plus 110 basis points to 30-day LIBOR plus 130 basis points. Maturity dates range from July 2009 through May 2010.
- (9) The fixed rate mortgage loans are collateralized by 27 buildings with an aggregate net book value of $702.2 million
- (10) In connection with our fixed rate mortgages, we have three letters of credit outstanding for $6.0 million, $2.5 million and $590,000. The letters of credit were issued in accordance with loan documents in lieu of establishing escrow accounts with lenders.

- (11) Includes an additional $3.9 million of debt representing the adjustment to record an acquired mortgage loan at fair value on the date of acquisition.
- (12) Includes $88.3 million with interest rates between 6.80% and 8.05% related to properties held for sale.
- (13) The payments on our fixed rate mortgages are based on amortization periods ranging between 18 and 30 years. The effective interest rates for our fixed rate mortgages range from 4.84% to 8.05% with a weighted average effective interest rate of 6.35% at September 30, 2005. Maturity dates range from April 2006 through August 2015 with a weighted average

6.8 years from
September 30,
2005.

Our mortgages and notes payable at September 30, 2005 consisted of $796.6 million of fixed rate, non-recourse, long-term mortgages, $13.6 million of fixed rate, recourse debt and $546.4 million of floating rate debt, $375.0 million of which was hedged at September 30, 2005 with variable to fixed rate hedges.

Table of Contents10. Interest Rate Hedges

In the normal course of business, we are exposed to the effect of interest rate changes. We limit our interest rate risk by following established risk management policies and procedures including the use of derivatives. For interest rate exposures, derivatives are used to hedge against rate movements on our related debt.

To manage interest rate risk, we may employ options, forwards, interest rate swaps, caps and floors or a combination thereof depending on the underlying exposure. We undertake a variety of borrowings from credit facilities, to medium- and long-term financings. To hedge against increases in interest cost, we use interest rate instruments, typically interest rate swaps, to convert a portion of our variable-rate debt to fixed-rate debt.

On the date we enter into a derivative contract, we designate the derivative as a hedge of (a) a forecasted transaction or (b) the variability of cash flows that are to be received or paid in connection with a recognized asset or liability (cash flow hedge). These agreements involve the exchange of amounts based on a variable interest rate for amounts based on fixed interest rates over the life of the agreement based upon a notional amount. The difference to be paid or received as the interest rates change is recognized as an adjustment to interest expense. The related amount payable to or receivable from counterparties is included in accounts payable and other liabilities. Changes in the fair value of a derivative that is highly effective and that is designated and qualifies as a cash flow hedge, to the extent that the hedge is effective, are recorded in other comprehensive income, until earnings are affected by the variability of cash flows of the hedged transaction (e.g. until periodic settlements of a variable-rate asset or liability are recorded in earnings). Any hedge ineffectiveness (which represents the amount by which the changes in the fair value of the derivative exceed the variability in the cash flows of the forecasted transaction) is recorded in current-period earnings. Changes in the fair value of non-hedging instruments are reported in current-period earnings.

We formally document all relationships between hedging instruments and hedged items, as well as our risk-management objective and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. This process includes linking all derivatives that are designated as cash flow hedges to (1) specific assets and liabilities on the balance sheet or (2) specific firm commitments or forecasted transactions. We also formally assess (both at the hedge's inception and on an ongoing basis) whether the derivatives that are used in hedging transactions have been highly effective in offsetting changes in the cash flows of hedged items and whether those derivatives may be expected to remain highly effective in future periods. When it is determined that a derivative is not (or has ceased to be) highly effective as a hedge, we discontinue hedge accounting prospectively, as discussed below.

We discontinue hedge accounting prospectively when (1) we determine that the derivative is no longer effective in offsetting changes in the cash flows of a hedged item (including hedged items such as firm commitments or forecasted transactions); (2) the derivative expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised; (3) it is no longer probable that the forecasted transaction will occur; (4) a hedged firm commitment no longer meets the definition of a firm commitment; or (5) management determines that designating the derivative as a hedging instrument is no longer appropriate.

When we discontinue hedge accounting because it is no longer probable that the forecasted transaction will occur in the originally expected period, the gain or loss on the derivative remains in accumulated other comprehensive income and is reclassified into earnings when the forecasted transaction affects earnings. However, if it is probable that a forecasted transaction will not occur by the end of the originally specified time period or within an additional two-month period of time thereafter, the gains and losses that were accumulated in other comprehensive income will be recognized immediately in earnings. In all situations in which hedge accounting is discontinued and the derivative remains outstanding, we will carry the derivative at its fair value on the balance sheet, recognizing changes in the fair value in current-period earnings.

To determine the fair value of derivative instruments, we use a variety of methods and assumptions that are based on market conditions and risks existing at each balance sheet date. For our derivatives, standard market conventions and techniques such as discounted cash flow analysis, option pricing models, replacement cost, and termination cost are used to determine fair value. All methods of assessing fair value result in a general approximation of value, and such value may never actually be realized.

Over time, the unrealized gains and losses held in accumulated other comprehensive income will be reclassified to earnings. This reclassification is consistent with when the hedged items are recognized in earnings. Within the next twelve months, we expect to reclassify to earnings approximately $2.9 million and $250,000 of unrealized gains and unrealized losses, respectively.

Table of Contents

The following table summarizes the notional values and fair values of our derivative financial instruments at September 30, 2005. The notional value provides an indication of the extent of our involvement in these instruments as of the balance sheet date, but does not represent exposure to credit, interest rate or market risks.

Cash payments made under our interest rate swap agreements exceeded cash receipts from our interest rate swap agreements by $551,000 and $3.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, respectively and

$3.1 million and $8.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

11. Accounts Payable and Other Liabilities

Accounts payable and other liabilities, excluding $14.5 million which is included in Accounts payable and other liabilities related to properties held for sale at September 30, 2005, consisted of the following at September 30, 2005 and December 31, 2004:

	(in thousands)
	September 30, 2005	December 31, 2004
Accrued interest expense	$ 6,148	$ 5,685
Accrued real estate taxes	17,273	28,178

Other liabilities	25,829	36,596
	$ 85,487	$ 105,304

⁽¹⁾ Accumulated amortization for below market lease values as of September 30, 2005 and December 31, 2004 was $3.4 million and $2.0 million, respectively. We record below market lease value amortization in the line item rental income.

12. Distributions

On September 9, 2005, we declared a cash distribution for the third quarter of 2005 in the amount of $0.56 per share, payable on October 7, 2005 to common shareholders of record on September 30, 2005. Additionally, we determined that a distribution of $0.56 per common unit would be made to the partners of the operating partnership and the holders of our Series D Convertible Preferred Shares. The distributions totaling $28.4 million were paid October 7, 2005.

Table of Contents13. Supplemental Disclosure of Non-Cash Activities

During the three months ended September 30, 2005, we declared cash distributions totaling $28.4 million payable to holders of common shares, operating partnership units and Series D Convertible Preferred Shares. The distributions were paid October 7, 2005.

Pursuant to our long-term incentive plan, during the nine months ended September 30, 2005, we issued 110,250 restricted common shares to various key employees. The shares, which had a market value of approximately $3.8 million based upon the per share price on the date of grant, were classified as unearned compensation and recorded in the shareholders' equity section of the consolidated balance sheet. The unearned compensation is amortized quarterly as compensation expense over the three-year vesting period.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2005, common shares in treasury increased $774,000 primarily relating to 27,548 common shares surrendered as payment of the exercise price and statutory withholdings for certain share options exercised during the period.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2005, 84,714 common shares were issued pursuant to the conversion of 84,714 common units of our operating partnership. The common shares had a market value of approximately $3.2 million on the conversion date.

We marked-to-market our investments in securities and our interest rate hedges. During the nine months ended September 30, 2005, we recorded unrealized gains of $5.2 million and unrealized gains of $128,000 on our interest rate hedges and investments in securities, respectively.

In connection with the acquisitions and the consolidation of the Tysons International joint venture during the nine months ended September 30, 2005, we recorded and assumed approximately $68.4 million, $2.5 million, $760,000, and $111,000 of debt, liabilities, receivables, and other assets respectively. Also in connection with the acquisitions we issued 547,262 operating partnership units valued at $21.2 million.

In connection with dispositions during the nine months ended September 30, 2005, we removed approximately $5.8 million and $6.0 million of receivables and liabilities, respectively.

At June 30, 2005, we had 3,773,585 shares outstanding of Participating Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Shares of Beneficial Interest, Series D (the "Series D Preferred Shares") held by Security Capital Preferred Growth, Incorporated. During the third quarter, pursuant to their rights under the agreement which allows Security Capital Preferred Growth, Incorporated to convert any or all of the Series D Preferred Shares into common shares on a one for one basis, Security Capital Preferred Growth, Incorporated converted 950,000 Series D Preferred Shares into 950,000 common shares. As a result, we have 2,823,585 Series D Preferred Shares outstanding at September 30, 2005. The book value of the shares converted was reclassified from Preferred shares to Common shares and Additional paid-in capital on our consolidated balance sheet.

14. Segment Information

The tables below present information about segment assets, our investments in equity method investees, expenditures for additions to long-lived assets and revenues and income from continuing operations used by our chief operating decision maker as of and for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 and 2004:

15. Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board Issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123(R), Share-Based Payment, a revision to Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. The Statement supersedes APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and its related implementation guidance.

The Statement which focuses primarily on accounting for transactions in which an entity obtains employee services in share-based payment transactions, establishes standards for the accounting for transactions in which an entity exchanges its equity instruments for goods or services. It also addresses transactions in which an entity incurs liabilities in exchange for goods or services that are based on the fair value of the entity's equity instruments or that may be settled by the issuance of those equity instruments.

The Statement requires a public entity to measure the cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of equity instruments based on the grant-date fair value of the award (with limited exceptions). That cost will be recognized over the period during which an employee is required to provide service in exchange for the award the requisite service period (usually the vesting period). No compensation cost is recognized for equity instruments for which employees do not render the requisite service.

The Statement, which originally was to take effect the beginning of the first interim or annual reporting period that begins after June 15, 2005 for public entities that do not file as small business issuers, was amended on April 14, 2005. The Securities and Exchange Commission adopted a new rule to amend the compliance dates, which now allows companies to implement the statement at the beginning of their next fiscal year. The Statement is not expected to have a material impact on our financial statements.

In May 2005, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued FASB Statement No. 154, Accounting Changes and Error Corrections, a replacement of APB Opinion No. 20 and FASB Statement No. 3. The Statement provides guidance on the accounting for and reporting of accounting changes and error corrections. It establishes, unless impracticable, retrospective application as the required method for reporting a change in accounting principle in the absence of explicit transition requirements specific to the newly adopted accounting principle. This Statement is effective for accounting changes and corrections of errors made in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005.

At the June 2005 EITF meeting, the Task Force reached a consensus on EITF 04-5, Determining Whether a General Partner, or the General Partners as a Group, Controls a Limited Partnership or Similar Entity When the Limited Partners Have Certain Rights. The consensus provides a framework for addressing when a general partner, or general partners as a group, controls a limited partnership or similar entity. The Task Force reached a consensus that for general partners of all new limited partnerships formed and for existing limited partnerships for which the partnership agreements are modified, the guidance in this issue is effective after June 29, 2005. For general partners in other limited partnerships, the guidance is effective no later than the beginning of the first reporting period in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005. The Task Force also amended EITF 96-16 to be consistent with the consensus reached in Issue No. 04-05. Additionally, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued FSP SOP 78-9-1 which amends the guidance in SOP 78-9 to be consistent with the consensus in 04-5. We are currently evaluating the impact on our financial statements of this framework, the amendments to EITF 96-16 and FSP SOP 78-9-1.

Also at the June 2005 meeting, the Task Force reached a consensus on EITF 05-6, Determining the Amortization Period for Leasehold Improvements Purchased after Lease Inception or Acquired in a Business Combination. The consensus reached is that the leasehold improvements whether acquired in a business combination or that are placed in service significantly after and not contemplated at or near the beginning of the lease term should be amortized over the shorter of the useful life of the assets or a term that includes required lease periods and renewals that are deemed to be reasonably assured. The consensus in this issue which is to be applied to leasehold improvements that are purchased or acquired in reporting periods beginning after June 29, 2005 will not have a material impact on our financial statements.

Table of Contents16. Pro Forma

The following unaudited pro forma consolidated statements of income are presented as if all of the properties acquired between January 1, 2005 and September 30, 2005 had occurred January 1, 2005 and 2004.

These pro forma consolidated statements of income should be read in conjunction with our historical consolidated financial statements and notes thereto for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005, included in this Form 10-Q. The pro forma consolidated statements of income are not necessarily indicative of what actual results would have been had the acquisitions actually occurred on January 1, 2005 and 2004 nor purport to represent our operations for future periods.

17. Subsequent Events

On October 3, 2005, we along with Brandywine Realty Trust (Brandywine), a Maryland real estate investment trust, agreed to combine our businesses by merging our company and a subsidiary of Brandywine under the terms of the merger agreement filed as Exhibit 2.1 of Brandywine's Current Report on Form 8-K filed on October 4, 2005. Both of our boards of trustees have unanimously approved the merger, which we refer to as the REIT Merger.

Upon completion of the REIT Merger, each of our common shares will be converted into the right to receive $21.50 in cash, subject to reduction by the amount of a special pre-closing cash dividend if the special pre-closing cash dividend is paid as described below, and 0.69 of a Brandywine common share. Cash will be paid in lieu of fractional shares. Because the portion of the merger consideration to be received in Brandywine common shares is fixed, the value of the consideration to be received by our common shareholders in the REIT Merger will depend upon the market price of Brandywine common shares at the time of the REIT Merger.

As part of the merger transaction, we along with Brandywine have entered into separate agreements with The Prudential Insurance Company of America (Prudential). These agreements provide for the acquisition by Prudential (either on the day prior to, or the day of, the closing of the REIT Merger) of certain of our properties that contain up to an aggregate of approximately 4.3 million net rentable square feet for total consideration of up to approximately $747.7 million. As a condition precedent to the effectiveness of the acquisition agreements between Brandywine and or Prentiss and Prudential, Brandywine and Prentiss shall confirm that all conditions to such party's and its affiliates obligations to effect the REIT merger have been irrevocably satisfied or waived in writing. We refer to the Prudential Acquisition as the Prudential Acquisition and we refer to the properties that Prudential will acquire as the Prudential Properties.

If Prudential acquires the Prudential Properties on the day prior to the closing of the REIT Merger, we will cause our operating partnership to authorize a distribution payable to holders of our operating partnership common units on such date and then our board of trustees would declare a special cash dividend (which we refer to as the Special Dividend) that would be payable to holders of record of our common shares on such date and the cash portion of the REIT Merger consideration would be reduced by the per share amount of the Special Dividend. Our operating partnership distribution, and the Special Dividend, if declared, would be funded from net cash proceeds of the Prudential Acquisition. If Prudential acquires the Prudential Properties on the closing date of the

REIT Merger then the Special Dividend will not be declared and the cash portion of the REIT Merger consideration would not be reduced. Whether or not the Special Dividend is declared, the total cash that each of our shareholders will receive in connection with the consummation of the REIT Merger (either solely from the cash portion of the REIT Merger consideration or from a combination of the Special Dividend and the cash portion of the REIT Merger consideration) will equal the same aggregate amount and will be payable at the same time.

On October 7, 2005, we exercised our right to complete a voluntary defeasance of our $180.1 million PPREFI portfolio loan and a $24.1 million mortgage loan collateralized by our Corporetum Office Campus properties. Pursuant to each defeasance, we transferred the mortgage loan to an unrelated successor entity along with proceeds necessary to acquire U.S. Treasury Securities sufficient to cover debt service including both interest and principal payments from the defeasance date through maturity of the loans. Proceeds used to defease the loans which totaled $216.4 million were funded with borrowings under our revolving credit facility.

On October 14, 2005, we completed the sale of four industrials properties totaling approximately 682,000 net rentable square feet (Chicago Industrial Properties) located in Chicago, Illinois. The Chicago Industrial Properties were sold to an unrelated third party for approximately $30.0 million which resulted in a gain of sale of approximately $14.8 million. The proceeds of the sale were placed in escrow pending a Sec. 1031 like-kind asset exchange.

On October 18, 2005, using the $37.2 million of sales proceeds from 123 North Wacker, $27.9 million of sales proceeds from the Chicago Industrial Properties, and additional borrowing under our revolving credit facility, we acquired from an unrelated third party, two office buildings with approximately 300,000 net rentable square feet. The properties are located in Herndon, Virginia and were acquired for gross proceeds of approximately $79.2 million. Additionally, we entered into a contract to acquire for $6.0 million a 1.6 acre parcel of land adjacent to the properties that can accommodate 120,000 square feet of new development. Closing of land is contingent on the seller receiving a waiver from a party holding a right of first refusal on the land.

On October 27, 2005, we completed the sale, to an unrelated third party, of an office building containing approximately 101,000 net rentable square feet located in Dallas, Texas. The proceeds for the sale which totaled approximately $12.9 million, were used to repay a portion of outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility. As a result of the sale, subsequent to quarter end, we recognized a gain on sale of approximately $4.6 million.

On October 31, 2005, we completed the sale to an unrelated third party, of one office building containing approximately 241,000 net rentable square feet located in Southfield, Michigan. The proceeds from the sale which totaled approximately $31.9 million, were used to repay a portion of outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility. As a result of the sale, subsequent to quarter end, we recognized a gain on sale of approximately $3.8 million.

On November 1, 2005, using proceeds from our revolving credit facility, we paid off a $4.2 million loan collateralized by a property in Englewood, Colorado. The loan which was scheduled to mature on April 1, 2006, had an interest rate of 7.27%. In accordance with the terms of the loan, there were no prepayment penalties.

Table of ContentsItem 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The following discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and related notes thereto presented in this Form 10-Q. Historical results set forth in our consolidated financial statements should not be taken as an indication of our future operations.

Overview

We are a self-administered and self-managed Maryland REIT. We acquire, own, manage, lease, develop and build primarily office properties throughout the United States. We are self-administered in that we provide our own administrative services, such as accounting, tax and legal, internally through our own employees. We are self-managed in that we internally provide all the management and maintenance services that our properties require through employees, such as property managers, leasing professionals and engineers. We operate principally through our operating partnership, Prentiss Properties Acquisition Partners, L.P. and its subsidiaries, and two management service companies, Prentiss Properties Resources, Inc. and its subsidiaries and Prentiss Properties Management, L.P.

As of September 30, 2005, we owned interests in a diversified portfolio of 130 primarily suburban Class A office and suburban industrial properties, the accounts of which were consolidated with and into the operations of our operating partnership.

	Number of Buildings	Net Rentable Square Feet (in thousands)
Office properties	103	16,665
Industrial properties	27	2,203
Total	130	18,868

As an owner of real estate, the majority of our income and cash flow is derived from rental income received pursuant to tenant leases for space at our properties; and thus, our earnings would be negatively impacted by a deterioration of our rental income. One or more factors could result in a deterioration of rental income including (1) our failure to renew or execute new leases as current leases expire, (2) our failure to renew or execute new leases with rental terms at or above the terms of in-place leases, and (3) tenant defaults.

Our failure to renew or execute new leases as current leases expire or to execute new leases with rental terms at or above the terms of in-place leases is dependent on factors such as (1) the local economic climate, which may be adversely impacted by business layoffs or downsizing, industry slowdowns, changing demographics and other factors and (2) local real estate conditions, such as oversupply of office and industrial space or competition within the market.

The occupancy in our portfolio of operating properties slightly increased in the third quarter of 2005 to 89% at September 30, 2005 compared to 88% at December 31, 2004. Market rental rates have declined in each of our markets from peak levels and we believe there may be additional declines throughout the remainder of 2005. Rental rates on our office space that was re-leased during the first, second and third quarters of 2005 decreased an average of 3%, 9% and 5% respectively, in comparison to rates that were in effect under expiring leases.

Our organization consists of a corporate office located in Dallas, Texas and five regional offices each of which operates under the guidance of a member of our senior management team. The following table presents third quarter 2005 regional revenues, which are included as part of income from continuing operations, and the 11 markets in which our properties are located, with the first market being the location of each regional office:

In addition to the $89.6 million of regional revenues, during the three months ended September 30, 2005, we recognized $381,000 of revenue consisting of reimbursements from employees for their share of health care related costs of $139,000, interest income of $39,000 and $203,000 relating primarily to income derived from services performed for third parties not allocated to our regions.

At September 30, 2005, we had 16.9 million square feet of in-place leases representing 89% of the 18.9 million net rentable square feet of our consolidated properties. Our leases generally range in term from 1 month to 15 years with an average term of 5 to 7 years. The following table presents, by region, the expiration of our 16.9 million square feet of in-place leases, which includes in-place leases for properties to be held and used and properties held for sale.

If one or more tenants fail to pay their rent due to bankruptcy, weakened financial condition or otherwise, our income, cash flow and ability to make distributions would be negatively impacted. At any time, a tenant may seek the protection of the bankruptcy laws, which could result in delays in rental payments or in the rejection and termination of such tenant leases.

Recent DevelopmentsMerger

On October 3, 2005, we along with Brandywine Realty Trust (Brandywine), a Maryland real estate investment trust, agreed to combine our businesses by merging our company and a subsidiary of Brandywine under the terms of the merger agreement filed as Exhibit 2.1 of Brandywine's Current Report on Form 8-K filed on October 4, 2005 and described in more detail in the Registration Statement on Form S-4 filed by Brandywine on October 27, 2005. Both our board and Brandywine's board of trustees have unanimously approved the merger, which we refer to as the REIT Merger.

Upon completion of the REIT Merger, each of our common shares will be converted into the right to receive $21.50 in cash, subject to reduction by the amount of a special pre-closing cash dividend if the special pre-closing cash dividend is paid as described below, and 0.69 of a Brandywine common share. Cash will be paid in lieu of fractional shares. Because the portion of the merger consideration to be received in Brandywine common shares is fixed, the value of the consideration to be received by our common shareholders in the REIT Merger will depend upon the market price of Brandywine common shares at the time of the REIT Merger.

As part of the merger transaction, we along with Brandywine have entered into separate agreements with The Prudential Insurance Company of America (referred to herein as Prudential). These agreements provide for the acquisition by Prudential (either on the day prior to, or the day of, the closing of the REIT Merger) of certain of our properties that contain up to an aggregate of approximately 4.3 million net rentable square feet for total consideration of up to approximately $747.7 million. As a condition precedent to the effectiveness of the acquisition agreements between Brandywine and or Prentiss and Prudential, Brandywine and Prentiss shall confirm that all conditions to such party's and its affiliates' obligations to effect the REIT merger have been irrevocably satisfied or waived in writing. We refer to the Prudential Acquisition as the Prudential Acquisition and we refer to the properties that Prudential will acquire as the Prudential Properties.

If Prudential acquires the Prudential Properties on the day prior to the closing of the REIT Merger, we will cause our operating partnership to authorize a distribution payable to holders of our operating partnership common units on such date and then our board of trustees would declare a special cash dividend (which we refer to as the Special Dividend) that would be payable to holders of record of our common shares on such date and the cash portion of the REIT Merger consideration would be reduced by the per share amount of the Special Dividend. Our operating partnership distribution, and the Special Dividend, if declared, would be funded from net cash proceeds of the Prudential Acquisition. If Prudential acquires the Prudential Properties on the closing date of the REIT Merger then the Special Dividend will not be declared and the cash portion of the REIT Merger consideration would not be reduced. Whether or not the Special Dividend is declared, the total cash that each of our shareholders will receive in connection with the consummation of the REIT Merger (either solely from the cash portion of the REIT Merger consideration or from a combination of the Special Dividend and the cash portion of the REIT Merger consideration) will equal the same aggregate amount and will be payable at the same time.

If we enter into a competing transaction, fail to call a shareholder meeting or our board of trustees withdraws or materially modifies its recommendation in favor of the merger, we would be obligated to pay Brandywine a $60.0 million termination fee. If the merger is not approved by our shareholders or we fail to comply with one of the obligations under the merger agreement and such failure causes the merger not to occur before April 1, 2006, we would be obligated to pay Brandywine an alternate fee of $12.5 million. In either case, we would also be required to reimburse Brandywine up to $6.0 million in fees. In certain limited circumstances, Brandywine may be required to pay us a $12.5 million fee and certain expenses.

Cityplace Center

On April 22, 2004, we acquired from 7-Eleven, Inc., an unrelated third party, the Cityplace Center property, a 42-story, 1.3 million net rentable square foot class AA office building in Dallas, Texas. Under the terms of the purchase, 7-Eleven, Inc. executed a 504,351 square-foot lease at the property for a term of three years from the date of closing. 7-Eleven, Inc. had the option to extend the term of its lease an additional seven years by notifying us no later than October 21, 2005. The acquisition price of the building totaled approximately $123.3 million. In determining the amount we were willing to pay for property, we projected 7-Eleven's departure from the building at the end of the initial 3-year term. The operating partnership was obligated to fund an additional $14.5 million if 7-Eleven, Inc. had exercised its extension option.

7-Eleven, Inc. announced to the public on April 20, 2005, their intention to enter into a lease at a property to be constructed. 7-Eleven, Inc. did not exercise their extension option, thus, we anticipate that 7-Eleven, Inc. will vacate our property upon completion of the new property.

Third Quarter 2005 Transactions*Real Estate Transactions*

Our industry's performance is generally predicated on a sustained pattern of job growth. In 2004, while the overall United States economy began to demonstrate economic growth, there were few indications that the economy was creating jobs at a pace sufficient to generate significant increases in demand for our office space.

As a result of the recent weak economic climate, the office real estate markets have been materially impacted by higher vacancy rates. In 2003, vacancy rates appeared to peak in many of our markets and some positive net absorption of space started to occur. During 2004, all of our markets, with the exception of Downtown Chicago, experienced positive net absorption of space. In addition, the overall vacancy rates were down as compared to 2003. With the exception of Downtown Chicago, our markets have continued to experience positive net absorption in 2005. Although there are signs of improvement in the economic climate, we anticipate that leasing efforts will remain tough for the remainder of 2005. In the face of challenging market conditions, we have followed a disciplined approach to managing our operations. We are constantly reviewing our portfolio and the markets in which we operate to identify potential asset acquisitions, opportunities for development and where we believe significant value can be found, asset dispositions.

At the direction of our board of trustees, during the first quarter of 2005, we initiated an analysis of our business strategy with respect to our commercial office real estate holdings in Chicago, Illinois and suburban Detroit, Michigan (our Midwest Region). Our Chicago portfolio consisted of 16 office properties containing approximately 2.4 million square feet and 4 industrial properties containing approximately 682,000 square feet. We own one office property in Detroit, Michigan containing approximately 241,000 square feet. As part of our analysis, Holliday Fenoglio Fowler, L.P. was retained as broker and has been marketing our Chicago and Detroit properties for sale. We have received purchase offers for all of the properties. After evaluating these offers, our board of trustees has unanimously approved our sale of the properties in the Midwest Region. In connection with the board's actions:

- (1) Pursuant to Statement of Financial Accounting Standards, No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets we classified the properties located within our Midwest Region as properties held for sale. As a result, we recognized an impairment charge of $10.2 million representing the excess of the carrying amount of five of our Chicago properties, containing approximately 322,000 net rentable square feet, over the estimated fair value of the properties, less the cost to sell.

On September 28, 2005, we completed the sale of one office property containing approximately 541,000 net rentable square feet, (our 123 North Wacker property) located in downtown Chicago to an unrelated third party. The property was sold for gross proceeds of approximately $170.2 million and resulted in a gain on sale of approximately $65.8 million. Proceeds from the sale were placed in escrow pending the completion of Sec. 1031 like-kind asset exchanges. An amount of $133.0 million was immediately released due to an already identified and completed acquisition and was used to repay a portion of the outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility. At September 30, 2005, $37.2 million remained in escrow.

- (3) On October 14, 2005, we completed the sale of four industrial properties containing approximately 682,000 net rentable square feet, (our Chicago Industrial properties) to an unrelated third party. The properties were sold for gross proceeds of approximately $30.0 million and resulted in a gain on sale of approximately $14.8 million. The proceeds were placed in escrow pending a Sec. 1031 like-kind asset exchange.
- (4) On October 31, 2005, we completed the sale of our Detroit office property containing approximately 241,000 net rentable square feet to an unrelated third party. The property was sold for gross proceeds of approximately $31.9 million and resulted in a gain on sale of approximately $3.8 million. The proceeds were used to repay a portion of the outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility.

In addition to the properties located within our Midwest Region, on September 30, 2005, we classified one office property containing approximately 101,000 net rentable square feet located in Dallas/Fort Worth, a market within our Southwest Region, as held for sale. On October 27, 2005, we completed the sale of the property to an unrelated third party for gross proceeds of approximately $12.9 million and recorded a gain on sale of approximately $4.6 million.

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001, income and gain/(loss) for real estate properties sold and real estate properties held for sale are to be reflected in the consolidated statements of income as discontinued operations. Below is a summary of our combined results of operations from the properties disposed of or held for sale during the periods presented. The summary includes the results of operations before gain/(loss) on sale and the related loss on debt defeasance for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, respectively:

On July 14, 2005, Prentiss Office Investors, L.P., acquired, from an unrelated third party, an office building with approximately 238,000 net rentable square feet. The property is located in the City Center submarket of the Oakland, California CBD and was acquired for gross proceeds of $40.0 million. Each partner contributed their pro rata share of the cash purchase price less debt assumed to Prentiss Office Investors, L.P. for the acquisition. Amounts contributed from the operating partnership were funded with proceeds from our revolving credit facility. As a part of the transaction, the venture assumed a $25.0 million non-recourse mortgage with a 5.175% interest rate that amortizes on a 30-year amortization schedule and has a maturity date of June 1, 2010.

On August 12, 2005, our operating partnership acquired from an unrelated third party, a two building office complex with approximately 350,000 net rentable square feet. The properties are located in Concord, California and were acquired for gross proceeds of $69.5 million. The acquisition was funded through the issuance of 547,262 common units of our operating partnership valued at $21.2 million, the assumption of a non-recourse mortgage loan valued at $43.4 million, which included a $3.9 million adjustment to fair value, with the balance funded with proceeds from our revolving credit facility. The non-recourse mortgage bears interest at 7.2%, has a 25-year amortization schedule and a maturity date of January 1, 2012. We issued two letters of credit for $6.0 million and $590,000 in connection with the loan assumption in lieu of reserve escrow and tax escrow accounts, respectively.

On July 14, 2005, we completed a $100.0 million loan collateralized by two office buildings in Tyson's Corner, Virginia. The interest rate is fixed at 4.84% and the monthly payments are interest only until August 10, 2008 at which time it converts to amortizing, on a 30-year amortization schedule, until the maturity date of August 10, 2015. The proceeds were used to repay a portion of the outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility.

On July 26, 2005, we renewed our revolving credit facility, increased its capacity from $375.0 to $400.0 million and obtained an expansion right to $500.0 million. The facility also includes a right to extend the maturity date from July 26, 2008 to July 26, 2009. The interest rate on the facility will fluctuate based on our overall leverage with a range between LIBOR plus 85 basis points and LIBOR plus 135 basis points. The pricing on the renewed facility generally represents a 25 basis point to 30 basis point pricing reduction across the leverage grid and a modification of several covenants to the company's benefit. Except as set forth above, the remaining terms of the revolving credit facility remain substantially unchanged. Banking participants in the revolving credit facility include JP Morgan Chase Bank as Administrative Agent; Bank of America as Syndication Agent; Commerzbank, EuroHypo, Societe General, PNC Bank, Sun Trust, Union Bank of California, Comerica Bank, Mellon Bank, Deutsche Bank, ING Real Estate Finance, US Bank and Wachovia Bank as Lenders.

On July 26, 2005, and August 3, 2005, we modified our $75.0 million unsecured term loan with Commerzbank and our $100.0 million unsecured term loan with EuroHypo, respectively. The modifications were basically the same pricing and covenant changes that were incorporated into our revolving credit facility renewal as discussed above, with the expiration dates remaining unchanged at March 15, 2009 and May 22, 2008, respectively.

On August 1, 2005, using proceeds from our revolving credit facility, we paid off a $45.5 million loan collateralized by a property in Oakland, California. The loan which was scheduled to mature on November 1, 2005 had an interest rate of 8.22%. In accordance with the terms of the loan, there were no prepayment penalties.

On August 2, 2005, we completed the sale of our mortgage note receivable to an unrelated party for total proceeds of $1.0 million. The proceeds were used to repay a portion of the outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility.

At June 30, 2005, we had 3,773,585 shares outstanding of Participating Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Shares of Beneficial Interest, Series D (the "Series D Preferred Shares") held by Security Capital Preferred Growth, Incorporated. During the third quarter, pursuant to their rights under the agreement which allows Security Capital Preferred Growth, Incorporated to convert any or all of the Series D Preferred Shares into common shares on a one for one basis, Security Capital Preferred Growth, Incorporated converted 950,000 Series D Preferred Shares into 950,000 common shares. As a result, we have 2,823,585 Series D Preferred Shares outstanding at September 30, 2005. The book value of the shares converted was reclassified from Preferred shares to Common shares and Additional paid-in capital on our consolidated balance sheet.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Our discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations is based upon our consolidated financial statements. Our consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Prentiss Properties Trust, our operating partnership and our other consolidated subsidiaries. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses for the reporting period. Actual results could differ from our estimates.

The significant accounting policies used in the preparation of our consolidated financial statements are fully described in Note (2) to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2004, included in our Form 10-K filed on March 15, 2005. However, some of our significant accounting estimates are considered critical accounting estimates because the estimate requires our management to make assumptions about matters that are highly uncertain at the time the estimate is made and different estimates that reasonably could have been used in the current period, or changes in the estimates that are reasonably likely to occur from period to period, would have a material impact on our financial condition, changes in financial condition or results of operations. We consider our critical accounting policies and estimates to be those used in the determination of the reported amounts and disclosure related to the following:

- (1) Impairment of long-lived assets and the long-lived assets to be disposed of;
- (2) Allowance for doubtful accounts;
- (3) Depreciable lives applied to real estate assets and improvements to real estate assets;
- (4) Initial recognition, measurement and allocation of the cost of real estate acquired; and
- (5) Fair value of derivative instruments.

Impairment of long-lived assets and long-lived assets to be disposed of Real estate, leasehold improvements and land holdings are classified as long-lived assets held for sale or long-lived assets to be held and used. In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, we record assets held for sale at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value, less cost to sell. We recognized an impairment loss of $10.2 million during the three months ended September 30, 2005, related to our Corporetum asset in Chicago, Illinois, which was classified as held for sale at September 30, 2005. With respect to assets classified as held and used, we periodically review these assets to determine whether our carrying amount will be recovered. Our operating real estate, which comprises the majority of our long-lived assets, had a carrying amount of $1.7 billion at September 30, 2005. A long-lived asset is considered impaired if its carrying amount exceeds the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset. Upon impairment, we would recognize an impairment loss to reduce the carrying amount of the long-lived asset to our estimate of its fair value. Our estimate of fair value and cash flows to be generated from our properties requires us to make assumptions related to future occupancy of our properties, future rental rates, tenant concessions, operating expenditures, property taxes, capital improvements, the ability of our tenants to perform pursuant to their lease obligations, the holding period of our properties and the proceeds to be generated from the eventual sale of our properties. If one or more of our assumptions proves incorrect or if our assumptions change, the recognition of an impairment loss on one or more properties may be necessary in the future. The recognition of an impairment loss would negatively impact earnings.

Allowance for doubtful accounts

Accounts receivable are reduced by an allowance for amounts that we estimate to be uncollectible. Our receivable balance is comprised primarily of accrued rental rate increases to be received over the life of in-place leases as well as rents and operating cost recoveries due from tenants. We regularly evaluate the adequacy of our allowance for doubtful accounts considering such factors as credit quality of our tenants, delinquency of payment, historical trends and current economic conditions. At September 30, 2005, including the accounts receivable classified as Properties and related assets held for sale, net, we had total receivables of $64.9 million and an allowance for doubtful accounts of $4.5 million, resulting in a net receivable balance of $60.4 million. Of the $64.9 million in total receivables, $52.1 million represents accrued rental rate increases to be received over the life of in-place leases. It is our policy to reserve all outstanding receivables that are 90-days past due along with a portion of the remaining receivable balance that we feel is uncollectible based on our evaluation of the outstanding receivable balance. In addition, we increase our allowance for doubtful accounts for accrued rental rate increases, if we determine such future rent is uncollectible. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. If our assumptions, regarding the collectibility of accounts receivable, prove incorrect, we may experience write-offs in excess of our allowance for doubtful accounts which would negatively impact earnings. The table below presents the net decrease to our allowance for doubtful accounts during the periods, amounts written-off as uncollectible during the periods and our allowance for doubtful accounts at September 30, 2005 and 2004.

Table of Contents*Depreciable lives applied to real estate assets and improvements to real estate assets*

Depreciation on buildings and improvements is provided under the straight-line method over an estimated useful life of 30 to 40 years for office buildings and 25 to 30 years for industrial buildings. Significant betterments made to our real estate assets are capitalized and depreciated over the estimated useful life of the betterment. If our estimate of useful lives proves to be materially incorrect, the depreciation and amortization expense that we currently recognize would also prove to be materially incorrect. A change in our estimate of useful lives would therefore result in either an increase or decrease in depreciation and amortization expense and thus, a decrease or increase in earnings. The table below presents real estate related depreciation and amortization expense, including real estate depreciation and amortization expense included in income from continuing operations as well as discontinued operations, for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004:

(in thousands)	Three Months		Nine Months
	Ended September 30, 2005	2004	Ended September 30, 2005	2004
Real estate depreciation and amortization from continuing operations	$ 23,070	$ 19,870	$ 63,852	$ 55,689
Real estate depreciation and amortization from discontinued operations	$ 3,090	$ 4,498	$ 12,760	$ 15,446

Initial recognition, measurement and allocation of the cost of real estate acquired

We allocate the purchase price of properties acquired to tangible assets consisting of land and building and improvements, and identified intangible assets and liabilities generally consisting of (i) above- and below-market leases, (ii) in-place leases and (iii) tenant relationships. We allocate the purchase price to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their fair values in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 141, Business Combinations. These fair values are derived as follows:

Amounts allocated to land are derived from (1) comparable sales of raw land, (2) floor area ratio (FAR) specifics of the land as compared to other developed properties (average land cost per FAR) and (3) our other local market knowledge.

Amounts allocated to buildings and improvements are calculated and recorded as if the building was vacant upon purchase. We use estimated cash flow projections and apply discount and capitalization rates based on market knowledge. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated life of 30 to 40 years for office buildings and 25 to 30 years for industrial buildings.

We record above-market and below-market in-place lease values for acquired properties based on the present value (using a market interest rate which reflects the risks associated with the leases acquired) of the difference between (1) the contractual amounts to be received pursuant to the in-place leases and (2) management's estimate of fair market lease rates for the corresponding in-place leases, measured over a period equal to the remaining non-cancelable term of the lease for above-market leases and the initial term plus the term of the fixed rate renewal option, if any for below-market leases. We perform this analysis on a lease (tenant) by lease (tenant) basis. The capitalized above-market lease values are amortized as a reduction to rental income over the remaining non-cancelable terms of the respective leases. The capitalized below-market lease values are amortized as an increase to rental income over the initial term plus the term of the fixed rate renewal option, if any, of the respective leases.

Other intangible assets, in-place leases and tenant relationships, are calculated based on an evaluation of specific characteristics of each tenant's lease. Our estimates of fair value for other intangibles includes an estimate of carrying costs during the expected lease-up periods for the respective spaces considering current market conditions and the costs to execute similar leases. In estimating the carrying costs that would have otherwise been incurred had the leases not been in place, we include such items as real estate taxes, insurance and other operating expenses as well as lost rental revenue during the expected lease-up period based on current market conditions. Costs to execute similar leases include leasing commissions, legal and other related costs. The value of in-place leases is amortized to expense over the remaining non-cancelable term of the respective leases. Should a tenant terminate its lease, the unamortized portion of the in-place lease value would be charged to expense in current period earnings. The in-place lease value ascribed to tenant relationships is amortized to expense over the weighted average lease term of the in-place leases.

Based on our estimates of the fair value of the components of each real estate property acquired between January 1, 2005 and September 30, 2005, we allocated the purchase price as follows:

	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2005
(in thousands)
Land	$	41,421
Buildings and improvements	$	181,500
Tenant improvements and leasing commissions	$	23,632

Other intangible assets	$	23,377
Fair value of derivative instruments

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, as amended and interpreted, beginning January 1, 2001, we record all derivatives on the balance sheet at fair value. The accounting for changes in the fair value of derivatives depends on the intended use of the derivative and the resulting designation. Derivatives used to hedge the exposure to changes in the fair value of an asset, liability, or firm commitment attributable to a particular risk, such as interest rate risk, are considered fair value hedges. Derivatives used to hedge the exposure to variability of expected future cash flows, or other types of forecasted transactions, are considered cash flow hedges.

For derivatives designated as fair value hedges, changes in the fair value of the derivative and the hedged item related to the hedged risk are recognized in earnings. For derivatives designated as cash flow hedges, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is initially reported in other comprehensive income and subsequently reclassified to earnings when the hedged transaction affects earnings, and the ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized currently in earnings. We assess the effectiveness of each hedging relationship by comparing the changes in fair value or cash flows of the derivative hedging instrument with the changes in fair value or cash flows of the designated hedged item or transaction. For derivatives not designated as hedges, changes in fair value are recognized in earnings.

Our objective in using derivatives is to add stability to interest expense and to manage our exposure to interest rate movements. To accomplish this objective, we use interest rate swaps as part of our cash flow hedging strategy. Interest rate swaps designated as cash flow hedges involve the receipt of variable-rate amounts in exchange for fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreements without the exchange of the underlying principal amount. During the three months ended September 30, 2005, such derivatives were used to hedge the variable cash flows associated with a portion of our variable-rate debt.

As of September 30, 2005, we did not have any derivatives designated as fair value hedges. Additionally, we do not use derivatives for trading or speculative purposes, and currently, we do not have any derivatives that are not designated as hedges.

To determine the fair value of our derivative instruments, we use a variety of methods and assumptions that are based on market conditions and risks existing at each balance sheet date. For the majority of financial instruments including most derivatives, standard market conventions and techniques such as discounted cash flow analysis, option pricing models, replacement cost, and termination cost are used to determine fair value. All methods of assessing fair value result in a general approximation of value, and such value may never actually be realized. Future cash inflows or outflows from our derivative instruments depend upon future borrowing rates. If assumptions about future borrowing rates prove to be materially incorrect, the recorded value of these agreements could also prove to be materially incorrect. Because we use the derivative instruments to hedge our exposure to variable interest rates, thus effectively fixing a portion of our variable interest rates, changes in future borrowing rates could result in our interest expense being either higher or lower than might otherwise have been incurred on our variable-rate borrowings had the rates not been fixed. The table below presents the amount by which cash payments made under our interest rate swap agreements exceeded cash receipts from our agreements during the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 and 2004. The table also presents the estimated fair value of our in-place swap agreements as of September 30, 2005 and 2004.

Included below is a discussion of the significant events or transactions that have impacted our results of operations when comparing the three months ended September 30, 2005 to the three months ended September 30, 2004.

Acquisition of Real Estate. Acquisitions are a key component of our external growth strategy. We selectively pursue acquisitions in our core markets when long-term yields make acquisitions attractive. Between July 1, 2004 and September 30, 2005, we acquired ten office properties containing in the aggregate approximately 1.9 million net rentable square feet as presented below:

Acquired Properties	Segment	Market	Month of Acquisition	Number of Buildings	Net Rentable Square Feet (1) (in thousands)	Acquisition Price (in millions)

(1) Net rentable square feet defines the area of a property for which a tenant is required to pay rent, which includes the actual rentable area plus a portion of the common areas of the property allocated to a tenant.

(2) Acquisitions were acquired by Prentiss Office Investors, L.P. which is owned 51% by our operating partnership and its affiliates and 49% by Stichting Pensioenfond ABP. The net rentable square feet and acquisition price is presented at 100%. Each partner contributed their pro rata share of the purchase price of each property to Prentiss Office Investors, L.P. prior to acquisition.

- (3) Our operating partnership held a 25% interest in the 1676 International Drive and 8260 Greensboro Drive properties prior to our acquisition of the remaining interest in May 2005. Purchase price represents amount paid for the 75% interest not previously owned.

Real Estate Dispositions. During the period July 1, 2004 through September 30, 2005, we disposed of three office properties containing approximately 1.1 million net rentable square feet and four industrial properties containing approximately 91,000 net rentable square feet. Four industrial properties, containing 91,000 net rentable square feet in San Diego, were sold on July 23, 2004. One office property, containing 466,000 net rentable square feet, representing our only property in the Houston area, a market within our Southwest region, was sold on August 23, 2004. One office property, containing 136,000 net rentable square feet in the Chicago area, was sold on November 19, 2004. One office property, containing 541,000 net rentable square feet in downtown Chicago, was sold on September 28, 2005. In addition to our dispositions, we classified 17 office properties containing approximately 2.2 million net rentable square feet and 4 industrial properties containing approximately 682,000 net rentable square feet as held for sale as of September 30, 2005.

The following is a discussion of the material changes in our consolidated statements of income and a discussion of the impact that the significant events or transactions, as described above, had on one or more line items of our consolidated statements of income when comparing the three months ended September 30, 2005 to the three months ended September 30, 2004.

Rental Income. Rental income increased $10.5 million, or 13.8%. The real estate acquisitions resulted in increases of $10.1 million. Our other properties experienced an increase of $380,000.

Service Business and Other Income. Service business and other income increased by $315,000, or 9.8%, primarily due to increases in fee income.

Property Operating and Maintenance. Property operating and maintenance cost increased by $4.1 million, or 20.8%. The real estate acquisitions resulted in increases of $2.9 million. Property operating and maintenance expenses related to our other properties increased by $1.2 million due to general increases in operating expenses in addition to higher utility expenses.

Real Estate Taxes. Real estate taxes increased $1.9 million, or 29.2%. The real estate acquisitions resulted in increases of $815,000. Real estate taxes related to our other properties increased by $1.1 million due to property value increases in 2005.

General and Administrative and Personnel Costs. General and administrative and personnel cost increased by $1.6 million, or 46%. The increase in general and administrative and personnel costs was due to an increase in compensation expense under our long-term incentive plans and in amounts due participants under our deferred compensation plans. In addition, legal fees related to the proposed merger with Brandywine contributed to the increased costs.

Expense of Service Business. Expenses of service business increased $429,000 or 16.1%, primarily due to an increase in compensation and employee benefit related expenses.

Depreciation and Amortization. Depreciation and amortization increased $3.2 million, or 16.1%. The real estate acquisitions coming on-line resulted in increases of $4.2 million. Other properties decreased by $1.0 million which is attributable to increased amortization in the three months ended September 30, 2004 compared to September 30, 2005, which was the result of the acceleration of depreciation and amortization of certain tenant related improvements and deferred leasing charges due to early lease terminations.

Interest Expense. Interest expense increased by $3.5 million, or 22.2%, primarily as a result of an increase in weighted average borrowings outstanding for the three months ended September 30, 2005 compared with the three months ended September 30, 2004. The increase was partially offset by a decrease in the weighted average interest rate paid on outstanding borrowings from 6.27% for the three months ended September 30, 2004 to 5.94% for the three months ended September 30, 2005, and an increase of $110,000 in capitalized interest resulting from increased development activity.

Equity in income of unconsolidated joint ventures and subsidiaries. Equity in income of unconsolidated joint ventures and subsidiaries increased by $81,000, or 13.1%. The equity in earnings from Broadmoor Austin Associates accounted for a $53,000 increase and Tysons International Partners accounted for a $28,000 increase. The equity in earnings of Tysons was a loss of $28,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2004. In May 2005, we acquired the remaining 75% interest in the properties owned by Tysons International Partners. Subsequent to the acquisition, the accounts of Tysons International Partners were consolidated with and into the accounts of our operating partnership.

Minority Interests. Minority interests decreased by $123,000, or 87.2%, primarily due to the minority interest holders' proportionate share of the decrease in income from continuing operations, offset by an increase in the minority interest holders' proportionate share of income from continuing operations attributable to the 547,262 common units issued in August 2005.

Discontinued Operations. Discontinued operations increased by $56.0 million, primarily due to the $65.8 million gain on sale from 123 North Wacker in Chicago, Illinois. The gain on sale was partially offset by an impairment charge of $10.2 million related to our Corporetum asset in Chicago, Illinois.

Acquisition of Real Estate. Acquisitions are a key component of our external growth strategy. We selectively pursue acquisitions in our core markets when long-term yields make acquisitions attractive. Between January 1, 2004 and September 30, 2005, we acquired fifteen office properties containing in the aggregate approximately 3.6 million net rentable square feet as presented below:

Real Estate Dispositions. During the period January 1, 2004 through September 30, 2005, we disposed of nine office properties containing approximately 1.7 million net rentable square feet and four industrial properties containing approximately 91,000 net rentable square feet. Six properties, containing 566,000 net rentable square feet, representing our only properties in the Sacramento area, a market within our Northern California region, were sold on May 20, 2004. Four industrial properties, containing 91,000 net rentable square feet in San Diego, were sold on July 23, 2004. One office property, containing 466,000 net rentable square feet, representing our only property in the Houston area, a market within our Southwest region, was sold on August 23, 2004. One office property, containing 136,000 net rentable square feet in the Chicago area, was sold on November 19, 2004. One office property, containing 541,000 net rentable square feet in downtown Chicago, was sold on September 28, 2005. In addition to our dispositions, we classified 17 office properties containing approximately 2.2 million net rentable square feet and 4 industrial properties containing approximately 682,000 net rentable square feet as held for sale as of September 30, 2005.

Other Significant Real Estate Transactions. On January 22, 2004, Prentiss Office Investors, L.P. was established to acquire office properties in our core markets of Washington D.C./Northern Virginia, Chicago, Dallas/Ft. Worth, Northern California and San Diego/Orange County. The partnership was initially wholly owned by the operating partnership and its affiliates and was seeded by the transfer of several properties the company acquired in 2003.

Pursuant to a joint venture agreement, effective February 1, 2004, Stichting Pensioenfonds ABP, a Netherlands based pension fund and unrelated third party, acquired a 49% limited partnership interest in Prentiss Office Investors, L.P. for proceeds totaling $68.9 million. As a result of the transaction, we recorded a gain on sale of $1.3 million. The joint venture is consolidated with and into the accounts of the operating partnership. Proceeds from the transaction were used to repay a portion of the outstanding borrowings under our revolving credit facility.

The following is a discussion of the material changes in our consolidated statements of income and a discussion of the impact that the significant events or transactions, as described above, had on one or more line items of our consolidated statements of income when comparing the nine months ended September 30, 2005 to the nine months ended September 30, 2004.

Rental Income. Rental income increased $25.4 million, or 11.6%. The real estate acquisitions resulted in increases of $31.9 million. Our other properties experienced a decrease of $6.5 million primarily due to a decrease in termination fee income of $4.1 million and a decrease in rental income relating primarily to rental rate declines for newly executed leases compared to expiring leases. Termination fees for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 were $3.0 million compared to $7.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004.

Service Business and Other Income. Service business and other income increased by $464,000, or 4.8%, primarily due to increases in fee income.

Property Operating and Maintenance. Property operating and maintenance cost increased by $11.4 million, or 20.6%. The real estate acquisitions resulted in increases of $9.8 million. Property operating and maintenance expenses related to our other properties increased by $1.6 million. This increase was due to increased operating costs, offset by a decrease in bad debt expense.

Table of Contents

Real Estate Taxes. Real estate taxes increased $3.7 million, or 18.5%. The real estate acquisitions resulted in increases of $2.9 million. Real estate taxes related to our other properties increased by $800,000 due to property value increases in 2005.

General and Administrative and Personnel Costs. General and administrative and personnel cost increased by $2.8 million, or 31.6%. The increase in general and administrative and personnel costs was primarily due to compensation expense under our long-term incentive plans offset by a decrease in amounts due participants under our deferred compensation plans. In addition, legal fees related to the proposed merger with Brandywine contributed to the increased costs.

Expense of Service Business. Expenses of service business increased $1.9 million or 27.4%, primarily due to an increase in compensation and employee benefit related expenses.

Depreciation and Amortization. Depreciation and amortization increased $8.3 million, or 14.7%. The real estate acquisitions coming on-line resulted in increases of $11.9 million. Other properties decreased by $3.6 million which is attributable to increased amortization in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 compared to September 30, 2005, which was the result of the acceleration of depreciation and amortization of certain tenant related improvements and deferred leasing charges due to early lease terminations.

Interest Expense. Interest expense increased by $7.3 million, or 16.1%, primarily as a result of an increase in weighted average borrowings outstanding for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 compared with the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The increase was partially offset by a decrease in the weighted average interest rate paid on outstanding borrowings from 6.32% for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 to 5.92% for the nine months ended September 30, 2005, and an increase of $822,000 in capitalized interest resulting from increased development activity.

Equity in (loss)/income of unconsolidated joint ventures and subsidiaries. Equity in (loss)/income of unconsolidated joint ventures and subsidiaries decreased by $1.9 million, primarily due to our pro rata share of the penalty for early debt extinguishment related to the prepayment of the outstanding borrowings of Tysons International Partners prior to our acquisition of the remaining 75% interest in May 2005.

Loss on Investment in Securities. Loss on Investment in Securities decreased by $420,000, or 100% during the nine months ended September 30, 2005 compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2004. In August 2000, we invested $423,000 in Narrowcast Communications Corporation, a provider of an electronic tenant information service known as Elevator News Network. During the nine months ended September 30, 2004, we received a return of investment of approximately $3,000 and recorded a loss on investment of approximately $420,000.

Loss from impairment of mortgage loan. The loss on impairment of mortgage loan of $500,000 relates to a $4.4 million note receivable associated with a real estate sales transaction completed in 2001. In fourth quarter of 2004, we wrote the note down to $1.5 million and recognized an impairment loss of $2.9 million. In an effort to reflect our estimate of the realizable value of the note during the second quarter of 2005, we recognized an additional $500,000 write-down to the note. On August 2, 2005, we completed the sale of our note receivable to an unrelated third party for total proceeds of $1.0 million.

Minority Interests. Minority interests decreased by $1.5 million, or 75%, primarily due to the decrease in the proportionate share of net income attributable to the Series B Cumulative Redeemable Perpetual Preferred unitholders resulting from the repurchase of these units on February 24, 2004 and the minority interest holders proportionate share of the decrease of income from continuing operations, partially offset by an increase in the minority interest holders proportionate share of the income from continuing operations attributable to the 547,262 common units issued in August 2005.

Discontinued Operations. Discontinued operations increased by $49.4 million, primarily due to the $65.8 million gain on sale from 123 North Wacker in Chicago, Illinois. The gain on sale was partially offset by impairment charge of $10.2 million related to our Corporetum asset in Chicago, Illinois.

Gain on sale of a Partnership Interest. Gain on sale of a partnership interest decreased by $1.2 million. During the nine months ended September 30, 2004, we recognized a gain due to selling an interest in a real estate partnership.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Cash and cash equivalents were $8.8 million and $8.6 million at September 30, 2005 and December 31, 2004, respectively. The increase in cash and cash equivalents is a result of net cash provided by operating and financing activities exceeding net cash used in investing activities for the nine months ended September 30, 2005.

Cash flows provided by operating activities totaled $92.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 compared to $105.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The change in cash flows from operating activities is attributable to (1) the factors discussed in our analysis of results of operations for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2004 and (2) the timing of receipt of revenues and payment of expenses which is evidenced by cash outflows of $24.9 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 compared to $13.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 related to the changes in assets and liabilities.

Net cash used in investing activities totaled $122.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 compared to $21.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The increase in cash used in investing activities of $101.4 million is due primarily to decreases of $69.3 million of cash generated from the sale of a 49% interest in Prentiss Office Investors, L.P., $9.5 million in cash generated from the sale/repayment of certain notes receivable, and $3.0 million of cash generated from the sale of real estate, and increases of $12.3 million in cash used in development and redevelopment of real estate, $5.6 million in cash used for capital expenditures related to in-service properties, and $17.1 million in cash used to fund an investment in an unconsolidated subsidiary, offset by a decrease of $15.1 million of cash used to acquire real estate assets.

Net cash generated from financing activities totaled $30.9 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 compared to net cash used of $83.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The increase in net cash generated from financing activities of $114.3 million is due primarily to a decrease of $105.0 million in cash used for the redemption of preferred units, a decrease of $891,000 for the repurchase of operating partnership units, an increase in net borrowings of $15.1 million, an increase in capital contributions from minority interest partners in consolidated joint ventures of $21.6 million, a decrease in distributions of $32.9 million, offset by a decrease in cash generated from the sale of common shares of $61.8 million.

Net cash flow from operations represents the primary source of liquidity to fund distributions, debt service, capital improvements and non-revenue enhancing tenant improvements. We expect that our revolving credit facility will provide for funding of working capital and revenue enhancing tenant improvements, unanticipated cash needs as well as acquisitions and development costs. Our principal short-term liquidity needs are to fund normal recurring expenses, debt service requirements and the minimum distributions required to maintain our REIT qualification under the Internal Revenue Code.

Our net cash flow from operations is generally derived from rental revenues and operating expense reimbursements from tenants and, to a limited extent, from fees generated by our office and industrial real estate management service business. Our net cash flow from operations is therefore dependent upon the occupancy level of our properties, the collectibility of rent from our tenants, the level of operating and other expenses, and other factors. Material changes in these factors may adversely affect our net cash flow from operations. Such changes, in turn, would adversely affect our ability to fund distributions, debt service, capital improvements and non-revenue enhancing tenant improvements. In addition, a material adverse change in our net cash flow from operations may affect the financial performance covenants under our revolving credit facility. If we fail to meet any of our financial performance covenants, our revolving credit facility may become unavailable to us, or the interest charged on the revolving credit facility may increase. Either of these circumstances could adversely affect our ability to fund working capital and revenue enhancing tenant improvements, unanticipated cash needs, acquisitions and development costs.

In order to qualify as a REIT for federal income tax purposes, we must distribute at least 90% of our taxable income, excluding capital gains. We expect to make distributions to our shareholders primarily based on our cash flow from operations distributed by our operating partnership. We anticipate that our short-term liquidity needs will be fully funded from cash flows provided by operating activities and, when necessary to fund shortfalls resulting from the timing of collections of accounts receivable in the ordinary course of business, from our revolving credit facility. In the event that our cash flow needs exceed cash flows provided by operating activities, it may be necessary to incur additional debt or sell real estate properties to fund such cash flow needs.

We expect to meet our long-term liquidity requirements for the funding of activities, such as development, real estate acquisitions, scheduled debt maturities, major renovations, expansions and other revenue enhancing capital improvements through long-term secured and unsecured indebtedness and through the issuance of additional debt and equity securities. We also intend to use proceeds from our revolving credit facility to fund real estate acquisitions, development, redevelopment, expansions and capital improvements on an interim basis.

Debt Financing

As of September 30, 2005, we had consolidated outstanding total indebtedness of approximately $1.4 billion. The amount of indebtedness that we may incur, and the policies with respect thereto, is not limited by our declaration of trust and bylaws, and is solely within the discretion of our board of trustees, limited only by various financial covenants in our credit agreements.

Approximately $810.3 million or 59.7% of our outstanding consolidated debt was subject to fixed rates with a weighted average interest rate of 6.67% at September 30, 2005. Of the remaining $546.4 million, or 40.3%, representing our variable rate debt, $375.0 million was effectively locked at September 30, 2005 at an interest rate (before the spread over LIBOR) of 3.86% through our interest rate swap agreements. At September 30, 2005, we had variable rate debt of $171.4 million, which was not fixed through interest rate swap agreements.

(2) On October 7, 2005, we exercised our right to complete a voluntary defeasance of our $180.1 million PPREFI portfolio loan and a $24.1 million mortgage loan collateralized by our Corporetum Office Campus properties. Pursuant to each defeasance, we transferred the mortgage loan to an unrelated successor entity along with proceeds necessary to acquire U.S. Treasury Securities sufficient to cover debt service including both interest and principal payments from the defeasance date through maturity of the loans. Proceeds used to defease the loans which totaled $216.4 million were funded with borrowings under our revolving credit facility.

- (3) The PPREFI Portfolio Loan is collateralized by the following 36 properties: the Los Angeles industrial properties (18 properties), the Chicago industrial properties (4 properties), the Cottonwood Office Center (3 properties), Park West E1 and E2 (2 properties), One Northwestern Plaza, 3141 Fairview Park Drive, 13825 Sunrise Valley Drive, O Hare Plaza II, 1717 Deerfield Road, 2411 Dulles Corner Road, 4401 Fair Lakes Court, the WestPoint Office Building and the PacifiCare Building.
- (4) Our operating partnership owns a 51% interest in Prentiss Office Investors, L.P. The accounts of Prentiss Office Investors, L.P. are consolidated with and into the accounts of the operating partnership. The amounts shown reflect 100% of the debt balance.

- (5) The Term Loan is collateralized by the following 9 properties: Camino West Corporate Park, Carlsbad Airport Plaza, La Place Court (2 properties), Pacific Ridge Corporate Centre (2 properties), Pacific View Plaza, Corporate Lakes III, and 2291 Wood Oak Drive.
- (6) Our operating partnership and its affiliates own a 70% interest in Prentiss/Collins Del Mar Heights, LLC. The accounts of Prentiss/Collins Del Mar Heights, LLC are consolidated with and into the accounts of the operating partnership. The amount shown reflects 100% of the debt balance.
- (7) We own a 50% non-controlling interest in the entity that owns the Broadmoor Austin properties, which interest is accounted for using the equity method of accounting. The amount shown reflects 100% of the non-recourse mortgage indebtedness collateralized by the properties.

The majority of our fixed rate secured debt contains prepayment provisions based on the greater of a yield maintenance penalty or 1.0% of the outstanding loan amount. The yield maintenance penalty essentially compensates the lender for the difference between the fixed rate under the loan and the yield that the lender would receive if the lender reinvested the prepaid loan balance in U.S. Treasury Securities with a similar maturity as the loan.

Under our loan agreements, we are required to satisfy various affirmative and negative covenants, including limitations on total indebtedness, total collateralized indebtedness and cash distributions, as well as obligations to maintain certain minimum tangible net worth and certain minimum interest coverage ratios. Our credit agreements limit total indebtedness to 55% of total assets and require a debt service coverage ratio of at least 2 to 1. Our credit agreements provide for a 30-day period to cure a default caused by our failure to punctually and properly perform, observe and comply with the covenants contained therein. The agreements also provide for an additional 75-day period if such failure is not capable of being cured within 30-days and we are diligently pursuing the cure thereof. We were in compliance with these covenants at September 30, 2005.

Hedging Activities

To manage interest rate risk, we may employ options, forwards, interest rate swaps, caps and floors or a combination thereof depending on the underlying interest rate exposure. We undertake a variety of borrowings: from revolving credit facilities, to medium- and long-term financings. To manage overall interest rate exposure, we use interest rate instruments, typically interest rate swaps, to convert a portion of our variable rate debt to fixed rate debt. Interest rate differentials that arise under these swap contracts are recognized as interest expense over the life of the contracts.

We may employ forwards or purchased options to hedge qualifying anticipated transactions. Gains and losses are deferred and recognized in net income in the same period that the anticipated transaction occurs, expires or is otherwise terminated. The following table summarizes the notional amounts and fair values of our derivative financial instruments at September 30, 2005. The notional amount provides an indication of the extent of our involvement in these instruments as of the balance sheet date, but does not represent exposure to credit, interest rate or market risks.

(1) The interest rate swap agreement was executed by Prentiss Office Investors, L.P., a partnership which is 51% owned by our operating partnership.

The interest rate swaps effectively lock in our cost of funds at the swap rate paid (before the spread over LIBOR) on variable rate borrowings for principal amounts equal to the respective notional amounts above.

Capital Improvements

Our properties require periodic investments of capital for tenant-related capital expenditures and for general capital improvements. The majority of capital required relates to tenant-related capital expenditures and is dependent upon our leasing activity. Our leasing activity is a function of the percentage of our in-place leases expiring in current and future periods accompanied by our exposure to tenant defaults and our ability to increase the average occupancy of our portfolio. For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, capital expenditures related to our in-service properties totaled $40.2 million. We classify capital expenditures for in-service properties as non-incremental and incremental revenue-enhancing capital expenditures representing our estimate of recurring versus non-recurring capital requirements, respectively. Our non-incremental and incremental capital expenditures for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 totaled approximately $32.2 million and $8.0 million, respectively.

Equity Financing

During the three months ended September 30, 2005, we issued 1,118,286 common shares of beneficial interest, par value $0.01 per share. The table below details the common shares issued during the period, common shares in treasury activity during the period and the common shares outstanding at September 30, 2005:

At September 30, 2005 we held a non-controlling 50% interest in Broadmoor Austin Associates.

Our investment in Broadmoor Austin Associates totaling $4.8 million represents less than 0.2% of our total assets as of September 30, 2005 and contributed 2.2% of our cash flow from operations for the nine months ended September 30, 2005. Our investment, however, does provide us with several benefits including increased market share, improved commitment to the property from the tenant/partner and management fee income.

Broadmoor Austin Associates represents a real estate joint venture which owns and operates office properties in Austin, Texas. We act as managing venture partner and have the authority to conduct the business affairs of each joint venture, subject to approval and veto rights of the other venture partner. We account for our interest in this joint venture using the equity method of accounting. In addition to our real estate related investment, at September 30, 2005, we held $1.6 million of common securities issued by Prentiss Properties Capital Trust I and $774,000 of common securities issued by Prentiss Properties Capital Trust II which we account for using the cost method of accounting.

The following information summarizes the financial position at September 30, 2005 for the investments in which we held an unconsolidated interest at September 30, 2005:

(1) The mortgage debt, which is non-recourse, is collateralized by the individual real estate properties within the venture. Our proportionate share of the non-recourse mortgage debt totaled $63.4 million at September 30, 2005.

- (2) At December 31, 2004, we owned a 25% non-controlling interest in Tysons International Partners, an entity, which owns two office properties containing 456,000 net rentable square feet in the Northern Virginia area. On May 2, 2005, we acquired the remaining 75% interest in the properties owned by the joint venture. Prior to our acquisition of the remaining 75% for $103.2 million, we contributed to the joint venture $14.7 million representing our pro rata share of the outstanding indebtedness on the properties.

As a condition of closing, out of proceeds from the sale and our capital contribution, the joint venture prepaid the outstanding indebtedness collateralized by the properties.

The prepayment amount totaled $67.6 million of which $8.8 million represented a prepayment penalty. Net income for Tysons International Partners for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 includes the $8.8 million loss from debt prepayment but excludes the gain on sale resulting from our acquisition of the remaining 75% interest in the joint venture.

In connection with the disposition of a real estate property in May 2001, we entered into a financial guarantee with a maximum future potential payment of $1.4 million. The financial guarantee, provided to the third party purchaser, guaranteed payment of an amount not to exceed the $1.4 million potential maximum if certain tenants, as defined in the purchase and sale agreement, fail to extend their leases beyond the maturities of their current in-place leases. An amount totaling $1.0 million representing consideration to be paid in the event a certain tenant failed to extend its in-place lease was considered probable at the date of disposition and therefore, accrued during the year ended December 31, 2001. During the year ended December 31, 2003, we paid an amount totaling

$1.0 million to the third party purchaser as a result of the failure of the tenant to extend its in-place lease. See further discussion and table presented under the Contractual Obligations and Commercial Commitments section below.

Contractual Obligations and Commercial Commitments

We have contractual obligations including mortgages and notes payable and ground lease obligations. The table below presents, as of September 30, 2005, our future scheduled principal repayments of our consolidated mortgages and notes payable and ground lease obligations of our consolidated properties:

Contractual Obligations (in thousands)	Total	Payments Due by Period			Thereafter
		2005	2006/2007	2008/2009
Mortgages and notes payable	$ 1,356,630	$ 1,792	$ 260,258	$ 456,302	$ 638,278
Capital lease obligations
Ground leases	30,137	105	841	848	28,343

Other long-term obligations
Total contractual cash obligations	$ 1,386,767	$ 1,897	$ 261,099	$ 457,150	$ 666,621

Our mortgages and notes payable consists of $810.3 million and $546.4 million of fixed rate and variable rate debt obligations, respectively. At September 30, 2005, our fixed rate debt obligations were subject to a weighted average interest rate of 6.67% and our variable rate debt obligations were subject to interest rates that range from 30-day LIBOR plus 85 basis points to 30-day LIBOR plus 140 basis points. $375.0 million of our variable rate debt was effectively locked at an interest rate before the spread over LIBOR of 3.86% through our interest rate swap agreements. Interest payable under our mortgages and notes payable outstanding at September 30, 2005 are as follows:

(in thousands)	Total	Payments Due by Period			Thereafter
		2005	2006/2007	2008/2009
Interest payable ⁽¹⁾	460,401	20,404	147,207	101,693	191,097

(1) Interest payable under our variable rate loans is calculated using a variable interest rate at September 30, 2005 which is equal to 30-day LIBOR of 3.86% plus our spread over LIBOR which ranges between 85 basis points and 140 basis points.

As a condition of the purchase and sale and as security for our guarantee, as discussed under the Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements section above, we provided to the title company at closing, irrevocable letters of credit, totaling $1.4 million, drawn on a financial institution and identifying the purchaser as beneficiary. One letter of credit totaling $1.0 million expired in 2003. The balance of the remaining letter of credit totaled $189,000 at September 30, 2005.

On May 17, 2005, a letter of credit for $2.5 million was issued to a lender in lieu of establishing an escrow account. The letter of credit automatically renews each year and may be reduced upon meeting certain conditions.

An additional Letter of Credit agreement was executed in connection with our loan assumption at Concord Airport Plaza. Concord Airport Plaza Associates, L.P., delivered letters of credit for $6.0 million and $590,000 issued from our revolving credit facility to Teachers Annuity Association of America. The letter of credit in the amount of $6.0 million was issued in lieu of a tenant improvement escrow account, automatically renews each year, and has annual increases of $727,000 per year until July 1, 2010 when it shall equal $9.6 million. The letter of credit in the amount of $590,000 was issued in lieu of a tax escrow account, automatically renews each year and may be increased to cover annual property tax payments.

The outstanding balance of our letters of credit, which total $9.3 million in the aggregate, expire as noted in the table below.

Commitment Expiration by Period

Other Commercial Commitments (in thousands)	Total	Commitment Expiration by Period

In June 2004, we began construction on High Bluff Ridge at Del Mar, an office development project with approximately 158,000 net rentable square feet located in Del Mar, California. The anticipated investment for this project totals $48.1 million of which $38.9 million has been incurred as of September 30, 2005. We have signed leases for approximately 110,000 square feet, or 69.6% of the project. The building's shell, core and parking facility were completed during this quarter, while tenant finishes are in process and leases are expected to commence in the last quarter of 2005.

Table of Contents

The merger agreement with Brandywine, dated as of October 3, 2005, provides that if we enter into a competing transaction, fail to call a shareholder meeting or our board of trustees withdraws or materially modifies its recommendation in favor of the merger, we would be obligated to pay Brandywine a $60.0 million termination fee. In the alternative, if the merger is not approved by our shareholders or we fail to comply with one of the obligations under the merger agreement and such failure causes the merger not to occur before April 1, 2006, we would be obligated to pay Brandywine an alternate fee of $12.5 million. In either case, we would also be required to reimburse Brandywine up to $6.0 million in fees.

Funds from Operations

Funds from operations is a widely recognized measure of REIT operating performance. Funds from operations is a non-GAAP financial measure and, as defined by the National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts, means net income, computed in accordance with GAAP excluding extraordinary items, as defined by GAAP, and gains (or losses) from sales of property, plus depreciation and amortization on real estate assets, and after adjustments for unconsolidated partnerships, joint ventures and subsidiaries. We believe that funds from operations is helpful to investors and our management as a measure of our operating performance because it excludes depreciation and amortization, gains and losses from property dispositions, and extraordinary items, and, as a result, when compared period over period, reflects the impact on operations from trends in occupancy rates, rental rates, operating costs, development activities, general and administrative expenses, and interest costs, providing perspective not immediately apparent from net income. In addition, our management believes that funds from operations provides useful information to the investment community about our financial performance when compared to other REITs since funds from operations is generally recognized as the industry standard for reporting the operating performance of REITs. However, our funds from operations may not be comparable to funds from operations reported by other REITs that do not define funds from operations exactly as we do. We believe that in order to facilitate a clear understanding of our operating results, funds from operations should be examined in conjunction with net income as presented in our consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in this Form 10-Q. We believe that net income is the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure to funds from operations. Funds from operations does not represent cash generated from operating activities in accordance with GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net income as an indication of our performance or to cash flows as a measure of liquidity or ability to make distributions. Funds from operations does not reflect either depreciation and amortization costs or the level of capital expenditures and leasing costs necessary to maintain the operating performance of our properties, which are significant economic costs that could materially impact our results of operations.

The following is a reconciliation of net income to funds from operations:

Funds from operations (in thousands)	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,

Funds from operations ⁽³⁾	$ 26,216	$ 38,644	$ 97,020	$ 110,185

- (1) Includes real estate depreciation and amortization included in continuing operations and real estate depreciation and amortization included in discontinued operations.
- (2) Represents the minority interests applicable to the common unit holders of the operating partnership.
- (3) Impairment losses and debt defeasance related to real estate are not added back in our reconciliation of net income to funds from operations; therefore, for periods in which impairment losses or debt defeasance are recognized, funds from operations is negatively impacted. We recognized an impairment loss on our Corporetum assets of $10.2 million and a $68,000 loss on debt prepayment for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005. In addition, we recognized an impairment loss on a mortgage loan of $500,000 and a loss on debt prepayment of $2.2 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2005. We recognized debt defeasance of $5.3 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2004.

Funds from operations decreased by $12.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2005 from the three months ended September 30, 2004, and decreased $13.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 from the nine months ended September 30, 2004 as a result of factors discussed in the analysis of operating results.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board Issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123(R), Share-Based Payment, a revision to Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. The Statement supersedes APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and its related implementation guidance.

The Statement which focuses primarily on accounting for transactions in which an entity obtains employee services in share-based payment transactions, establishes standards for the accounting for transactions in which an entity exchanges its equity instruments for goods or services. It also addresses transactions in which an entity incurs liabilities in exchange for goods or services that are based on the fair value of the entity's equity instruments or that may be settled by the issuance of those equity instruments.

The Statement requires a public entity to measure the cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of equity instruments based on the grant-date fair value of the award (with limited exceptions). That cost will be recognized over the period during which an employee is required to provide service in exchange for the award the requisite service period (usually the vesting period). No compensation cost is recognized for equity instruments for which employees do not render the requisite service.

The Statement, which originally was to take effect the beginning of the first interim or annual reporting period that begins after June 15, 2005 for public entities that do not file as small business issuers, was amended on April 14, 2005. The Securities and Exchange Commission adopted a new rule to amend the compliance dates, which now allows companies to implement the statement at the beginning of their next fiscal year. The Statement will not have a material impact on our financial statements.

In May 2005, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued FASB Statement No. 154, Accounting Changes and Error Corrections, a replacement of APB Opinion No. 20 and FASB Statement No. 3. The Statement provides guidance on the accounting for and reporting of accounting changes and error corrections. It establishes, unless impracticable, retrospective application as the required method for reporting a change in accounting principle in the absence of explicit transition requirements specific to the newly adopted accounting principle. This Statement is effective for accounting changes and corrections of errors made in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005.

At the June 2005 EITF meeting, the Task Force reached a consensus on EITF 04-5, Determining Whether a General Partner, or the General Partners as a Group, Controls a Limited Partnership or Similar Entity When the Limited Partners Have Certain Rights. The consensus provides a framework for addressing when a general partner, or general partners as a group, controls a limited partnership or similar entity. The Task Force reached a consensus that for general partners of all new limited partnerships formed and for existing limited partnerships for which the partnership agreements are modified, the guidance in this issue is effective after June 29, 2005. For general partners in other limited partnerships, the guidance is effective no later than the beginning of the first reporting period in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005. The Task Force also amended EITF 96-16 to be consistent with the consensus reached in Issue No. 04-05. Additionally, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued FSP SOP 78-9-1 which amends the guidance in SOP 78-9 to be consistent with the consensus in 04-5. We are currently evaluating the impact on our financial statements of this framework, the amendments to EITF 96-16 and FSP SOP 78-9-1.

Also at the June 2005 meeting, the Task Force reached a consensus on EITF 05-6, Determining the Amortization Period for Leasehold Improvements Purchased after Lease Inception or Acquired in a Business Combination. The consensus reached is that the leasehold improvements, whether acquired in a business combination or that are placed in service significantly after and not contemplated at or near the beginning of the lease term, should be amortized over the shorter of the useful life of the assets or a term that includes required lease periods and renewals that are deemed to be reasonably assured. The consensus in this issue which is to be applied to leasehold improvements that are purchased or acquired in reporting periods beginning after June 29, 2005 will not have a material impact on our financial statements.

Table of ContentsItem 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Our primary market risk is exposure to changes in interest rates as a result of our revolving credit facility and long-term debt. At September 30, 2005, we had total consolidated indebtedness outstanding of approximately $1.4 billion. Our interest rate risk objective is to limit the impact of interest rate fluctuations on earnings and cash flows and to lower our overall borrowing costs. To achieve this objective, we manage our exposure to fluctuations in market interest rates for our borrowings through the use of fixed rate debt instruments to the extent that reasonably favorable rates are obtainable with such arrangements. In addition, we may enter into derivative financial instruments such as options, forwards, interest rate swaps, caps and floors to mitigate our interest rate risk on a related financial instrument or to effectively lock the interest rate on a portion of our variable rate debt. We do not enter into derivative or interest rate transactions for speculative purposes. Approximately 59.7% of our outstanding consolidated debt was subject to fixed rates with a weighted average interest rate of 6.67% at September 30, 2005. Of the remaining $546.4 million, or 40.3%, representing our variable rate debt, $375.0 million was effectively locked at September 30, 2005 at an interest rate (before the spread over LIBOR) of 3.86% through our interest rate swap agreements. We regularly review interest rate exposure on our outstanding borrowings in an effort to minimize the risk of interest rate fluctuations.

The following table provides information about our financial instruments that are sensitive to changes in interest rates, including interest rate swaps and debt obligations. For debt obligations outstanding at September 30, 2005, the table presents principal cash flows and related weighted average interest rates for consolidated debt outstanding during the periods. For interest rate swaps, the table presents notional amounts expiring and weighted average interest rates for in-place swaps during the period. Notional amounts are used to calculate the contractual payments to be exchanged under the contract. Weighted average variable rates are based on 30-day LIBOR of 3.86% at September 30, 2005 plus our contractual spread over LIBOR. The fair value of our fixed rate debt indicates the estimated principal amount of debt having similar debt service requirements, which could have been borrowed by us at September 30, 2005. The rate assumed in the fair value calculation of fixed rate debt is between 5.01% and 5.71%, representing our estimated borrowing rate for fixed rate debt instruments similar in term to those outstanding at September 30, 2005 (using U.S. Treasury Securities at September 30, 2005 plus a spread between 100 and 150 basis points). The fair value of our variable to fixed interest rate swaps indicates the estimated amount that we would receive had they been terminated at September 30, 2005. Exclusive of our interest rate swaps, if 30-day LIBOR increased 100 basis points, total interest expense would increase $5.5 million.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

As of September 30, 2005, under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, we evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Securities Exchange Act Rules 13a-15 and 15d-15. Based upon that evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded as of September 30, 2005 that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and forms.

There have been no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the three months ended September 30, 2005 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, such internal control over financial reporting.
