PART III NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Form 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

As disclosed in a press release issued by Oriental Financial Group Inc. (the "Group") on March 15, 2006, the Group was unable to file its report on Form 10-K for the six-month transition period ended December 31, 2005, which was due March 16, 2006.

The reason for the delay is that the Group is reevaluating the accounting treatment given in previously reported financial statements to the following matters: (i) certain mortgage loan purchases recorded in the first and third quarters of the fiscal year ended June 30, 2005, and (ii) certain employee stock option awards.

The mortgage-related transactions are reflected in the Group's previously issued financial statements as purchases of residential mortgage loans secured by first mortgages. If the Group concludes that such transactions do not qualify as purchases for accounting purposes, said transactions, with an outstanding loan principal balance of approximately $85 million, will be accounted for as commercial loans secured by first mortgages. The Group anticipates that any revised classification of these mortgage-related transactions will not result in the need for additional reserves or the need to adjust stockholders' equity, net earnings or earnings per share for any period. Management also expects that any revised classification would not have a significant impact on its compliance with the regulatory capital requirements and that, if required, it would obtain a waiver from the Office of the Commissioner of Financial Institutions of Puerto Rico with respect to the statutory limit for individual borrowers.

The review of the employee stock option awards pertains to the accounting treatment of certain non-traditional antidilution provisions in the employment contracts of various officers that may result in some of these awards to be treated as variable awards as opposed to fixed awards. This may require an adjustment to the stockholders' equity as of September 30, 2005, June 30, 2005 and the results of operations for the quarter and year then ended, respectively, and other previously reported periods. It is expected, however, that the net effect of such adjustments at September 30, 2005, would reverse in the subsequent quarter and therefore would not impact total stockholders' equity at December 31, 2005.
