Note on Adjusted Results of Operations: Net loss and net loss per share on an adjusted basis are computed by excluding amortization and the impairment of goodwill, non-cash stock compensation charges related to the issuance of certain stock options, restructuring and impairment charges and preferred stock dividends. The goodwill is related to the Company's December 1999 acquisition of Inlogic Software Inc. and an impairment of goodwill was recorded in the third quarter of $23.4 million. The restructuring and impairment charges are related to the January 5 and April 10, 2001 restructuring actions. The preferred stock dividends relate to the beneficial conversion feature and warrant valuation recorded in connection with the Series F preferred stock offering. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2001 these adjustments are approximately $29.5 million and $77.5 million, respectively. See Information with Respect to Forward-Looking Statements below.

INFORMATION WITH RESPECT TO FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain matters discussed in this report may be considered forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Those statements include statements regarding the intent, belief or current expectations of the Company and members of its management as well as the assumptions on which such statements are based. Prospective investors and stockholders are cautioned that any such forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve risks and uncertainties, and that actual results may differ materially from those contemplated by such forward-looking statements. Important factors currently known to management that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in forward-looking statements include variance of quarterly operating results; not yet achieving profitability; liquidity and capital resources; competition; need to expand sales and distribution capabilities; lengthy sales cycles and timing of contract awards; general economic conditions, including the economic conditions affecting the Company's existing and prospective customers; ability to attract and retain qualified employees; the Company's continued use of strategic relationships to implement and sell our products; managing growth; planned international operations; meeting customer expectations; general market conditions, and quality of software delivered. These and additional important factors to be considered are set forth in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2000, as amended, and in the Company's Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarters ended March 31, 2001 and June 30, 2001, each as amended. The Company undertakes no obligation to update or revise forward-looking statements to reflect changed assumptions, the occurrence of unanticipated events or changes to future operating results.
