Dear Distributor:

As you may have heard by now, Air Products has made an offer to acquire Airgas in an all-cash transaction. Since this news has just become public, I wanted you to hear directly from us about why we are doing this and what this means for you.

This is an extremely compelling transaction with strategic and industrial logic that would bring together two highly complementary organizations. Air Products is a global leader in liquid bulk and tonnage gases. We also have significant packaged gas operations internationally, but do not have a packaged gas business in the U.S. Airgas is the market leader in U.S. packaged gases with unsurpassed distribution capabilities. Together, we would be the largest industrial gas company in North America and one of the largest globally, with world-class industrial gas application skills.

This transaction follows the same strategy we were pursuing in other regions: to offer an integrated portfolio of products and services to become the best alternative for our customers and partners around the world. This strategy recognizes the importance of our relationship with our distributors and we will continue to seek ways to strengthen this relationship with even more robust, full-service product offerings. This transaction will not affect our commitment to serve you and you should see no change in the way we manage our relationship with you and your team.

We are not announcing a completed transaction today, and it is important to note that this is only the first step in what may prove to be an extended process. However, you can be confident that this development will not affect our current business relationship. We remain 100% committed to meeting your needs and providing you with the highest levels of service. Over the longer term, we believe we will have even more and better opportunities to work together.

For more information on this transaction, you can call me or Mike Reinhardt (610-481-4830) at any time if you have questions. Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,
