Centex Corporation and Subsidiaries
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2006

(Unless otherwise indicated, dollars and shares in thousands, except per share data)
(unaudited)

(A) BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The consolidated interim financial statements include the accounts of Centex Corporation and all subsidiaries, partnerships and other entities in which Centex Corporation has a controlling interest (the Company). Also included in the consolidated financial statements are certain variable interest entities, as discussed in Note (E), Inventories and Note (G), Indebtedness. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated. The unaudited statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States have been condensed or omitted.

In the opinion of the Company, all adjustments (consisting of normal, recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly the information in the consolidated financial statements of the Company have been included. The results of operations for such interim periods are not necessarily indicative of results for the full year. These consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and the notes to consolidated financial statements included in the Company's latest Annual Report on Form 10-K.

The results of operations and financial position of the Company's international homebuilding and sub-prime home equity operations have been separately reported as discontinued operations for all periods presented. For additional information, refer to Note (O), Discontinued Operations. Information in these Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements, unless otherwise noted, does not include the accounts of discontinued operations.

(B) STATEMENTS OF CONSOLIDATED CASH FLOWS SUPPLEMENTAL DISCLOSURES

In accordance with the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 95, Statement of Cash Flows, the Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows have not been restated for discontinued operations. For further information on the sale of the Company's international homebuilding and sub-prime home equity operations, see Note (O), Discontinued Operations. As a result, all international homebuilding cash flows are included with the Centex cash flows and all Centex Home Equity Company, LLC (Home Equity) cash flows are included with the Financial Services cash flows.

The following table provides supplemental disclosures related to the Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows:

Table of Contents

Interest expense relating to the Financial Services segment is included in Financial Services costs and expenses. Home Building capitalizes interest incurred as a component of housing projects inventory cost. Capitalized interest is included in Home Building s costs and expenses as related housing inventories are sold. For the three and nine months ended December 31, 2005, any interest expense not capitalized related to segments other than Financial Services and Home Building is included as a separate line item in the Statements of Consolidated Earnings.

As explained in Note (E), Inventories, pursuant to the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, as revised (FIN 46), as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, the Company consolidated $262.4 million and $653.3 million, respectively, of land as inventory under the caption land held under option agreements not owned, with corresponding increases to minority interests and other indebtedness. In addition to land options recorded pursuant to FIN 46, as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, the Company recorded $66.5 million and $61.9 million, respectively, of land under the caption land held under option agreements not owned pursuant to the provisions of SFAS No. 49, Accounting for Product Financing Arrangements, (SFAS 49).

As illustrated in Note (D), Stockholders Equity, the Company retired 15.0 million shares of treasury stock in September 2006. The retirement served to decrease common stock and treasury stock by $3.8 million and $896.6 million, respectively, and to decrease capital in excess of par value and retained earnings by $645.1 and $247.8 million, respectively.

(C) STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION ARRANGEMENTS

Prior to January 1, 2006, the Company accounted for its stock-based compensation arrangements in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, under which the Company recognized compensation expense of a stock option award over the vesting period based on the fair value of the award on the grant date. Effective January 1, 2006, the Company adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 123(R) entitled Share-Based Payment, (SFAS 123R) using the modified-prospective transition method. Accordingly, prior periods have not been restated. The adoption of SFAS 123R was not significant.

Prior to the adoption of SFAS 123R, the Company presented all tax benefits related to deductions resulting from the exercise of stock options as operating activities in the Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows. SFAS 123R requires that cash flows resulting from tax benefits related to tax deductions in excess of the compensation expense recognized for those options (excess tax benefits) be classified as financing cash flows. As a result, the Company included $15.6 million of excess tax benefits under the caption proceeds from stock option exercises, for the nine months ended December 31, 2006.

Table of Contents

The following information represents the Company's grants of stock-based compensation to employees and directors prior to recognition of estimated forfeitures during the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and for the year ended March 31, 2006:

Period of Grant	Grant Type	Number of Shares Granted	Fair Value of Grant
For the year ended March 31, 2006	Stock Options	1,716.2	$39,301.2
	Stock Units	556.6	$31,926.9
	Restricted Stock	249.4	$14,551.1
For the nine months ended December 31, 2006	Stock Options	1,383.1	$27,860.2
	Stock Units	354.9	$19,341.0
	Restricted Stock	121.2	$ 6,379.9

Stock units and restricted stock are recognized as compensation expense over the vesting period based on the fair market value of the Company's stock on the date of grant. The fair value of stock options granted is calculated under the Black-Scholes option-pricing model, and is recognized as compensation over the vesting period.

Table of Contents(E) INVENTORIES*Housing Projects and Land Held for Development and Sale

Housing projects are stated at the lower of cost (including direct construction costs, capitalized interest and real estate taxes) or fair value less cost to sell. The relief of capitalized costs is included in Home Building costs and expenses in the Statements of Consolidated Earnings when related revenues are recognized. A summary of housing projects is provided below:

	December 31, 2006	As of March 31, 2006
Direct Construction	$ 3,917,752	$ 3,218,138
Land Under Development	5,700,202	5,200,999
Housing Projects	$ 9,617,954	$ 8,419,137

For the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, the Company recorded $205.4 million and $235.4 million in impairments and other land write-offs to land under development primarily due to challenging market conditions and, to a lesser extent, cost overruns. No significant land-related impairments were recorded for the same periods in the prior year.

Land Held Under Option Agreements Not Owned and Other Land Deposits

In order to ensure the future availability of land for homebuilding, the Company enters into land option purchase agreements. Under the option agreements, the Company pays a stated deposit or issues a letter of credit in consideration for the right to purchase land at a future time, usually at predetermined prices. These options generally do not contain performance requirements from the Company nor obligate the Company to purchase the land, and expire on various dates. At December 31, 2006, the Company had 305 land option agreements.

The Company has determined that in accordance with the provisions of FIN 46, it is the primary beneficiary of 26 land option agreements at December 31, 2006. As a result, the Company recorded $262.4 million and $653.3 million as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, respectively, of land as inventory under the caption land held under option agreements not owned, with increases to minority interests and $161.2 million in other indebtedness at March 31, 2006.

In addition to land options recorded pursuant to FIN 46, the Company recorded $66.5 million and $61.9 million as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, respectively, of land under the caption land held under option agreements not owned, with a corresponding increase to accrued liabilities related to 7 land option agreements. These land options were recorded in accordance with the provisions of SFAS 49, whereby, the Company's deposits and pre-acquisition development costs exceeded certain thresholds or the Company's management has determined it is likely the Company will exercise its option.

The balance of the lot option contracts and the related deposits are included in land held for development and sale. The following table summarizes the Company's investment in land option agreements and the total purchase price of land under such agreements (dollars in millions):

	December 31, 2006	As of March 31, 2006

Table of Contents

In addition to deposits, the Company capitalizes pre-acquisition development costs related to land held under option agreements. As of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, pre-acquisition development costs recorded to land held for development and sale were $54.3 million and $173.2 million, respectively.

The Company writes off deposits and pre-acquisition costs when a decision is made not to exercise an option or consummate a land acquisition. Write-offs of land deposits and pre-acquisition costs amounted to $138.0 million and $263.8 million for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, respectively, as compared to $5.9 million and $18.9 million for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2005, respectively.

(F) GOODWILL

A summary of changes in goodwill by segment for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 is presented below:

Centex's short-term debt as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006 consisted of commercial paper of $305.0 million and $125.0 million, respectively, and land and land related acquisition notes of $1.8 million and $2.2 million, respectively. As of March 31, 2006, other indebtedness included $161.2 million of debt at a weighted-average rate of approximately 9.73% held by variable interest entities, for which the Company determined it was the primary beneficiary and which was consolidated pursuant to FIN 46. Subsequent to March 31, 2006, these variable interest entities were restructured such that the Company is no longer the primary beneficiary. As a result, these variable interest entities were not consolidated as of December 31, 2006.

CTX Mortgage Company, LLC and Harwood Street Funding I, LLC

Mortgage loans held for sale are primarily funded by CTX Mortgage Company, LLC's sale of substantially all the mortgage loans it originates to Harwood Street Funding I, LLC (HSF-I), pursuant to a mortgage loan purchase agreement, as amended (the HSF-I Purchase Agreement). Under the terms of the HSF-I Purchase Agreement, CTX Mortgage Company, LLC may elect to sell to HSF-I, and HSF-I is obligated to purchase from CTX Mortgage Company, LLC, mortgage loans that satisfy certain eligibility criteria and portfolio requirements. HSF-I's commitment to purchase eligible mortgage loans continues in effect until the occurrence of certain termination events described in the HSF-I Purchase Agreement. At December 31, 2006, the maximum amount of mortgage loans that HSF-I is allowed to carry in its inventory under the HSF-I Purchase Agreement is $3.0 billion. When HSF-I acquires mortgage loans, it typically holds them on average approximately 60 days and then resells them into the secondary market. In accordance with the HSF-I Purchase Agreement, CTX Mortgage Company, LLC acts as servicer of the loans owned by HSF-I and arranges for the sale of the eligible mortgage loans into the secondary market. HSF-I obtains the funds needed to purchase eligible mortgage loans from CTX Mortgage Company, LLC by issuing (1) short-term secured liquidity notes, (2) medium-term debt and (3) subordinated certificates. As of December 31, 2006, HSF-I had outstanding (1) short-term secured liquidity notes rated A1+ by Standard & Poor's, or S&P, and P-1 by

Table of Contents

Moody's Investors Service, or Moody's, and (2) subordinated certificates maturing in September 2009, extendable for up to five years, rated BBB by S&P and Baa2 by Moody's. The purposes of this arrangement are to allow CTX Mortgage Company, LLC to reduce funding costs associated with its originations, to improve its liquidity and to reduce credit risks associated with mortgage warehousing.

Pursuant to FIN 46, HSF-I is a variable interest entity for which the Company is the primary beneficiary. Accordingly, HSF-I was consolidated in the Company's financial statements beginning July 1, 2003.

HSF-I has entered into a swap arrangement with a bank (the Harwood Swap) under which the bank has agreed to make certain payments to HSF-I, and HSF-I has agreed to make certain payments to the bank, the net effect of which is that the bank has agreed to bear certain interest rate risks, non-credit related market risks and prepayment risks related to the mortgage loans held by HSF-I. The purpose of this arrangement is to provide credit enhancement to HSF-I by permitting it to hedge these risks with a counterparty having a short-term credit rating of A1+ from S&P and P-1 from Moody's. However, the Company effectively bears all interest rate risks, non-credit related market risks and prepayment risks that are the subject of the Harwood Swap because Centex has entered into a separate swap arrangement with the bank pursuant to which Centex has agreed to pay to the bank all amounts that the bank is required to pay to HSF-I pursuant to the Harwood Swap plus a monthly fee equal to a percentage of the notional amount of the Harwood Swap. Additionally, the bank is required to pay to Centex all amounts that the bank receives from HSF-I pursuant to the Harwood Swap. CTX Mortgage Company, LLC executes forward sales of mortgage loans to hedge the risk of reductions in value of mortgages sold to HSF-I or maintained under secured financing agreements. This offsets the majority of the Company's risk as the counterparty to the swap supporting the payment requirements of HSF-I. See additional discussion of interest rate risks in Note (L), Derivatives and Hedging. The Company is also required to reimburse the bank for certain expenses, costs and damages that it may incur.

HSF-I's debt and subordinated certificates do not have recourse to the Company, and the consolidation of this debt and subordinated certificates has not changed the Company's debt ratings. The Company does not guarantee the payment of any debt or subordinated certificates of HSF-I and is not liable for credit losses relating to securitized residential mortgage loans sold to HSF-I. However, the Company retains certain risks related to the portfolio of mortgage loans held by HSF-I. In particular, CTX Mortgage Company, LLC makes representations and warranties to HSF-I to the effect that each mortgage loan sold to HSF-I satisfies the eligibility criteria and portfolio requirements discussed above. CTX Mortgage Company, LLC may be required to repurchase mortgage loans sold to HSF-I if such mortgage loans are determined to be ineligible loans or there occur certain other breaches of representations and warranties of CTX Mortgage Company, LLC, as seller or servicer. CTX Mortgage Company, LLC's obligations as servicer, including its obligation as servicer to repurchase such loans, are guaranteed by Centex Corporation. CTX Mortgage Company, LLC records a liability for its estimated losses for these obligations and such amount is included in its loan origination reserve. CTX Mortgage Company, LLC and its related companies sold $2.31 billion and $3.10 billion of mortgage loans to investors during the three months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, and $7.56 billion and $9.20 billion during the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. CTX Mortgage Company, LLC and its related companies recognized gains on sales of mortgage loans and related derivative activity of $36.4 million and $40.6 million during the three months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, and $122.8 million and $126.0 million during the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

In the event CTX Mortgage Company, LLC is unable to finance its inventory of loans through HSF-I, it would draw on other existing credit facilities. In addition, Financial Services would need to make other customary financing arrangements to fund its mortgage loan origination activities. Although the Company believes that Financial Services could arrange for alternative financing that is common for non-investment grade mortgage companies, there can be no assurance that such financing would be available on satisfactory terms, and any delay in obtaining such financing could adversely affect the results of operations of Financial Services.

Table of Contents(H) COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES*Joint Ventures

The Company conducts a portion of its land acquisition, development and other activities through its participation in joint ventures in which the Company holds less than a majority interest. These land-related activities typically require substantial capital, and partnering with other developers and, to a lesser extent, financial partners, allows Home Building to share the risks and rewards of ownership and to provide broader strategic advantages.

The Company accounts for its investments in joint ventures under the equity method of accounting whereby the Company's investment is increased by contributions and its share of joint venture earnings and is reduced by distributions and its share of joint venture losses. Investments in joint ventures in which the Company's interest exceeds 50% have been consolidated.

A summary of the Company's Home Building joint ventures is presented below:

	December 31, 2006	As of March 31, 2006
Number of Active Joint Ventures ⁽¹⁾	48	44
Investment in Joint Ventures	$ 231,001	$ 307,779

Repayment Guarantee ^{(4) (5)}	12,015	8,136
Total Limited Recourse Debt	$ 201,636	$ 236,739

(1) The number of active joint ventures includes unconsolidated Home Building joint ventures for which the Company has an investment balance as of the end of the period and/or current fiscal year activity. The Company is the managing member of 28 and 24 of the active joint ventures as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, respectively.

(2) As of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, 25 and 23, respectively, of the active joint ventures have outstanding debt.

(3) The Company has guaranteed that certain of the joint ventures will maintain a specified loan to value ratio. For certain joint ventures, the Company has contributed additional capital in order to maintain loan to value requirements.

(4) The Company has guaranteed repayment of a portion of certain joint venture debt limited to its ownership percentage of the joint venture or a percentage thereof.

These amounts represent the Company's maximum exposure related to the joint ventures' debt at each respective date.

Debt agreements for joint ventures vary by lender in terms of structure and level of recourse. For certain of the joint ventures, the Company is also liable, on a contingent basis, through other guarantees, letters of credit or other arrangements with respect to a portion of the construction debt. Certain joint venture agreements require the Company to guarantee the completion of a project or phase if the joint venture does not perform the required development. To the extent development costs exceed amounts available under the joint venture's credit facility, the Company would be liable for incremental costs to complete development. Additionally, the Company has agreed to indemnify the construction lender for certain environmental liabilities in the case of most joint ventures, and most guarantee arrangements provide that the Company is liable for its proportionate share of the outstanding debt if the joint venture files for voluntary bankruptcy. To date, the Company has not been requested to perform under the other contingent arrangements discussed in this paragraph.

The Company also has investments in joint ventures related to its Construction Services and Other segments totaling $2,987 and $2,605 as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, respectively.

Table of ContentsLetters of Credit and Surety Bonds

In the normal course of business, the Company issues letters of credit and surety bonds pursuant to: (1) certain performance related obligations, (2) as security for certain land option purchase agreements of the Home Building segment, (3) construction obligations of the Construction Services segment, and (4) under various insurance programs. The Company does not believe that these letters of credit or bonds will be drawn upon.

A summary of the Company's outstanding letters of credit and surety bonds as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006 is presented below (dollars in millions):

Warranties and Guarantees

In the normal course of its business, the Company issues certain warranties and guarantees or makes certain representations related to its home sales, land sales, building sales, commercial construction and mortgage loan originations. The Company believes that it has established the necessary accruals for these representations, warranties and guarantees. See further discussion of our warranty liability below.

Home Building offers a ten-year limited warranty for most homes constructed and sold. The warranty covers defects in materials or workmanship in the first two years of the customers' ownership of the home and certain designated components or structural elements of the home in the third through tenth years. Home Building estimates the costs that may be incurred under its warranty program for which it will be responsible and records a liability at the time each home is closed. Factors that affect Home Building's warranty liability include the number of homes closed, historical and anticipated rates of warranty claims, and cost per claim. Home Building regularly assesses the adequacy of its recorded warranty liability and adjusts the amounts as necessary.

Changes in Home Building's contractual warranty liability are as follows for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and the year ended March 31, 2006:

	December 31, 2006	March 31, 2006

Table of ContentsLoan Loss Reserves

CTX Mortgage Company, LLC has established a liability for anticipated losses associated with loans originated based upon, among other factors, historical loss rates and current trends in loan originations. This liability includes losses associated with certain borrower payment defaults, credit quality issues, or misrepresentations and reflects management's judgment of the loss exposure at the end of the reporting period. Changes in CTX Mortgage Company, LLC's mortgage loan origination reserve are as follows for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and the year ended March 31, 2006:

	December 31, 2006	March 31, 2006
Balance at Beginning of Period	$ 18,500	$ 18,803

Balance at End of Period	$ 21,983	$ 18,500

Litigation and Related Matters

In the normal course of its business, the Company is named as a defendant in certain suits filed in various state and federal courts. Management believes that none of the litigation matters in which the Company or any subsidiary is involved, including those described below, would have a material adverse effect on the consolidated financial condition or operations of the Company.

In January 2003, the Company received a request for information from the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) pursuant to Section 308 of the Clean Water Act seeking information about storm water pollution prevention practices at projects that the Company had completed or was building. Subsequently, the EPA limited its request to Home Building's operations at 30 communities. Home Building has provided the requested information and the United States Department of Justice (the Justice Department), acting on behalf of the EPA, has asserted that some of these and certain other communities (including one of Construction Services' projects) have violated regulatory requirements applicable to storm water discharges, and that injunctive relief and civil penalties may be warranted. Home Building and Construction Services believe they have defenses to the allegations made by the EPA and are exploring methods of settling this matter. In any settlement, the Justice Department will want the Company to pay civil penalties and sign a consent decree affecting the Company's storm water pollution prevention practices at construction sites.

A purported, but as yet uncertified, class action was filed in August 2006 against the administrative committee of the Company's profit sharing plan, the Company and certain of the Company's current and former directors and executive officers in federal court in Dallas, Texas alleging breach of fiduciary duty, violation of disclosure obligations to plan participants, failure to monitor the performance of plan fiduciaries, breach of duty of loyalty and violation of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 in connection with investments by the profit sharing plan in shares of the Company's common stock. This action was brought by certain former employees of the Company and seeks unspecified damages, costs, attorneys' fees and equitable and injunctive relief. The Company believes that this action is without merit and intends to defend it vigorously.

Table of Contents(I) COMPREHENSIVE INCOME (LOSS)

A summary of comprehensive income (loss) for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 is presented below:

	For the Three Months Ended		For the Nine Months Ended
	December 31,		December 31,

Comprehensive Income (Loss)	$ (228,146)	$ 329,015	$ 60,881	$ 834,091

The unrealized gain or loss on hedging instruments represented the deferral in other comprehensive income (loss) of the unrealized gain or loss on interest rate swap agreements designated as cash flow hedges. As of December 31, 2006, the Company had no cash flow hedges in place. Accumulated other comprehensive income of $15,738 associated with Home Equity as of the date of disposition of Home Equity was reclassified into earnings from discontinued operations.

(J) BUSINESS SEGMENTS

As of December 31, 2006, the Company operated in three principal business segments: Home Building, Financial Services and Construction Services. These segments operate in the United States and their markets are nationwide. Revenues from any one customer are not significant to the Company.

For the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, intersegment revenues and cost of sales are included in the results of operations for the individual segments but have been eliminated in consolidation. Intersegment eliminations include the elimination of Construction Services' revenues earned and costs and expenses incurred on multi-unit residential vertical construction for our Home Building business segment.

Home Building

Home Building's operations currently involve the purchase and development of land or lots and the construction and sale of detached and attached single-family homes (including resort and second home properties and lots) and land or lots.

In September 2005, the Company sold all of its international homebuilding operations, which had previously been included in the Home Building segment, to a third party for cash. As a result of the sale, the operating results of the international homebuilding operations for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2005 are included in discontinued operations in the Statements of Consolidated Earnings. See Note (O), Discontinued Operations, for additional information.

Financial Services

Financial Services' operations consist primarily of mortgage lending, title agency services and the sale of title insurance and other insurance products. These activities include mortgage origination and other related services for homes sold by the Company's subsidiaries and others. Financial Services' revenues include interest income of $32.0 million and $26.3 million for the three months and $91.2 million and $77.2 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. Substantially all of the Company's interest income in each year is earned by the Financial Services segment. Financial Services cost of sales is comprised of interest expense related to debt issued to fund its home financing activities.

On July 11, 2006, the Company completed the sale of Home Equity to an unrelated third party. The operating results of Home Equity for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and the three and nine months ended

Table of Contents

December 31, 2005 have been reclassified to discontinued operations in the Statements of Consolidated Earnings and all related assets and liabilities have been disclosed separately on the Consolidated Balance Sheets. See Note (O), Discontinued Operations, for additional information.

Construction Services

Construction Services operations involve the construction of buildings for both private and government interests including educational institutions, hospitals, multi-unit residential, correctional institutions, airport facilities, office buildings, hotels and resorts and sports facilities. As this segment generates positive cash flow, intercompany interest income (credited at the prime rate in effect) of $3.6 million and $2.8 million for the three months and $8.9 million and $6.6 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, is included in management's evaluation of this segment. However, the intercompany interest income is eliminated in consolidation and excluded from the tables presented below.

Other

The Company's Other segment includes corporate general and administrative expenses. Also included in the Other segment are the Company's home services operations, which are not material for purposes of segment reporting and interest expense not capitalized related to segments other than Financial Services.

(K) INCOME TAXES

For the three months ended December 31, 2006, the Company recognized an income tax benefit of $52.9 million as compared to income tax expense of $186.8 million for the three months ended December 31, 2005, respectively. As discussed below, during the three months ended December 31, 2006, the Company recorded an adjustment to increase its provision for income taxes. Excluding the effect of the tax adjustment, the overall tax rate was 37.9% for the three months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the 37.4% effective tax rate for the same period in the prior year.

Income tax expense totaled $109.7 million and $448.1 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. As discussed below, during the three months ended December 31, 2006, the Company recorded an adjustment to increase its provision for income taxes. Excluding the effect of the tax adjustment, the overall tax rate was 39.1% for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the 34.6% effective tax rate for the same period in the prior year. The increase in the effective tax rate for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the comparable period in the prior year primarily results from a nonrecurring tax benefit in fiscal year 2006 of $28.1 million payment from the U.S. Treasury that was, effectively, a tax refund. Additionally, the effective tax rate increased in fiscal year 2007 as a result of the net impact of various permanent items representing a larger component of taxable income due to the decrease in earnings from continuing operations in fiscal year 2007.

An accrued liability for potential audit assessments relating to various jurisdictions is reflected in current taxes payable including interest and penalties, if applicable. The accrued liability is an estimate based on the Company's assessment of the ultimate resolution of its tax positions in accordance with SFAS No. 5, Accounting for Contingencies. These estimated liabilities may be affected by changing interpretations of laws, rulings by tax authorities, certain changes and/or developments with respect to audits, and expiration of the statute of limitations.

Edgar Filing: CENTEX CORP - Form 10-Q

The Federal statute of limitations has expired for the Company's Federal tax returns filed for tax years through March 31, 2000. The Company's Federal income tax returns for fiscal years 2001 through 2004 are currently being examined by the IRS.

During the three months ended December 31, 2006, the Company recorded an incremental provision for taxes of $56.5 million in connection with the IRS proposing adjustments to the Company's 2001 through 2004 Federal income tax returns relating to the Company's use of certain net operating losses, among other items. The Company has recognized approximately $200 million of tax benefits related to these net operating losses in its previously filed tax returns.

The Company believes that its tax return positions are supported and will vigorously dispute these adjustments.

(L) DERIVATIVES AND HEDGING

The Company is exposed to the risk of interest rate fluctuations on its debt and other obligations. Financial Services, through CTX Mortgage Company, LLC, enters into mandatory forward trade commitments (forward trade commitments) designated as fair value hedges to hedge the interest rate risk related to its portfolio of mortgage loans held for sale. In addition, CTX Mortgage Company, LLC enters into other derivatives not designated as hedges. The following discussion summarizes our derivatives used to manage the risk of interest rate fluctuations.

Fair Value Hedges

Financial Services, through CTX Mortgage Company, LLC, enters into certain forward trade commitments designated as fair value hedges to hedge the interest rate risk related to its portfolio of mortgage loans held for sale, including mortgage loans held by HSF-I. Accordingly, changes in the fair value of the forward trade commitments and the mortgage loans, for which the hedge relationship is deemed effective, are recorded as an adjustment to earnings. To the extent the hedge is effective, gains or losses in the value of the hedged loans due to interest rate movement will be offset by an equal and opposite gain or loss in the value of the forward trade commitment. This will result in no impact to earnings. To the extent the hedge contains some ineffectiveness, the ineffectiveness is recognized immediately in earnings. The amount of hedge ineffectiveness included in earnings was a gain of approximately $4.0 million and $7.1 million for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, respectively. For the three and nine months ended December 31, 2005, the amount of hedge ineffectiveness included in earnings was a gain of approximately $2.5 million and $17.2 million, respectively.

Other Derivatives

Financial Services, through CTX Mortgage Company, LLC, enters into interest rate lock commitments (IRLCs) with its customers under which CTX Mortgage Company, LLC agrees to make mortgage loans at agreed upon rates within a period of time, generally from 1 to 30 days, if certain conditions are met. Initially, the IRLCs are treated as derivative instruments and their fair value is recorded on the balance sheet in other assets or accrued liabilities. The fair value of these loan commitment derivatives does not include future cash flows related to the associated servicing of the loan or the value of any internally-developed intangible assets. Subsequent changes in the fair value of the IRLCs are recorded as an adjustment to earnings.

To offset the interest rate risk related to its IRLCs, CTX Mortgage Company, LLC executes forward trade commitments. Certain forward trade commitments are not designated as hedges and are derivative instruments. Their initial fair value is recorded on the balance sheet in other assets or accrued liabilities. Subsequent changes in the fair value of these forward trade commitments are recorded as an adjustment to earnings.

The net change in the estimated fair value of other derivatives resulted in a loss of approximately $0.2 million and $1.9 million for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, respectively, as compared to a loss of approximately $1.4 million and $2.1 million for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2005, respectively.

(M) RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In December 2004, the FASB issued Staff Position 109-1 (FSP 109-1), Application of FASB Statement No. 109, which clarified that the tax deduction on qualified production activities provided by the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 should be accounted for as a special deduction and will reduce tax expense in the periods during which the amounts are deductible on the tax return. Based on the guidance provided by FSP 109-1, this deduction is accounted for as a special deduction under SFAS 109 which reduces income tax expense. The tax benefits resulting from the new deduction are reflected in the effective income tax rate for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005.

In July 2006, the FASB finalized and issued FIN 48, entitled Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes—an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109, which defines the threshold for recognizing the benefits of tax return positions as well as guidance regarding the measurement of the resulting tax benefits. FIN 48 requires a company to recognize for financial statement purposes the impact of a tax position if that position is more likely than not to prevail (defined as a likelihood of more than fifty percent of being sustained upon audit, based on the technical merits of the tax position). FIN 48 will be effective as of the beginning of the Company's fiscal year ending March 31, 2008, with the cumulative effect of the change in accounting principle recorded as an adjustment to retained earnings. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting FIN 48 on its financial statements.

In September 2006, the Securities and Exchange Commission Staff issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 108 (SAB 108) to require registrants to quantify financial statement misstatements that have been accumulating in their financial statements for years and to correct them, if material, without restating. Under the provisions of SAB 108, financial statement misstatements are to be quantified and evaluated for materiality using both balance sheet and income statement approaches. SAB 108 is effective for fiscal years ending after November 15, 2006. The Company is currently evaluating the impact, if any, of adopting SAB 108 on its financial statements.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157 (SFAS 157), Fair Value Measurements, which serves to define fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in generally accepted accounting principles, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS 157 will be effective as of the beginning of the Company's fiscal year ending March 31, 2009. The Company is currently evaluating the impact, if any, of adopting SFAS 157 on its financial statements.

(N) OFF-BALANCE SHEET OBLIGATIONS

The Company enters into various off-balance sheet transactions in the normal course of business in order to facilitate certain homebuilding activities. Further discussion regarding these transactions can be found above in Note (H), Commitments and Contingencies.

(O) DISCONTINUED OPERATIONSCondensed Financial Information

In September 2005, the Company sold its international homebuilding operations to an unrelated third party. As a result of the sale, international homebuilding's operations are included in discontinued operations in the Statements of Consolidated Earnings for the nine months ended December 31, 2005.

On July 11, 2006, the Company sold Home Equity to an unrelated third party and received $518.8 million in cash, net of related expenses and as adjusted for the settlement of post-closing adjustments, which included the repayment of certain intercompany amounts. The purchase price was based on the book value of Home Equity, plus a premium calculated in accordance with agreed upon formulas and procedures. The purchase price is also subject to an adjustment based upon the volume of mortgage loans originated by Home Equity during a two-year period after the closing date (the Volume Incentive Adjustment) as described below.

The Volume Incentive Adjustment will depend primarily upon the total volume of mortgage loans originated by Home Equity during the two-year period after the closing date, subject to adjustments to reflect a specific acquisition after such date. The maximum additional amount that could be payable to the Company as a result of the Volume Incentive Adjustment is $30 million. However, under certain circumstances, such provisions, as amended, could require the Company to repay up to $6.1 million, reduced from $10.0 million, of the amounts previously received from the purchaser. Contingent amounts received or receivable in future periods under the Volume Incentive Adjustment have been deferred and, therefore, will not be recognized into income until the contingency has been resolved. There can be no assurance as to the results of the Volume Incentive Adjustment, which will depend on the future operating results of Home Equity and other future events, many of which are outside of the Company's control.

Additionally, the Company has indemnified the purchaser of Home Equity for certain contingencies. The Company does not believe such contingencies will be material to the Company's results of operations or financial position. The net gain on sale recorded in connection with the sale of Home Equity is summarized below:

Sales and Related Proceeds, net of Related Expenses	$ 518,791

(P) SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

On February 1, 2007, the Company announced it signed a definitive agreement to sell Construction Services to an unrelated third party. The sale of Construction Services is subject to certain conditions, including the requirement that certain governmental and third party approvals be obtained. The Company anticipates a closing on March 31, 2007. The purchase price to be received in connection with the sale of Construction Services will consist of a cash payment at closing of $362 million, subject to certain adjustments, plus an aggregate of $60 million in cash to be paid in annual installments of $4 million over a 15-year period following the closing. In addition, all intercompany accounts between the Company and Construction Services will be repaid and settled in connection with the closing, which will include the Company's repayment of cash advanced to it by Construction Services. The Company currently estimates the settlement of intercompany accounts will require it to make a net payment of approximately $265 million to Construction Services. The Company will also pay transaction expenses and taxes in connection with the transaction. Construction Services will be reflected as a discontinued operation in the Company's financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2007.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The following discussion is intended to help the reader gain a better understanding of our financial condition and our results of operations. It is provided as a supplement to, and should be read in conjunction with, our financial statements and accompanying notes.

Executive Summary

The following charts summarize certain key line items of our results of operations by business segment for the three months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 (dollars in millions):

Revenues
Earnings (Loss) from Continuing Operations
Before Income Taxes

* Other consists of the financial results of our investment real estate and home services operations, as well as corporate general and administrative expense, certain interest expense and intersegment eliminations.

Our results of operations for the three months ended December 31, 2006 were significantly affected by deteriorating market conditions impacting our homebuilding business. During this period, the U.S. housing market experienced decreased demand, large supplies of home inventories and related pricing pressures. These market conditions were evidenced by increased homebuyer cancellation rates and increases in discounts and sale incentives to homebuyers. Revenues for the three months ended December 31, 2006 decreased 6.8% to $3.3 billion as compared to the three months ended December 31, 2005. Earnings from continuing operations before income taxes for the three months ended December 31, 2006 decreased 157.6% to a loss of $288 million as compared to the same period in the prior year.

The decrease in our revenues during the three months ended December 31, 2006 is primarily attributable to a decrease in Home Building's closings, combined with an increase in discounts and sale incentives.

The decrease in operating earnings as compared to the prior year was primarily attributable to the following factors in our homebuilding operations:

decreases in revenues as discussed above,

impairments recorded to land under development, an increase in write-offs of land deposits and pre-acquisition costs, and our share of losses from joint ventures which includes land impairments recorded by certain of such joint ventures.

Table of Contents

The following charts summarize certain key line items of our results of operations by business segment for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 (dollars in millions):

Revenues
Earnings (Loss) from Continuing Operations
Before Income Taxes

- * Other consists of the financial results of our investment real estate and home services operations, as well as corporate general and administrative expense, certain interest expense and intersegment eliminations.

Revenues for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 remained relatively flat when compared to the nine months ended December 31, 2005. Earnings from continuing operations before income taxes for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 decreased 89.5% to $136 million as compared to the same period in the prior year.

The slight increase in revenues during the nine months ended December 31, 2006 is primarily due to an increase in construction contract revenues from Construction Services. The decrease in revenues from Home Building and the decrease in overall operating earnings during the same period is a result of the same market conditions and effects thereon described above for the three months ended December 31, 2006. The impact of these factors has been more significant as the fiscal year has progressed.

Table of Contents

Overall, the long-term demand for housing in the United States is driven by population growth, immigration, household formations and increasing home ownership rates. Short-term growth drivers such as mortgage rates, consumer confidence and employment levels can also impact housing demand. Available housing supplies are also subject to variation based on a number of factors, including housing starts, inventories of existing homes available for sale and activities of speculative investors. The highly fragmented homebuilding industry is in the early stages of a consolidation phase during which large homebuilders grow faster than the industry as a whole. In 1995, based upon single-family permits issued in the United States, the 10 largest homebuilders represented approximately 7.2% of the housing market. In calendar year 2005 (the most recent data available), the 10 largest homebuilders were producing approximately 24% of the nation's new housing stock. We believe industry consolidation will continue to be an important industry factor over the next decade or more. We also believe that large homebuilders will realize the benefits of their size, capital strength and more efficient operations to gain market share when market conditions improve.

Beginning in fiscal year 2006, many U.S. housing markets experienced a significant downturn, which has directly affected our business and results of operations. We believe the principal factors that have resulted in this downturn include each of the following, the impact of which varies based upon geographic market and product segment:

- a decline in homebuyer demand due to lower consumer confidence in the consumer real estate market and a decrease in the affordability of housing in selected markets,

- increased inventory of new and used homes for sale, and

- pricing pressures resulting from the imbalance between supply and demand.

The decline in homebuyer demand can be attributed to concerns of prospective buyers of new homes about the direction of home prices, which has increased general uncertainty as to whether now is the best time to buy a home. The increase in inventory of new and used homes is in part a result of speculative investors becoming net sellers of homes rather than net buyers, as well as the inability of prospective buyers of new homes to sell their existing homes. The decrease in affordability of housing in selected markets reflects significant price appreciation in those markets over the past several years.

Consistent with these factors, we continue to experience substantial increases in customer cancellations, which have resulted in declines in sales orders (net of cancellations) of our homes in a majority of markets. For the three months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, cancellation rates were 38.5% and 27.2%, respectively. For the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, cancellation rates were 36.0% and 23.3%, respectively. We also have experienced a significant decline in operating margin primarily attributable to discounts and sales incentives and other actions taken in response to local market conditions, which were not offset by commensurate cost reductions. The deteriorating market conditions also resulted in write-offs of $263.8 million of deposits and pre-acquisition costs, $235.4 million in impairments and other land write-offs to land under development and $106.9 million, which represents our share of joint ventures' impairments for the nine months ended December 31, 2006. Continued deterioration in market conditions would result in further declines in sales of our homes, accumulation of unsold inventory and margin deterioration, as well as potential additional impairments and write-offs of deposits and pre-acquisition costs.

We expect that our business and results of operations will continue to be affected by the current downturn in U.S. housing markets, at least for the near term. We are adjusting our operations in response to market conditions by reducing our unsold inventory, generating cash from operations and lowering our costs. We believe that these actions will position us to capitalize on opportunities when market conditions improve.

Financial Services' revenues and operating results for the three months ended December 31, 2006 decreased primarily as a result of decreases in both Builder and Retail originations, partially offset by a decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses. The decline in Home Building sales has and could continue to have a negative impact on CTX Mortgage Company, LLC's future operating results. CTX Mortgage Company, LLC will continue to focus on serving the customers of our Home Building segment and increasing the percentage of prime mortgage loans provided to them.

The results of operations of certain of our segments, including our Home Building and Financial Services operations, may be adversely affected by increases in short-term and long-term interest rates. A significant increase in short-term interest rates above current prevailing levels could have an adverse effect on funding costs of our Financial Services operations. A significant increase in long-term interest rates above current prevailing levels could increase mortgage interest rates, which could affect the demand for housing, at least in the short term, by reducing the ability or willingness of prospective home buyers to finance home purchases. In addition, an increase in mortgage interest rates could curtail mortgage refinance activity. Although we expect that we would make adjustments in our operations in an effort to mitigate the effects of any increase in mortgage interest rates, there can be no assurances that these efforts would be successful.

Our Construction Services segment operating earnings for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 increased primarily as a result of a portfolio of larger jobs in terms of size and improved job profit margins. At December 31, 2006, Construction Services backlog was $2.94 billion, relatively consistent when compared to the prior year. Strategically, we will continue to focus on our core geographic and selected industry segments which provide greater opportunity to achieve growth in Construction Services revenues and operating earnings.

On July 11, 2006, we sold Centex Home Equity Company, LLC, which we refer to as Home Equity, to an unrelated third party and received $518.8 million in cash, net of related expenses and as adjusted for the settlement of post-closing adjustments, which includes the repayment of certain intercompany amounts. The purchase price consisted of a payment based on the book value of the company, plus a premium calculated in accordance with agreed upon formulas and procedures. For additional information regarding the sale of Home Equity, refer to Note (O), Discontinued Operations, of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements and our Current Reports on Form 8-K dated July 14, 2006 and December 22, 2006.

Housing revenues decreased in the three months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the same period in the prior year primarily due to decreases in units closed. For the three months ended December 31, 2006, we experienced a slight decrease in total Home Building average revenue per unit, which is net of customer discounts. For the nine months ended December 31, 2006, all regions experienced increases in average revenue per unit, except for the Mid-Atlantic and West Coast regions. Customer discounts increased to 8.3% of housing revenues for the three months ended December 31, 2006, up from 2.2% for the same period in the prior year. For the nine months ended December 31, 2006, customer discounts increased to 6.5% of housing revenues, up from 2.0% for the same period in the prior year. For the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, our closings have declined when compared to the prior year as a result of decreases in sales orders caused principally by increased cancellations and decreased customer traffic.

Revenues from land sales and other increased 50.5% to $71.2 million for the three months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the prior year. For the nine months ended December 31, 2006, revenues from land sales decreased 17.5% to $215.1 million as compared to the prior year. The timing and amount of land sales vary from period to period based on several factors, including the location, size, availability and desirability of the land we own in each market. The execution of our capital management strategies result in sales of parcels of land from time to time. In addition, our resort and second home operations sell land in the normal course of conducting their operations.

Changes in average operating neighborhoods and closings per average neighborhood are outlined in the table below.

Closings Per Average Neighborhood	36.7	(15.6%)	43.5	8.8%

(1) We define a neighborhood as an individual active selling location targeted to a specific buyer segment with greater than ten homes remaining to be sold.

The increase in average operating neighborhoods for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 is primarily the result of the opening of new neighborhoods and closing out of neighborhoods at a slower rate as compared to the same periods in the prior year. For the three months ended December 31, 2006, we opened 47 new neighborhoods and closed out of 47 neighborhoods. Since March 31, 2006, we opened 172 new neighborhoods and closed out of 135 neighborhoods.

Homebuilding operating margins (consisting of operating earnings or loss as a percentage of revenues) declined to a negative 11.3% for the three months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to 16.8% based on operating earnings for the three months ended December 31, 2005. Homebuilding operating margins declined to 1.4% for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to 15.7% for the nine months ended December 31, 2005. The decrease in homebuilding operating margins as compared to the prior year is primarily attributable to the following factors: (1) decreases in revenues, (2) impairments to land under development, (3) an increase in write-offs of land deposits and pre-acquisition costs, and (4) our share of losses from joint ventures which includes land impairments recorded by certain of such joint ventures.

We periodically reassess our land holdings, including our lot options, and evaluate potential market opportunities while taking into consideration changing market conditions and other factors. During the nine months ended December 31, 2006, and in particular the third quarter, we determined not to exercise certain lot option contracts which resulted in a write-off of certain deposits and pre-acquisition costs. These determinations were made in light of increased housing inventory, a decline in homebuyer demand, increased cancellations and deteriorating market conditions in the homebuilding industry. Write-offs of land deposits and pre-acquisition costs included in cost of sales land sales and other amounted to $138.0 million and $263.8 million for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, respectively, as compared to $5.9 million and $18.9 million for the three and nine months ended

December 31, 2005, respectively.

Also included in cost of sales land sales and other for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 is $205.4 million and $235.4 million, respectively, in impairments and other land write-offs to land under development. No significant land-related impairments were recorded in the same period of the prior year. These land impairments are primarily due to challenging market conditions and, to a lesser extent, cost overruns.

We will continue to assess our land holdings considering the challenging market conditions. Continued deterioration in demand and market conditions could result in a decision to walk away from additional lot option contracts and a reevaluation of our land holdings, which may result in additional write-offs and impairments. Please refer to Note (E), Inventories, of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional details on our land holdings.

Operating margins also decreased due to increases in selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenues. For the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, other selling, general and administrative expenses include $20.9 million of severance costs. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 due to increases in advertising, marketing and sales commissions to stimulate sales in light of current housing industry conditions as outlined above. The following tables summarize Home Building's selling, general and administrative expenses:

For the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, sales orders declined in all of the regions in which we do business, with the most pronounced declines experienced in the Southeast and Midwest regions. These declines led to a decrease in backlog in all regions. We expect that the decreases in sales orders will significantly affect our closings in the near term, and will continue to result in declines in closings in future quarters.

As previously discussed, some of the factors we believe are contributing to the decrease in sales orders and backlog are a decline in homebuyer demand due to lower consumer confidence in the consumer real estate market and a decrease in the affordability of housing in selected markets, increased inventory of new and used homes for sale, and pricing pressures resulting from the imbalance between supply and demand. These factors are evidenced by lower customer traffic and increases in cancellation rates. For the three months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, cancellation rates were 38.5% and 27.2%, respectively. Cancellation rates were 36.0% and 23.3% for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

(1) From previous quarter.

We have decreased our total land position for three consecutive quarters with the most pronounced declines in lots controlled. The decrease in our land position for the three months ended December 31, 2006 is a result of our decision to decelerate land purchases and new lot option arrangements, as well as to walk away from certain existing lots controlled under option agreements. Our total land position owned or controlled under option agreements at December 31, 2006 will provide land for approximately 99%, 97% and 83% of estimated closings for fiscal years 2007, 2008 and 2009, respectively, based on our current closing projections. Included in our total land position are approximately 7,506 and 35,063 lots controlled through joint venture arrangements as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, respectively. We have completed our due diligence on 38,282 lots that we control (including certain of such lots controlled through joint ventures). Based on current market conditions, we believe we are oversupplied in total lots and will continue to take the necessary steps to reduce our total land position.

FINANCIAL SERVICES

The Financial Services segment is primarily engaged in the residential mortgage lending business, as well as other financial services that are in large part related to the residential mortgage market. Its operations include mortgage lending and other related services for purchasers of homes sold by our Home Building operations and other homebuilders, title agency services and the sale of title insurance and other insurance products, including property and casualty.

The revenues and operating earnings of CTX Mortgage Company, LLC and its related companies are derived from the sale of mortgage loans, together with all related servicing rights, title and other various insurance coverages, interest income and other fees. Net origination fees, mortgage servicing rights, and other revenues derived from the origination of mortgage loans are deferred and recognized when the related loan is sold to a third-party purchaser. Interest revenues on residential mortgage loans receivable are recognized using the interest (actuarial) method. Other revenues, including fees for title insurance, mortgage broker and other services performed in connection with mortgage lending activities, are recognized as earned.

In the normal course of its activities, CTX Mortgage Company, LLC and its related companies carry inventories of loans pending sale to third-party investors and earn an interest margin, which we define as the difference between interest revenue on mortgage loans held for sale and interest expense on debt used to fund the mortgage loans.

Our business strategy of selling loans reduces our capital investment and related risks, provides substantial liquidity and is an efficient process given the size and liquidity of the mortgage loan secondary capital markets. CTX Mortgage Company, LLC originates mortgage loans and sells them to HSF-I and investors. HSF-I is a variable interest entity for which we are the primary beneficiary and is consolidated with our Financial Services segment. HSF-I's debt and subordinated certificates do not have recourse to us. We do not guarantee the payment of any debt or subordinated certificates of HSF-I and are not liable for credit losses relating to securitized residential mortgage loans sold to HSF-I.

For the three months ended December 31, 2006, decreases in revenues from our title and insurance operations, technology operations and gain on sale of mortgage loans were partially offset by an increase in interest income. Revenues for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 increased slightly as compared to the prior year. The combination of an increase in interest income and revenue related to the gain on the sale of our technology operations was offset by decreases in revenues from our title and insurance operations and gain on sale of mortgage loans. Loan funding costs increased during both periods as a result of higher short-term interest rates. This increase in funding costs was the primary factor contributing to the increase in cost of sales and the decrease in interest margin for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006. The decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses in the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 is primarily related to decreases in branch operating, branch support and sales management expenses and the decrease in operating margin for the three months ended December 31, 2006.

The following table provides a comparative analysis of: (1) the volume of loan sales to investors (third parties) and the gains recorded on those sales and related derivative activity, known collectively as gain on sale of mortgage loans, and (2) loans brokered to third party lenders and fees received for related broker services for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 (dollars in millions, except average loan size):

The volume and number of loans sold to investors decreased for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the same periods in the prior year. The decreases experienced in the volume and number of these loans sold for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 were offset by an increase in average income received from the sale of mortgage servicing rights for each loan; therefore, the percentage changes in gain on sale of mortgage loans are not commensurate with the changes experienced in volume and number of loans sold.

CTX Mortgage Company, LLC tracks loan applications until such time as the loan application is closed as an originated loan or cancelled. reduce the number of Retail loan officers. Refinancing activity accounted for 20% and 21% of its originations for the three months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. Refinancing activity accounted for 19% and 22% of its originations for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. For the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, CTX Mortgage Company, LLC originated 80% and 79%, respectively, of the non-cash unit closings of Home Building's customers, versus 75% for the same periods in the prior year.

The following summarizes Construction Services' results for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 (dollars in millions):

	For the Three Months Ended December 31,
	2006	Change	2005	Change
Revenues	$ 600.7	49.1%	$ 402.9	(9.6%)

New Contracts Executed	$ 1,633.1	(22.6%)	$ 2,110.3	32.1%

	As of December 31,
	2006	Change	2005	Change
Backlog of Uncompleted Contracts	$ 2,942.0	(0.3%)	$ 2,950.5	46.6%

Construction Services' revenues are impacted by the nature and size of construction projects, the stage of completion and the construction schedule as defined by project owners. Revenues for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 increased as compared to the same periods in the prior year primarily due to a substantial increase in backlog in prior periods resulting in a portfolio of larger jobs in terms of size from which revenue was realized in these periods. The increase in operating earnings for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 is primarily the result of the larger portfolio of jobs and improved job profit margins.

For the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, there has been an increase in active multi-unit residential projects, which have higher profit margins. As of December 31, 2006, we had 230 active projects which represent a 21.8% decrease over the same period in the prior year. Additionally, operating earnings for the nine months ended December 31, 2005, includes approximately $4.1 million in costs incurred in the first two quarters of the prior year for the merging of two offices.

The decrease in new contracts executed for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 was due primarily to several large contracts executed during the nine months ended December 31, 2005, which did not occur in the nine months ended December 31, 2006. Construction Services defines backlog as the uncompleted portion of all signed contracts. Construction Services' multi-unit residential backlog of $1.33 billion includes $123.2 million of vertical construction projects for our Home Building business segment.

Construction Services has also been awarded work that is pending execution of a signed contract. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, such work, which is not included in backlog, was approximately $2.64 billion and $2.04 billion, respectively. There is no assurance that this awarded work will result in future revenues.

Our home services revenues increased 15.4% to $31.5 million for the three months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the same period in the prior year. Our home services revenues increased 18.3% to $95.2 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 as compared to the same period in the prior year. This increase in revenues is the result of an expanded customer base. We had 410 thousand pest defense customers as of December 31, 2006 as compared to 330 thousand as of December 31, 2005. The decrease in our home services division's operating loss for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 is primarily due to the increase in revenues and leverage in selling, general and administrative expenses.

Corporate general and administrative expenses represent corporate employee compensation and other corporate costs such as investor communications, insurance, rent and professional services. The decrease in corporate general and administrative expenses in the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 is primarily related to compensation decreases and a decrease in professional services.

For further information on interest expense, see Note (B), Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows Supplemental Disclosures, of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

In September 2005, we sold our international homebuilding operations, which had previously been included in the Home Building segment. As a result of the sale, international homebuilding's operations are included in discontinued operations in the Statements of Consolidated Earnings.

On July 11, 2006, we completed the sale of Home Equity to an unrelated third party. Home Equity's operations have been reclassified to discontinued operations in the Statements of Consolidated Earnings, and any assets and liabilities related to these discontinued operations have been presented separately on the Consolidated Balance Sheets. All prior period information has been reclassified to be consistent with the December 31, 2006 presentation.

For additional information on our discontinued operations, see Note (O), Discontinued Operations, of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

Transactions between Centex and Financial Services have been eliminated from the Centex Corporation and Subsidiaries cash flows. We present the consolidating information shown above and believe that it is useful to investors because it enables them to compare us to homebuilders that do not have financial services operations. We also believe that* separate disclosure of the consolidating information is useful because the Financial Services subsidiaries and related companies operate in a distinctly different financial environment that generally requires significantly less equity to support their higher debt levels compared to the operations of our other subsidiaries; the Financial Services subsidiaries and related companies have structured their financing programs substantially on a stand-alone basis; and Centex has limited obligations with respect to the indebtedness of our Financial Services subsidiaries and related companies. Management uses this information in its financial and planning.*

Table of Contents

In accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 95, Statement of Cash Flows, the Statements of Consolidating Cash Flows have not been restated for discontinued operations. As a result, all international homebuilding cash flows are included with the Centex cash flows and all Home Equity cash flows are included with the Financial Services cash flows.

We generally fund our Centex operating and other short-term liquidity needs through cash provided by operations, borrowings from commercial paper and other short-term credit arrangements, and the issuance of senior debt. Centex's operating cash is derived primarily through home and land sales from our Home Building segment and general contracting fees obtained through our Construction Services segment. During the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, cash was primarily used in Centex's operating activities to finance increases in Home Building's inventories relating to the units under construction during the period, and for the acquisition of land held for development. The funds provided by Centex's financing activities were primarily from debt issued to fund the increased homebuilding activity, offset by scheduled debt maturities and share repurchases.

We generally fund our Financial Services' operating and other short-term liquidity needs through committed credit facilities, proceeds from the sale of mortgage loans to HSF-I and investors, Home Equity's securitizations and cash flows from operations. Financial Services' operating cash is derived primarily through sales of mortgage loans, interest income on mortgage loans held by Home Equity for investment and origination and servicing fees. Financial Services' cash provided by investing activities for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 was primarily the proceeds from the sale of Home Equity and Financial Services' technology operations. For the nine months ended December 31, 2005, Financial Services' cash used in investing activities was primarily to finance an increase in Home Equity's residential mortgage loans held for investment. The funds used in Financial Services' financing activities for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 were primarily from the dividends paid to Centex. For the nine months ended December 31, 2005, the funds provided by Financial Services' financing activities were primarily from new debt used to fund residential mortgage loan activity.

As of December 31, 2006, the $1.25 billion commercial paper program had $305 million outstanding which has been deducted from the available capacity under the back-up facility. There have been no direct borrowings under this revolving credit facility since its inception.*

(6) The amount of available capacity consists of $3,803.1 million of committed capacity and $150.0 million of uncommitted capacity as of December 31, 2006. Although we believe that the uncommitted capacity is currently available, there can be no assurance that the lender under this facility would elect to make advances if and when requested to do so.

Mortgage loans held for sale are primarily funded by CTX Mortgage Company, LLC's sale of mortgage loans to HSF-I. HSF-I acquires mortgage loans from CTX Mortgage Company, LLC, holds them on average approximately 60 days and then resells them into the secondary market. HSF-I obtains the funds needed to purchase eligible mortgage loans from CTX Mortgage Company, LLC by issuing (1) short-term secured liquidity notes, (2) medium-term debt and (3) subordinated certificates. As of December 31, 2006, HSF-I had outstanding (1) short-term secured liquidity notes rated A1+ by Standard & Poor's, or S&P, and P-1 by Moody's Investors Service, or Moody's, and (2) subordinated certificates maturing in September 2009, extendable for up to five years, rated BBB by S&P and Baa2 by Moody's. The purposes of this arrangement are to allow CTX Mortgage Company, LLC to reduce funding costs associated with its originations, to improve its liquidity and to eliminate credit risks associated with mortgage warehousing. HSF-I is consolidated pursuant to the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board, or FASB, Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, as revised, or FIN 46; accordingly, the debt, interest income and interest expense of HSF-I are reflected in the financial statements of Financial Services.

Under debt covenants contained in our multi-bank revolving credit facility, we are required to maintain certain leverage and interest coverage ratios and a minimum tangible net worth. At December 31, 2006, we were in compliance with all these covenants.

As of December 31, 2006, our short-term debt was $2.25 billion, of which $1.94 billion was applicable to Financial Services. Certain of Centex's short-term borrowings vary on a seasonal basis and are generally financed at prevailing market interest rates under our commercial paper program.

Our outstanding debt (in thousands), excluding discontinued operations, as of December 31, 2006 was as follows (due dates are presented in fiscal years):

As of March 31, 2006, other indebtedness included $161.2 million of debt for which we determined we were the primary beneficiary and which was consolidated pursuant to FIN 46. Subsequent to March 31, 2006, these variable interest entities were restructured such that we are no longer the primary beneficiary. As a result, the variable interest entities were not consolidated as of December 31, 2006.

CERTAIN OFF-BALANCE SHEET OBLIGATIONS

The following is a summary of certain off-balance sheet arrangements and other obligations and their possible effects on our liquidity and capital resources.

Joint Ventures

We conduct a portion of our land acquisition, development and other activities through our participation in joint ventures in which we hold less than a majority interest. These land-related activities typically require substantial capital, and partnering with other developers and, to a lesser extent, financial partners, allows Home Building to share the risks and rewards of ownership and to provide broader strategic advantages.

We account for our investments in joint ventures under the equity method of accounting whereby our investment is increased by contributions and our share of joint venture earnings and is reduced by distributions and our share of joint venture losses. Investments in joint ventures in which our interest exceeds 50% have been consolidated.

A summary of our Home Building joint ventures is presented below (dollars in thousands):

	December 31, 2006	As of March 31, 2006
Number of Active Joint Ventures ⁽¹⁾	48	44
Investment in Joint Ventures	$ 231,001	$ 307,779

Limited Maintenance Guarantee ^{(3) (5)}	$ 189,621	$ 228,603
Repayment Guarantee ^{(4) (5)}	12,015	8,136
Total Limited Recourse Debt	$ 201,636	$ 236,739

(1) The number of active joint ventures includes unconsolidated Home Building joint ventures for which we have an investment balance as of the end of the period and/or current fiscal year activity. We are the managing member of 28 and 24 of the active joint ventures as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, respectively.

(2) As of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, 25 and 23, respectively, of the active joint ventures have outstanding debt.

(3) We have guaranteed that certain of the joint ventures will maintain a specified loan to value ratio. For certain joint ventures, we have contributed additional capital in order to maintain loan to value requirements.

(4) We have guaranteed repayment of a portion of certain joint venture debt limited to our ownership percentage of the joint venture or a percentage thereof.

- (5) These amounts represent our maximum exposure related to the joint ventures debt at each respective date.

Debt agreements for joint ventures vary by lender in terms of structure and level of recourse. For certain of the joint ventures, we are also liable, on a contingent basis, through other guarantees, letters of credit or other arrangements with respect to a portion of the construction debt. Certain joint venture agreements require us to guarantee the completion of a project or phase if the joint venture does not perform the required development. To the extent development costs exceed amounts available under the joint venture's credit facility, we would be liable for incremental costs to complete development. Additionally, we have agreed to indemnify the construction lender for certain environmental liabilities in the case of most joint ventures, and most guarantee arrangements provide that we are liable for our proportionate share of the outstanding debt if the joint venture files for voluntary bankruptcy. To date, we have not been requested to perform the other contingent arrangements discussed in this paragraph.

We also have investments in joint ventures related to our Construction Services and Other segments totaling $2,987 and $2,605 as of December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006, respectively.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Some of our critical accounting policies require the use of judgment in their application or require estimates of inherently uncertain matters. Our accounting policies are in compliance with generally accepted accounting principles; however, a change in the facts and circumstances of the underlying transactions could significantly change the application of the accounting policies and the resulting financial statement impact. Listed below are those policies that we believe are critical and require the use of complex judgment in their application. Our critical accounting estimates have been discussed with the members of the Audit Committee.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

Housing projects, land held for development and sale (including direct construction costs, capitalized interest and real estate taxes) and property, plant and equipment are assessed for recoverability in accordance with the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, or SFAS No. 144. SFAS No. 144 requires that long-lived assets be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets is measured by comparing the carrying amount of an asset to future undiscounted net cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. These evaluations for impairment are significantly impacted by estimates of revenues, costs and expenses and other factors. If long-lived assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets. Fair value of housing projects, land held for development and sale and property, plant and equipment is determined primarily based on estimated cash flows discounted for market risks associated with the long-lived assets. We recorded $205.4 million and $235.4 million in impairments and other land write-offs to land under development in the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, respectively. No significant land-related impairments were recorded in the same period of the prior year. See additional information on land write-offs under Inventory Valuation below.

Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of purchase price over net assets of businesses acquired. See Note (F), Goodwill, of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for a summary of the changes in goodwill by segment. Goodwill is subject to at least an annual assessment for impairment (conducted as of January 1), at the reporting unit level, by applying a fair value-based test. If the carrying amount exceeds the fair value, an impairment has occurred. We continually evaluate whether events and circumstances have occurred that indicate the remaining balance of goodwill may not be recoverable. Fair value is estimated using a discounted cash flow or market valuation approach. Such evaluations for impairment are significantly impacted by estimates of future revenues, costs and expenses and other factors. If the goodwill is considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the goodwill exceeds the fair value. We had no impairment of goodwill in the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005.

Inventory Valuation

Housing projects are stated at the lower of cost (including direct construction costs, capitalized interest and real estate taxes) or fair value less cost to sell.

Home construction costs are accumulated on a specific identification basis. Under the specific identification basis, costs and expenses include all applicable land acquisition, land development and specific construction costs (including direct and indirect costs) of each home paid to third parties. Land acquisition, land development and home construction costs do not include employee related compensation and benefit costs. The specific construction and allocated land costs of each home are included in direct construction. Allocated land acquisition and development costs are estimated based on the total costs expected in a project. Direct construction also includes amounts paid through the closing date of the home for construction materials and subcontractor costs, plus an accrual for estimated costs incurred but not yet paid, based on an analysis of budgeted construction costs. Any changes to the estimated total development costs identified subsequent to the initial home closings in a project are generally allocated to the remaining homes in the project; however, such costs are charged to expense for neighborhoods where all or substantially all homes have already been closed.

Land held for development and sale primarily consists of deposits for land purchases, related acquisition costs and land that will not begin development in the next two years. Whether we elect to go forward with land purchases is dependent on a number of factors, including changes in market conditions in the area where the planned development is located. To the extent we determine that we will not purchase a parcel of land, the deposit and related acquisition costs are charged to cost of sales. During the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006, $138.0 million and $263.8 million, respectively, of land deposits and pre-acquisition costs were written off as compared to $5.9 million and $18.9 million for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2005, respectively. Included in the cost of land sales and other were write-offs of option deposits and pre-acquisition costs that were classified as land held for development.

Land Held Under Option Agreements Not Owned

In order to ensure the future availability of land for homebuilding, we enter into land option purchase agreements with unaffiliated third parties. Under the option agreements, we pay a stated deposit in consideration for the right to purchase land at a future time, usually at predetermined prices. These options generally do not contain performance requirements from us nor obligate us to purchase the land. To the extent we do not exercise our option to purchase such land, the amount of the lot option deposit, any letters of credit, as well as development costs incurred to date, represent our maximum exposure to loss, except in certain circumstances, which would not be material.

We have evaluated those entities with which we entered into land option agreements in accordance with the provisions of FIN 46. The provisions of FIN 46 require us to consolidate the financial results of a variable interest entity if we are the primary beneficiary of the variable interest entity. Variable interest entities are entities in which (1) equity investors do not have a controlling financial interest and/or (2) the entity is unable to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support from other parties. The primary beneficiary of a variable interest entity is the owner or investor that absorbs a majority of the variable interest entity's expected losses and/or receives a majority of the variable interest entity's expected residual returns.

We determine if we are the primary beneficiary of variable interest entities based upon analysis of the variability of the expected gains and losses of the variable interest entity. Expected gains and losses of the variable interest entity are highly dependent upon management's estimates of the variability and probabilities of future land prices, the probabilities of expected cash flows and entitlement risks related to the underlying land, among other factors. Based on this evaluation, if we are the primary beneficiary of those entities with which we have entered into land option agreements, the variable interest entity is consolidated. For purposes of consolidation, to the extent financial statements or other information is available, we consolidate the assets and liabilities of the variable interest entity. If financial statements for the variable interest entity are not available, we record the remaining purchase price of land in the Consolidated Balance Sheets under the caption, land held under option agreements not owned, with a corresponding increase in minority interests. See Note (E), Inventories, of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion on the results of our analysis of land option agreements.

In addition to land options recorded pursuant to FIN 46, the Company evaluates land options in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 49, Product Financing Arrangements. When our deposits and pre-acquisition development costs exceed certain thresholds, or we have determined it is likely we will exercise our option, we record the remaining purchase price of land in the Consolidated Balance Sheets under the caption, land held under option agreements not owned, with a corresponding increase to accrued liabilities.

Warranty Accruals

Home Building offers a ten-year limited warranty for most homes constructed and sold. The warranty covers defects in materials or workmanship in the first two years of the home and certain designated components or structural elements of the home in the third through tenth years. Home Building estimates the costs that may be incurred under its warranty program for which it will be responsible and records a liability at the time each home is closed. Factors that affect Home Building's warranty liability include the number of homes closed, historical and anticipated rates of warranty claims and cost per claim. Home Building periodically assesses the adequacy of its recorded warranty liability and adjusts the amounts as necessary. Although we consider the warranty accruals reflected in our consolidated balance sheet to be adequate, there can be no assurance that this accrual will prove to be sufficient over time to cover ultimate losses.

Table of ContentsLoan Origination Reserve

CTX Mortgage Company, LLC has established a liability for anticipated losses associated with loans originated based upon, among other factors, historical loss rates and current trends in loan originations. This liability includes losses associated with certain borrower payment defaults, credit quality issues, or misrepresentations and reflects management's judgment of the loss exposure at the end of the reporting period.

Although we consider the loan origination reserve reflected in our consolidated balance sheet at December 31, 2006 to be adequate, there can be no assurance that this reserve will prove to be sufficient over time to cover ultimate losses in connection with our loan originations. This reserve may prove to be inadequate due to unanticipated adverse changes in the economy or discrete events adversely affecting specific customers or industries.

Insurance Accruals

We have certain self-insured retentions and deductible limits under our workers' compensation, automobile and general liability insurance policies for which reserves are actuarially determined based on claims filed and an estimate of claims incurred but not yet reported. Projection of losses concerning these liabilities is subject to a high degree of variability due to factors such as claim settlement patterns, litigation trends and legal interpretations, among others. We periodically assess the adequacy of our insurance accruals and adjust the amounts as necessary. Although we consider the insurance accruals reflected in our consolidated balance sheet to be adequate, there can be no assurance that this accrual will prove to be sufficient over time to cover ultimate losses.

Income Taxes

We account for income taxes on the deferral method whereby deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. An accrued liability for potential audit assessments relating to various taxing jurisdictions is reflected in current taxes payable including interest and penalties, if applicable. The accrued liability is an estimate based on our assessment of the ultimate resolution of these tax positions in accordance with SFAS No. 5, Accounting for Contingencies. These estimated liabilities are periodically assessed for adequacy and may be affected by changing interpretations of laws, rulings by tax authorities, certain changes and/or developments with respect to audits, and expiration of the statute of limitations.

The Federal statute of limitations has expired for our Federal tax returns filed for tax years through March 31, 2000. Our Federal income tax returns for fiscal years 2001 through 2004 are currently being examined by the IRS.

During the three months ended December 31, 2006, we recorded an incremental provision for taxes of $56.5 million in connection with the IRS proposing adjustments to our 2001 through 2004 Federal income tax returns relating primarily to our use of certain net operating losses, among other items. We have recognized approximately $200 million of tax benefits related to these net operating losses in our previously filed tax returns.

We believe that our tax return positions are supported and will vigorously dispute these adjustments.

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In December 2004, the FASB issued Staff Position 109-1, or FSP 109-1, Application of FASB Statement No. 109, which clarified that the tax deduction on qualified production activities provided by the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 should be accounted for as a special deduction and will reduce tax expense in the periods during which the amounts are deductible on the tax return. Based on the guidance provided by FSP 109-1, this deduction is accounted for as a special deduction under SFAS 109 which reduces income tax expense. The tax benefits resulting from the new deduction are reflected in the effective income tax rate for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 and 2005.

In July 2006, the FASB finalized and issued FIN 48, entitled Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes—an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109, which defines the threshold for recognizing the benefits of tax return positions as well as guidance regarding the measurement of the resulting tax benefits. FIN 48 requires a company to recognize for financial statement purposes the impact of a tax position if that position is more likely than not to prevail (defined as a likelihood of more than fifty percent of being sustained upon audit, based on the technical merits of the tax position). FIN 48 will be effective as of the beginning of our fiscal year ending March 31, 2008, with the cumulative effect of the change in accounting principle recorded as an adjustment to retained earnings. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting FIN 48 on our financial statements.

Edgar Filing: CENTEX CORP - Form 10-Q

In September 2006, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Staff issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 108 (SAB 108) to require registrants to quantify financial statement misstatements that have been accumulating in their financial statements for years and to correct them, if material, without restating. Under the provisions of SAB 108, financial statement misstatements are to be quantified and evaluated for materiality using both balance sheet and income statement approaches. SAB 108 is effective for fiscal years ending after November 15, 2006. We are currently evaluating the impact, if any, of adopting SAB 108 on our financial statements.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157 (SFAS 157), Fair Value Measurements, which serves to define fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in generally accepted accounting principles, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS 157 will be effective as of the beginning of our fiscal year ending March 31, 2009. We are currently evaluating the impact, if any, of adopting SFAS 157 on our financial statements.

SPECIAL NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This report includes various forward-looking statements, which are not facts or guarantees of future performance and which are subject to significant risks and uncertainties.

Certain information included in this Report or in other materials we have filed or will file with the SEC, as well as information included in oral statements or other written statements made or to be made by us, contains or may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, as amended. You can identify these statements by the fact that they do not relate to matters of a strictly factual or historical nature and generally discuss or relate to forecasts, estimates or other expectations regarding future events. Generally, the words believe, expect, intend, estimate, anticipate, project, may, can, could, might, will and similar words are used in forward-looking statements, including statements related to expected operating and performing results, planned transactions, planned objectives of management, future development in the industries in which we participate and other trends, developments and uncertainties that may affect our business in the future. Such statements include information related to anticipated operating results, financial resources, changes in interest rates, changes in revenues, changes in profitability, interest expense, growth and expansion, anticipated income to be realized by our investment in unconsolidated entities, the ability to acquire land, the ability to gain approvals and to open new communities, supply and demand in the homebuilding market, the ability to sell homes and properties, the ability to deliver homes from backlog, the ability to secure materials and subcontractors, the ability to produce the liquidity and capital necessary to expand and take advantage of opportunities in the future, the completion of and effects from planned transactions and stock market valuations. From time to time, forward-looking statements also are included in our other periodic reports on Forms 10-K, 10-Q and 8-K, press releases and presentations, on our web site and in other material released to the public.

Forward-looking statements are not historical facts or guarantees of future performance but instead represent only our beliefs at the time the statements were made regarding future events, which are subject to significant risks, uncertainties, and other factors, many of which are outside of the Company's control and certain of which are listed above. Any or all of the forward-looking statements included in this Report and in any other reports or public statements made by us may turn out to be materially inaccurate. This can occur as a result of incorrect assumptions or as a consequence of known or unknown risks and uncertainties. Many of the risks and uncertainties mentioned in this Report or another report or public statement made by us, including the risk factor section of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006 (which is hereby incorporated by reference), will be important in determining whether these forward-looking statements prove to be accurate. Consequently, neither our stockholders nor any other person should place undue reliance on our forward-looking statements and should recognize that actual results may differ materially from those that may be anticipated by us.

All forward-looking statements made in this Report are made as of the date hereof, and the risk that actual results will differ materially from expectations expressed in this Report will increase with the passage of time. We undertake no obligation, and disclaim any duty, to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, changes in our expectations or otherwise. However, we may make further disclosures regarding future events, trends and uncertainties in our subsequent reports on Forms 10-K, 10-Q and 8-K. The above cautionary discussion of risks, uncertainties and possible inaccurate assumptions relevant to our business include factors we believe could cause our actual results to differ materially from expected and historical results. Other factors beyond those listed above, including factors unknown to us and factors known to us which we have not determined to be material, could also adversely affect us. This discussion is provided as permitted by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and all of our forward-looking statements are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements contained or referenced in this section.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

We are exposed to market risks related to fluctuations in interest rates on our direct debt obligations and mortgage loans receivable. We utilize derivative instruments, including interest rate swaps, in conjunction with our overall strategy to manage the outstanding debt that is subject to changes in interest rates. We utilize forward sale commitments to mitigate the risk associated with the majority of our mortgage loan portfolio. Other than the forward commitments and interest rate swaps discussed earlier, we do not utilize forward or option contracts on foreign currencies or commodities, or other types of derivative financial instruments.

There have been no material changes in our market risk since March 31, 2006. For further information regarding our market risk, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006 and Note (L), Derivatives and Hedging, of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

An evaluation has been performed under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of December 31, 2006. Based on that evaluation, our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of December 31, 2006 to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed in our reports filed or submitted under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the rules and forms of the Securities and Exchange Commission. There has been no change in our internal controls over financial reporting during the quarter ended December 31, 2006 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls over financial reporting.

PART II OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

In the normal course of our business, we and/or our subsidiaries are named as defendants in suits filed in various state and federal courts. We believe that none of the litigation matters in which we, or any of our subsidiaries, are involved would have a material adverse effect on our consolidated financial condition or operations.

For a discussion of certain litigation and similar proceedings in which we are involved, please refer to Note (H), Commitments and Contingencies, of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements, which is incorporated by reference herein.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Set forth below is a discussion of the material changes in our risk factors as previously disclosed in Item 1A of Part I of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006 (2006 Form 10-K).

The information presented below updates, and should be read in conjunction with, the risk factors and other information disclosed in our 2006 Form 10-K.

As previously disclosed in a risk factor contained in our 2006 Form 10-K, and as updated in our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the periods ended June 30, 2006 (June 30 Form 10-Q) and September 30, 2006 (September 30 Form 10-Q), in recent periods we reported declines in the volume of homes sold, which reflect continued deteriorating market conditions in the homebuilding industry and such deterioration may continue in the future. These trends became more pronounced during the quarter ended December 31, 2006, and we experienced a significant decline in sales orders in all of the principal areas in which we operate. We attribute these developments to, among other things, a decline in homebuyer demand due to lower consumer confidence in the consumer real estate market and a decrease in the affordability of housing in selected markets, increased inventory of new and used homes for sale, and pricing pressures resulting from the imbalance between supply and demand. These developments have had and may continue to have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. During the quarter ended December 31, 2006, we also decided not to pursue development and construction in certain areas where we held option deposits, which resulted in significant write-offs of land deposits and pre-acquisition costs. These write-offs adversely affected our operating earnings and operating margins during the quarter ended December 31, 2006. In addition, during the three months ended December 31, 2006, we recorded impairments to land under development primarily due to challenging market conditions and, to a lesser extent, cost overruns. If market conditions do not improve in future periods, we may decide not to pursue development and construction in additional areas, and the value of existing land holdings may continue to decline, which would lead to further write-offs of option deposits and pre-acquisition costs and land impairments. See 2006 Form 10-K, Item 1A, Home Building Deterioration in economic conditions generally or in the market regions where we operate could decrease demand and pricing for new homes and adversely affect our results of operations and June 30 Form 10-Q, Item 1A.

The following new risk factor is added to Item 1A of the 2006 Form 10-K, under Factors Affecting Multiple Business Segments:

Our income tax provision and other tax reserves may be insufficient if any taxing authorities are successful in asserting tax positions that are contrary to our positions.

Significant judgment is required to determine our provision for income taxes and for our reserves for federal, state, local and other taxes. In the ordinary course of our business, there may be matters for which the ultimate tax outcome is uncertain. Although we believe our approach to determining the appropriate tax treatment is reasonable, no assurance can be given that the final tax authority review will not be materially different than that which is reflected in our income tax provision and other tax reserves. Such differences could have a material adverse effect on our income tax provision or benefits, or other tax reserves, in the period in which such determination is made and, consequently, on our net income for such period.

From time to time, we are audited by various federal, state and local authorities regarding tax matters. We fully cooperate with all audits. Our audits are in various stages of completion; however, no outcome for a particular audit can be determined with certainty prior to the conclusion of the audit, appeal and, in some cases, litigation process. As each audit is concluded, adjustments, if any, are appropriately recorded in our financial statements in the period determined. To provide for potential tax exposures, we maintain reserves for tax contingencies based on reasonable estimates of our potential exposure with respect to the tax liabilities that may result from such audits.

Table of Contents

However, if the reserves are insufficient upon completion of any audit process, there could be an adverse impact on our financial position and results of operations.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of ProceedsShare Repurchases

We regularly repurchase shares of our common stock pursuant to publicly announced share repurchase programs. The following table details our common stock repurchases for the three months ended December 31, 2006:

Period	Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities
	Total Number of Shares Purchased	Average Price Paid Per Share	Total Number of Shares Purchased as Part of Publicly Announced Plans	Maximum Number of Shares that May Yet Be Purchased Under the Plans
October 1-31		$		9,400,000
November 1-30	300	$ 49.70	300	9,399,700
December 1-31	5,569	$ 56.27		9,399,700
Total ⁽¹⁾⁽²⁾	5,869	$ 55.93	300

(1) Of the 5,869 shares repurchased for the quarter ended December 31, 2006, 5,569 shares represent the delivery to the Company by employees or directors of previously issued shares to satisfy the exercise price of options and/or withholding taxes that arise on the exercise of options or the vesting of restricted stock. These transactions are authorized under the terms of the equity plans under which the options or other equity were awarded; however, these transactions are not considered repurchases pursuant to the Company's share repurchase program.

- (2) Except as provided in Note (1), all share repurchases were effected in accordance with the safe harbor provisions of Rule 10b-18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

On May 11, 2006, the Company's Board of Directors authorized the repurchase of an additional 12 million shares. The 300 shares purchased during the three months ended December 31, 2006, as part of publicly announced plans, represent shares of common stock repurchased pursuant to the May 2006 Board of Directors' authorization. Purchases are made in the open market or in block purchases, and such transactions may be effected from time to time or pursuant to share repurchase plans under SEC Rule 10b5-1. The share repurchase authorization has no stated expiration date, and the Board of Directors has authorized all shares repurchased.
